ALMET JENKS NAMED HEAD OF SANDHILLS RACING ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting of the executive committee of the Sandhills Steeplechase and Racing Association held yesterday morning, Almet Jenks of Southern Pines was elected president for the ensuing year, succeeding James Boyd. Mr. Boyd asked to be relieved of the presidency after serving for two years.

Mr. Jenks was the first president of the association, serving at the time of the first race meeting in 1935. He was succeeded by Verner Z. Reed Jr. of Pinehurst, who served until two years ago when Mr. Boyd was elected.

George Watts Hill of Durham and Knollwood and Mr. Boyd were elected vice-presidents, and Col. George P. Hawes of Pinehurst and Nelson C. Hyde of Southern Pines were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively. Added to the executive committee, which comprises the officers of the association, were Heman Gifford of Pinehurst, Lydig Hoyt of New York, and Nat S. Hurd of Pinehurst.

Richard Wallach Jr. of Warrenton, Va., was unanimously re-elected racing secretary, and given a rising vote of appreciation for his successful management of the race meeting here on March 16.

Improvements to the course and preparations for the seventh annual steeplechases next March were discussed informally.

Outlook Ads Prove 100 P. C. Effective

The Outlook feels that it is time it pointed with justifiable pride to its 100 percent record for the season in lost and found advertising. Latest incident occurred Wednesday night when a Southern Pines visitor attended the theatre in Pinehurst and some time during the evening lost a watch near the theatre building.

The owner of the watch immediately inserted a lost ad in the Outlook, which appeared Friday morning. Less than three hours after the ad appeared the watch was brought to the Outlook office by the young man who had found it.

So far this season every lost article which has been advertised for in the Outlook has been recovered, and while we're not wishing our readers any bad luck, remember our record if you should happen to lose anything and we'll change your bad luck into good.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

A case for a Solomon to decide will come up before the executive committee of the United States Golf Association at its next meeting when it will rule on a request from Oscar Guilfoil, who wishes to know if his talented and beautiful daughter Virginia, will be permitted to play in the amateur championship if she accepts a position as a physical education instructress, with the understanding that among her duties she may be required to give instruction in golf.

Miss Guilfoil is visiting in Pinehurst, having come here Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Guilfoil Jr., to witness the North and South Women's championship. Miss Guilfoil not having played any golf for the past several months did not enter the championship this year. She was runner-up in 1937.

Mr. Guilfoil, father of the star golfer, has exchanged letters with Edward L. Cheyney, chairman of the amateur status and conduct committee for the U. S. G. A. and inquired if Miss Virginia's amateur standing will be denied if she accepts a position in which giving instruction in golf is included in her duties. Mr. Cheyney has written Mr. Guilfoil that it is his opinion that by accepting such a position, Miss Guilfoil will professionalize herself.

Mr. Cheyney's opinion is not final, as he has advised Mr. Guilfoil he will present the matter at the next meeting of the executive committee of the U. S. G. A. for final judgment.

Golf is included in most physical education programs, although it plays but a very small part in the task of this sort, which really has to do with the health and proper exercise for students according to their needs.

Miss Guilfoil is prepared to manage the executive duties of a director in physical education as well as to instruct in swimming, archery, gymnastics, tennis, volley ball, basketball, track, soft ball, golf and other sports.

The young lady is eager to retain her amateur status in golf, and at the same time she desires to obtain a position for which she has spent four years in Syracuse University in preparation.

Meantime Mr. Guilfoil is obtaining opinions of directors of physical education, and he has a letter from Lewis P. Andreas, director of the department of physical education at Syracuse University, which presents an interesting view of the case.

QUIZ BY R. S. TUFTS FEATURES APRIL NUMBER OF GOLF

Richard S. Tufts supplied the Golf Quiz in the April issue of Golf, which went on sale today at the news depots of Pinehurst, Southern Pines, Pine Needles and Mid Pines.

Fanshawe Lindsley, publisher of Golf, and Mrs. Lindsley, arrived in Pinehurst last night and will be spectators today of the final between Mrs. Page and Miss Kirby. Mr. Lindsley will take photographs of golfers and Pinehurst courses for use later in his nationally distributed publication.

