Inspired by the Russian soft landing on the moon, Mrs. Lane's sixth period chemistry class has created a display for the science window depicting their conception of the moon surface and how man will be able to inhabit it. In the semi-darkness, a moon city, encased in plastic, with futuristic radar communication system, is located near moon craters and sharp peaks. The class dates this 2006.

In a lighted section are clippings, pictures, a lunar ship model, and a lunar capsule showing the accomplished facts in moon travel.

Nancy Barnes, Louise Boone, Charles Bridgers, Walter Brown, Barry Edwards, Stanley Garris, Bobby Gay, Sue Gay, Jerry Lassiter, Margaret Lassiter, and Judy Newsome took part in preparing the display.

Seniors took an unexpected journey - four bus loads of them - to Jackson, Friday, February 11. Instead of the senior tour to New York, their trip ended at the Mobile X-Ray unit in the county seat.

Wednesday morning, February 16, the entire freshman class made the trip to Jackson for weather permitting, track will begin next week, according to Coach Sutton.

NCHS track season will include five meets in addition to the conference meet to be held at NCHS. "All prospective 1966 football players must participate in either track or baseball," Coach Sutton stated.

NCHS Betas will be represented by 54 members and two sponsors at the district Beta meeting in Ahoskie, Tuesday, February 22.

3 Easy Steps to Modern Living with Flameless ELECTRIC HEAT

You'll be surprised how easily (and economically) Electric Heat can be added to your home. It really is as simple as ABC!

First and more important, be certain your home is properly insulated. This gives the dual advantage of keeping warmth inside during the cold winter months and cool air inside during those hot summer days. Insulation quickly pays for itself in lower heating bills. Later, when you add air conditioning it will also reduce your cooling expense!

Second, select the best electric heating system for your home. Many prefer baseboard units which can be added to existing homes with a minimum of fuss and bother. If you are building a new home (or doing extensive re-modeling), consider ceiling cable. These heating elements are hidden; the warmth radiates just like the sun.

For year-around comfort, consider electric furnace and central air conditioning unit. This single unit heats your home in the winter; cools it in the summer. You live in "resort" climate all year!

The third step to greater comfort with Electric Heat? Just set the thermostat to the most comfortable temperature. That's all there is to it when you heat your home the modern, flameless way. No fuel to buy or store; there are few moving parts to oil or wear out.

Your family will like the comfort of Electric Heat. Your budget will like the low costs... both for installation and operation. It's the modern way to heat. That's why we all live better, thanks to low-cost rural electric power.
