FAMOUS PRO TENNIS STARS ENTERED IN NORTH-SOUTH MEET

Henderson Plays Rider Today in Final of Men's Singles of Amateur Series; Mrs. MacDonald Wins Title.

BUDGE, PERRY, COMING

Donald Budge, a magic name in tennis, will play in the third annual professional tennis tournament starting at the Country Club courts Tuesday. Pinehurst guests will have the opportunity of watching the foremost professionals in action from Tuesday until Saturday. A singles and doubles championship will be played.

Budge will find competent opposition in Fred Perry, Bruce Barnes, Richard Skeen, Johnny Faunce, John Nogrady, Vincent Richards and others.

Mrs. Alice F. MacDonald won the women's singles honors yesterday by virtue of a two and a half hour struggle with Miss Barbara Niels of Rye, N. Y., in the final round of the twenty-second annual North and South tennis tournament.

Mrs. MacDonald won at 3-6, 11-9, 6-3.

Charles Rider of North Carolina University, and his team mate, Archie Henderson of Chapel Hill, gained their final round brackets in the men's singles, and will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock for the title won last year by Rider. The defending champion earned his final bracket by an upset victory over Martyn Buxby of Miami, the No. 1 seeded player, as he scored at 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Both Henderson and Rider played their best tennis of the week yesterday.

GOLF FINALS TODAY

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 13.—(AP)—The finals of the 20th annual Mason and Dixon golf tournament were postponed today until tomorrow because of the cold weather.

Pinehurst vs. N. Y. A. C. Polo Game Today

Pinehurst is ready to fight in dashing demon wildcat fashion this afternoon on the No. 2 polo field. After running up ten straight victories this season and beating every team which they have met on the home calendar, the Pinehurst Polo Club's galloping foursome has a tough nut to crack in the New York Athletic Club polo team.

It should be one of the finest exhibitions of American polo. The only time Pinehurst was defeated this season was at Camden in February, when a Camden player's pony kicked the winning goal. Considering this and the fact that the N. Y. A. C. team climbed to one of the top positions on the metropolitan indoor league this winter, it should be nothing short of a dog fight this afternoon.

A record crowd is expected, the largest ever witnessing polo in Pinehurst. Aside from the Sandhill attendance, many sports fans are expected from all parts of this state and South Carolina, plus a contingent of New Yorkers who have come down to root for their home boys. Among the prominent New Yorkers is Judge James D. Moore, chairman of polo activities of the New York Athletic Club, who arrived yesterday, firm in his belief that his team will clip Pinehurst's run of wins this afternoon. Judge Moore will referee the game with Colonel George P. Hawes Jr. of Pinehurst.

The game starts at three o'clock and the public is invited. A number of reserved parking spaces right up against the edge of the playing field are still obtainable for today's game. These may be obtained by calling the Pinehurst Polo Club, Tel. 3694 or 3862 before the game. All unreserved parking spaces at the gate.

CLASSY HORSES THRILL MATINEE PATRONS BY FAST PERFORMANCES

Little Pat, world's champion pacing gelding in a race, with a record of 1:58 1/2, flashed his colors and came in for first place in the Biery Farm pacing event, feature of yesterday's matinee racing card at the Pinehurst Race Track.

The event, which was held for the benefit of the Pinehurst Free Clinic and sponsored by the Pinehurst Chamber of Commerce, was well attended, with the grandstand crowded and the track lined half-way around with autos. Little Pat's time was 2:11 1/2 and 2:12 1/2 in the second heat, a remarkable time for this stage of the training period. Little Pat was driven by Charlie Lacey.

Second in the Biery Farm pace went to Stoneridge Direct, with Finney up, third to Gilt Hanover.

