AUDIENCE ENJOYS U. N. C. GLEE CLUB FORUM CONCERT

Stars may "Shine on Alabama," but they did a pretty good job in Carolina last night when they illuminated the impromptu out-door serenade given by the University of North Carolina Glee Club after its superb Forum presentation. It's hard to imagine the parking space at the Country Club as the perfect setting for romantic troubadours, however, when the Glee Club started off with "I Love You Truly," it didn't take long for the younger Pinelands romancers to gather round and join whole-heartedly in the fun.

This is putting the cart before the horse, but it's the last and lasting impression of the Glee Club before it set out on its homeward journey, singing a cheery song that invariably ended in a growl which sounded suspiciously like "Beat Duke."

The program at the Forum was practically perfect. To those who heard it, it is needless to say more; to those who were unable to attend—try not to miss it next year.

An advisory board meeting of the Forum will be held this morning at eleven at the Holly Inn.

LLOYD MANGRUM'S 64 AT AUGUSTA SETS U. S. COMPETITIVE RECORD

Startling Round Gives Him 3-Stroke Lead Over Field; Demaret Spans Second Nine in 30 for 67; Bobby Jones Has 79.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4.—(AP)—They drew lines from tees to greens today at the Augusta National golf club and Lloyd Mangrum followed them all. Hitting woods and irons as if the ball was tied to those lines he took the lead in the first round of the seventh annual Masters' tournament with a 64 that set all kinds of records.

It was eight under par for one of the most testing courses on this or any other side of the Atlantic. It broke the course record of 66 held jointly by Gene Sarazen and Byron Nelson. It set a new competitive record for championship golf in this country. It was, in the final analysis a round that completely beggared description.

The only thing comparable to Mangrum's 64 was Demaret's 30 for the back nine. Until he went into that last half the

HARNES HORSES AT TRACK RETURN TO OWNER'S STABLES

By Wayne Groves

Two stables of horses shipped away from the Pinehurst race track today, A. T. Morrison returning to his home base at Bucyrus, O., with nine trotters and pacers that he had been training here since the middle of January. The other stable to leave was that of R. Horace Johnston of Charlotte, N. C., who is returning his horses to his private track at Whitehall Farm, near Charlotte.

Members of the Morrison stable made nice progress while training here, the two best liked ones being, Brooklyn, p, 2:04 1/2 last season's champion two year old pacing gelding, that will be seen in the principal three year old paces on the Grand Circuit, the coming season. He is generally regarded as one of the most promising colts in his division. Morrison has another chancy juvenile in Scot's Emilee that worked in 2:23 1/2 while here. She is eligible to the most coveted two year old pacing events on the leading tracks.

The R. H. Johnston horses that are trained by Lee Smith, are well advanced in their work and will be raced early at the half mile track meetings through Ohio and later on the Grand Circuit.

Pair Err Frequently Over 18 Holes, Each Achieving Smart Recoveries; Ryerson Eliminates Thompson in Upset; Skip Downs McCullough.

DUNKELBERGER 3-1 VICTOR

George Dunlap Jr. is still in the North and South open championship and today in the semi-final meets Bobby Dunkelberger, the Southern champion.

In the other match Skip Alexander will play John B. Ryerson, world traveler, whose putts have resounded in the cups of more than 500 courses.

Mr. Dunlap sneaked into the semi-final in one of the most astounding finishes seen here in years, which came to an unhappy ending for Chuck Alexander (Skip's little brother) when he hit his second shot at the 20th hole too hard and it finished in a thick brush beyond the green and could not be played.

George had just struck his second on the green for a certain four and young Mr. Alexander, who evidently does not believe in miracles, did not bother to return to the fairway and take the 100,000 to one shot that he could hole out for a five and that Mr. Dunlap would oblige by three putting so that the hole might be halved.

The eighteen was a comedy of errors, with one brilliant stroke to remind the gallery that the contestants were really high toned golfers. Mr. Dunlap had lost the 17th to go one down. His four wood did not hook quite enough and found a bunker on the right of the 17th green. Chuck was well on with an iron and won with a par three.

Both hooked off the 18th tee. Mr. Dunlap's ball was close to a towering pine. He could not take a full whack at the ball. For an instant he deliberated playing it left handed, but decided to shorten his swing and try and hook the ball far enough up the fairway to make certain of a five, as Alexander was in great trouble in the sand road which runs along the practice field.

Mr. Dunlap then played a great shot. He had to start the ball for the far side of the fairway but the hook took effect and left Mr. Dunlap within reasonable range of the green.

Meantime Mr. Alexander was blasting his way out of sand and rough. He finally took