It so happens that Arch Murray, golf editor of The New York Post, who wrote the leading article in the April issue of Golf, entitled The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down, is also a Pinehurst visitor at this time.

The April issue of Golf is filled with entertaining and instructive articles by well known writers, and contains numerous photographs and cartoons of interest to all golfers.

Among the questions asked by Mr. Tufts in the Golf Quiz are these:

Where are the following: The redan; East Lake course; The Queen's course; Cathedral Hole; The Eden.

What former intercollegiate champions have subsequently won the U. S. G. A. amateur championship?

What are the following: Baffy; Tin Whistles; Fog (per the rules of golf); Old Guard; A Stolon?

Pinehurst golfers could certainly answer a few of these. Mr. Tufts has the thanks of the publicity staff for this good work.

MANGRUM, GULDAHL, METZ TIED WITH 64 IN ASHEVILLE GOLF

ASHEVILLE, March 29.—(P)—The par 70 shooters were strictly out of the running today as the country's touring golf pros took the Asheville Country Club course apart and neglected to put it together again. What they did put together, however, were some of the lowest scores of the winter tour. When Dick Metz came in with a six under par 64 for a new competitive course record, it looked pretty good, but before the afternoon was over, both score and record had been equaled by Ralph Guldahl and Lloyd Mangrum.

Leading scorers:

Metz	30-34-64
Mangrum	32-32-64
Guldahl	32-32-64
Picard	33-32-65
Walsh	34-31-65
Hogan	33-34-67
Nelson	35-32-67
McSpaden	34-34-68
Dodson	34-34-68
Keiser	36-32-68
Walper	33-36-69
Warga	34-35-69

Mention of this was made in the New York Sun's feature, 25 Years Ago Today, on March 21st, the anniversary of Mrs. Barlow's victory.

Mrs. Barlow followed her 1915 victory with another in 1916 when she won the North and South that year. She has remained prominent in Pinehurst golfing circles and is an honorary member of the Silver Foils.

MRS. PAGE TO FACE DOROTHY KIRBY IN NORTH-SOUTH FINAL

Defending Champion Defeats Miss Verry 5 and 4 With Scorching Round; Atlanta Star Downs Jean Bauer, 6 and 5.

WINNERS 36 TO TURN

By LESTER RICE

Golf Editor New York Journal-American

PINEHURST, N. C., March 29.—Playing relentlessly through a gentle spring shower, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, the defender from Chapel Hill, N. C., and Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, converged into the final round of the Women's North and South championship here today.

Mrs. Page again was in the same torrid mood which yesterday saw her establish an unofficial record of 68 for the renovated No. 1 course, and defeated Deborah Verry of Worcester, Mass., by 5 and 4.

Miss Kirby, matching Mrs. Page's pitiless pace, accounted for Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., by 3 and 2.

Mrs. Page stroked her way to the turn in 36, one above men's par and stood one up to Miss Verry's 38. The New Englander had lost the first hole when Mrs. Page pitched her approach dead to the cup for a birdie three. She drew level at the third when Mrs. Page trapped her bid for the green.

A bunkered second put Miss Verry down again at the fourth, but again she righted herself two holes later by producing a birdie deuce. Both she and Mrs. Page were in a similar position at the fifth hole.

NEUTRALITY STAND TAKEN BY RUSSIA, MOLOTOFF ASSERTS

MOSCOW, March 29.—(P)—Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff tonight declared before Soviet Russia's parliament that "our position is neutrality in the war" and "the safeguarding of our land."

Molotoff announced this policy at the end of a review of foreign affairs in which he charged that "the hopes of the British and French rulers to use the Soviet Union in war against Germany have been frustrated."

He asserted that the conflict with Finland "was a welcome opportunity for a number of imperialist states to embark on war against the Soviet Union" and mentioned the United States and Italy among "other imperialist countries" besides the allies who sent "military aid" to Finland.

Molotoff said Russia's relations with the United States "have not improved of late" but he added they "have not become worse unless we take into consideration the so-called moral embargo against the Soviet Union which, now that peace with Finland has been concluded, is devoid of any significance."

He pointed to activity in the Near East and warned that countries there might be "playing with fire."

This was taken as an obvious reference to British, French and Turkish military activity.
