

FINE PERFORMANCES GIVEN BY TROTTERS AND PACERS IN RACES

Playdale Accomplishes Fastest Mile in Matinee Events, at Which Good Attendance of Public Recorded; Owner Has Reins.

FINISHES EXCITING

By Wayne Groves

There was a nice crowd out to witness the four harness races and mule race that comprised the afternoon card at the Pinehurst race track. Sharp contests were seen in each of the four harness events, with the fastest mile of the afternoon going to the big trotter Playdale that won both heats of the Classified Trot. Playdale is owned and was driven by B. C. Mayo of Tarboro, N. C. He had things a bit to himself in the first heat, but in the second, Miller had Cleo Hanover lapped on him coming through the stretch, with Mayo's mount winning by a head.

Martha Knight, driven by George Hunter took an early lead in the first heat of the opening event, but in the final go, Miller got to him at the three quarters and by a strenuous drive from there home managed to get the decision. Harvest Jim, driven by Herman Tyson showed nice speed in this race and but for a break at the three quarters looked to be a dangerous contender.

There were eight starters, and several left the wire at the pop of the gun, while several others did not "choose to run."

The Pinehurst Outlook entry, the favorite, did not leave the starting line. Earl Monroe's two entries, "Frostbite," and "Sit Down Strike," placed second and third.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

The Pinehurst Outlook will discontinue publication with today's issue until next November when it will start the second volume as a daily newspaper.

During the past season The Outlook has supported every worthwhile enterprise in the Sandhills. This will continue to be the policy of this newspaper.

The Outlook staff wishes to thank all for the support given them this season. Due to the sterling effort of Mrs. Lillian Harlow, advertising manager, The Outlook is finishing the season, "in the black."

The editorial and mechanical departments worked long hours and frequently with insufficient equipment. The latter fault will be remedied before the first issue next November.

If there were some errors in the paper we ask our readers to consider the job of making up four pages, and on nights when six or eight were necessary, that the first four pages had to be run off and then broken up in order to obtain sufficient type to set up the second four pages. This process kept the composing room going until four and five A. M.

Members of the editorial staff picked up stories frequently after midnight in order to print news while it was still news.

Visiting journalists commented favorably on The Outlook makeup and content.

The engraving department did not have the benefit of the latest equipment. The tub used for etching is one of the oldest models. Next season a modern etcher will eliminate many worries in this work, and improve the quality of our art.

For our advertisers we will have many new type faces which will add to the attractiveness and display value of their copy.

The Outlook this season was not given away. It was paid for by subscribers and by hotels, which distributed copies to their guests.

See you all next November.

JAPANESE ENVOY HERE

His Excellency, K. Horinouchi, Japanese ambassador to the United States, arrived at the Carolina Hotel last night with Mrs. Horinouchi for a short vacation from official diplomatic duties in Washington.

The couple will remain here for several days, before returning to Washington, with golf on their calendar of activity during their Pinehurst stay.

Since His Excellency came to Pinehurst to rest, The Outlook did not press him for his opinions on the international situation between Japan and America.

TODAY LAST CHANCE TO ENJOY BOWLING

Simultaneously with the last issue of the season of THE OUTLOOK comes the closing of the Amusement Center Bowling Alleys for this season.

"Words fail us," declares Raymond Johnson, proprietor, "when we try to express our appreciation for the support given this enterprise during the 1939 and 1940 season. We will open next season with many new ideas and an entirely new plan of operation, and trust that we may renew old acquaintance and see many new faces.

"Come to the Amusement Center today, for this is the last chance to enjoy the health giving recreation and amusement."

BRITISH RETREATING BEFORE NAZI THRUST IN NORWAY SECTOR

Allied Attempt to Block German Advance South of Dombas Met by Powerful Opposition of Combined Units.

HITLER EXCUSES INVASION

GRONG, Norway, via Sweden.—(Sunday)—(AP)—British troops attempting to block the advance of the Germans up the Gudbrandsdalen valley south of Dombas were retreating early today under heavy machine gun and light artillery fire while attacking airplanes aided the German forces.

A decisive struggle had not been reached, and there were indications that the German advance had slowed down.

North of the Gudbrandsdalen the fighting in the Trondheim sector virtually had ceased except for patrol activity. At Steinkjer, 50 miles northeast of Trondheim, no change was recorded. Indications were that German forces still hold Roros, 55 miles east of Trondheim, and only a score of miles from the Swedish border, and that there had been no organized Norwegian opposition to the occupation.

The German advance toward Storen was continuing. This is a British concentration point.

JUSTIFIES INVASION

BERLIN, April 27.—Adolph Hitler, who in a characteristic stroke of diplomacy sought to justify his Scandinavian invasion to the world with alleged secret war guilt documents attributed to Britain and Norway, today declared the right to war with the Norse kingdom, and absolved Sweden of unneutral connivance with the Allies.

Within a few hours of publication of a sweeping proclamation from Hitler, dated Wednesday, proclaiming a state of war between Germany and Norway, his foreign minister, Von Ribbentrop, was telling the diplomatic corps and the press and high army, navy and air officials, that Great Britain and France began on April 5 and 7 to spread the war to the north, and the German invasion of April 9 merely beat them to the Norwegian scene of battle.

Producing documents which he said were seized by the German army, and which he said were taken from the Oslo foreign office, Allies consular sources and captured British officers, he said it was clear that British troops were on the way to Norway even before the British announced the laying of a mine field off the Norwegian coast on April 8 to halt German ships in Norwegian territorial waters.

"STRUGGLE BUGGY" AD BRINGS QUICK RESULT

Some folks say that it does not pay to advertise. The Outlook advertised its "struggle buggy" in yesterday's issue, and had five orders on it. It was sold at the advertised price. This is our first gun in a campaign for advertising for The Outlook of 1940-41—out next November.