One of the most exciting features of the afternoon came when Mrs. Lawrence B. Smith drove her own trotter, Pagliacci, to win the fourth event, the classified trot for amateur drivers. This was one case where a photo finish was almost an absolute necessity, so close was the race in the home stretch between Pagliacci and Harvest. Jim, S. S. Mather's fine trotter, who was driven by Uzal H. (Continued on page two)

TRAFFIC INSTRUCTIONS

Considering the extremely heavy attendance expected at this afternoon's polo game, Pinehurst Polo Club officials have asked that the following auto traffic instructions be followed:

All those with reservations on the North side are asked to come in on the road skirting the No. 1 golf course road past the race track and to form in single file. Those with tickets on the South side must come in through the Aberdeen road entrance.

Do not take the "short cut" road through the Pinehurst Racetrack grounds because this will be blocked.

Also, please do not stand in front of other persons' cars in the reserved sections, obstructing their view. All unreserved ticket holders are asked to park their cars in the second lane of parked cars on the North side and get seats in the bleachers. Two new bleacher sections have been constructed to take care of unreserved ticket holders who cannot see the action from their autos.

WEATHER

Fair to partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with rising temperature.

North Shivers--Br-r-r East Freezes--Br-r-r Sun Shines in Sandhills

Severest Spring Weather in Fifty Years Reported as Snow Storms, Gales and Floods Hit North and Freezing Temperatures Extend Into Florida, Damaging Fruit and Gardens—Merrimac River Menace to New England Mills—New York Shivers.

Automobilists arriving in Pinehurst yesterday afternoon and last night reported they had encountered heavy going from Northern points to 120 miles north of Raleigh, where they ran out of the snow which covered most of the northeastern section.

The Associated Press reported the severest April weather in half a century had gripped the east and portions of the south, bringing sub freezing temperatures, gales and flood threats.

While the eastern half of the nation shivered from wintry weather the southern Pacific section was experiencing a premature heat wave which sent readings to 100 degrees.

Storm warnings from Eastport, Maine, to Sandy Hook, preceded a wave of snow, cold, rain and sleet in the New England states. Rivers moved toward flood stage and mills in Lawrence, Mass., were in danger as the Merrimac River swelled into lower floors. Stocks were removed.

The North Atlantic states were snowbound. There was six inches of snow in Albany, and in New York, a temperature of 24.8 set a record low for April 13.

Fruit and truck gardens in the south were hit by the cold, with 27 degrees in Knoxville, and 35 in Jacksonville, Fla.

Warmer weather was reported on the way.

Claim Seven Nazi Ships

British Warships Navigate Narrow Fjord and Sink Enemy Destroyers at Narvik—a Fight for Oslo.

Great Britain threw the overwhelming might of her navy today against the Nazi captors of Norway's strategic port of Narvik, and announced that she had sent seven German destroyers to the bottom of the rocky bay.

The great battleship Warstite, leading a powerful flotilla up the narrow fjord smashed through defenses, killing a thousand German seamen. The Admiralty confidently predicted that this daring victory would clarify the British position on this section of the coast. The report did not say whether any British ships were lost.

Fleeing men, possibly German soldiers, were seen running over the hills behind Narvik. Further details are awaited, said the Admiralty. Three of the attacking British destroyers were damaged, but not seriously, and British loss of life was believed to be small.

By directing the audacious attack, Vice-Admiral William Whitworth, on the bridge of the Warstite, became the new man of the hour to Britons. To maneuver a warship the size of the 30,600-ton Warstite into the narrow Fjord leading to Narvik, called for super seamanship. The Stockholm radio said in a broadcast late today that the British were effecting landing of troops at Narvik under heavy bombardment of German planes.

STOCKHOLM, April 13.—(AP)—Germany today landed new expeditionary troops in southeast Norway and began a brisk drive northward toward Oslo in fierce fighting with Norwegian defenders. Refugees from the region said civilians had fled from the section, leaving their homes to be fought over by the contending armies. Refugees poured into Sweden.

The newly landed German troops smashed through hastily formed defense rings thrown up around Oslo to prevent the Germans from augmenting the forces which originally captured the city. Between Oslo and Hølen, twenty-five miles south, the ring was broken, and the defenders lost ten miles further south on the west side of the Oslo fortress.
