FOR RELIEF OF CUBA'S FINANCIAL STRAITS

Senate Prepares Way For Circulating $35,000,000.

HOUSE BILL IS APPROVED.

President Palma Will Be Authorized to Borrow $35,000,000 in American Gold and Issue National Thirty-Year 5 Per Cent Bonds in Six Months.

New York, Aug. 4.—The first important work of the Cuban congress is approaching a conclusion after a sitting of a little more than two months. At Saturday night's session of the senate the way was prepared for circulating $35,000,000 throughout the island by substantially approving the house bill for the circulation of this amount. The money, it is believed, will have the effect of relieving considerably the present crisis. The Cuban congress considers it advisable to aid the sugar planters' pending efforts to obtain reciprocity at the next session of the American congress. The necessity is also recognized of paying the debts contracted by the Cuban revolution and to pay the liberating army. Authority has been granted for the appointment of a commission to fix and pay the amount due the army. General Maximo Gomez probably will be chairman.

President Palma will be authorized to borrow $35,000,000 in American gold and issue national 30-year 5 per cent bonds within six months. Four million dollars will be applied to the aid of the cane growers and the agricultural and cattle industry generally. The money will be loaned at the rate of 50 cents for every 25.00 pounds of sugar grown in the last crop. The money is to be repaid in February, March or April of next year, drawing 6 per cent interest. The bondholders will have the custom house receipts as guarantee for the repayment of the $4,000,000. President Palma will be authorized to increase the tariff duties on certain articles accordingly.

The rest of the $35,000,000 loan will be used for the payment of debts contracted by the New York Junta to support the revolution, amounting to about $2,000,000, also for payment of the services of the army, amounting to $22,000,000.

To bring this loan within the terms of the Platt amendment and other provisions of the Cuban constitution, the present congress, before adjourning, will provide a way to pay interest and will establish a sinking fund to redeem the principal. This probably will be done by means of a stamp tax. Any balance of the loan will be applied to agriculture at the discretion of congress.

The foregoing has been substantially approved by congress, only the details remaining for discussion, which will begin Monday in public sessions. It is believed such a loan can be negotiated and taken care of without great difficulty. It will be Cuba's only national debt. Business depression in the towns and poverty in the country are not decreasing. There have been 128 business failures in the last 12 months, against 23 the year before.

STREET CARS TELESCOPED.

Fifteen Passengers Were Injured, Sev. Others Seriously.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 4.—In a street car collision here two cars were telescoped and several persons seriously injured. A switch to a siding upon which stood three empty cars was left open and the car from Elgin to Dundee crashed into the standing cars, two being telescoped. The passengers were injured. The most seriously hurt are:

Frank Warner, motorman, leg broken, badly cut and injured internally; may die.

Frank Minard, carpenter, both legs broken; injured internally.

Mrs. D. C. Hunter and two children.

Mrs. M. Eberlein and daughter, badly cut and bruised.

Blind Post Pronounces Eulogy.

New York, Aug. 4.—With no minor present and surrounded by old friends of his family, Richard Henry Stoddard, the venerable blind poet, stood beside the grave of his wife in Sag Harbor and pronounced the eulogy upon her life. Several times the poet broke down and wept. So feeble and so crippled by rheumatism that he could not stand alone, he was supported by two attendants at the head of the grave, while, with bowed head and trembling voice, he paid tribute to his life companion.

Pose Pursuing Murderer.

Cattletown, Ky., Aug. 4.—The sheriff's posse is today pursuing Sylvester Coffey, Jr., who killed John White yesterday at Oakland church during services. Members of the congregation pursued Coffey to the woods at the time, but he is still at large. Coffey and White had previously quarrelled.

Average Condition of Cotton.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The average condition of cotton as shown by the monthly cotton report issued by the agricultural department is $1.9.

IMPACTED EAR WAX.

Where It Comes From and How It Should Be Treated.

The normal secretion of the orifice of the ear is the product of glands situated in the outer half of the canal only. This secretion—the cerumen, or ear wax—is slowly poured from the gland ducts as a thin, yellowish liquid. As it quickly loses a large amount of its watery elements by evaporation and becomes admixed with dust it forms a thin layer, waxlike in color and consistency, which normally covers only the outer portion of the canal, that in which the glands are located.

This layer of material probably has its chief function, in common with the few small hairs in the same location, in protecting the vibratory membrane—the drum—from the contact of dust. It is interesting to observe that the exit of this layer of wax is accomplished by nature chiefly with the aid of the motion communicated to the ear canal by the movement of the jaw in chewing and talking, a motion readily felt by touching the orifice with the finger tip during these processes. The constant increase of the secretion is therefore provided with a corresponding loss, which takes place almost as imperceptibly as the constant loss of the superficial layer of the skin from the surface of the body.

This explanation serves to make clear why the use of ear spoons, pliers or hairpins is unnecessary. The use of such objects is not only superfluous, but it is often the cause of the very condition which those who use them would prevent.

Even too vigorous washing with a twisted cloth or sponge, for example, may result in pushing the wax back into the canal until a mass sufficient to block the entire opening is accumulated.

The first intimation of the presence of impacted wax is often the sudden occurrence of a considerable degree of deafness. This is most likely to happen on a damp day or just after a shower bath. A slight amount of moisture causes the mass to swell so that the narrow chink previously existing between the mass and the canal is temporarily restored, and the hearing power is temporarily restored, thus giving an increase in the size of the mass.

Firm, gentle syringing with warm water from a piston car syringe is usually regarded as the safest and best method of removing the mass, the handling of which had better be entrusted to a physician or trained nurse, if possible.—Youth's Companion.

THE COOKBOOK.

In making any sauce put the flour and butter in together, and your sauce will not be lumpy.

A heavy salad is always out of place in an elaborate dinner. Mayonnaise is permissible, but French dressing is better.

If corned beef is very red, which means it is very salt, put it to cook in cold water. This draws out a portion of the salt.

When croquette mixtures are too wet to mold and shape, put in more chopped meat or fish or in a desperate case finely powdered bread crumbs.

In making custard for lemon pies it is better to partly bake the crust before adding the mixture so that it may not be absorbed by the paste.

Gingerbread is improved by adding to it, when mixing, a cupful of chopped prunes. Use the juice of the prunes instead of water and mix the dough a little stiffer.

Fried breakfast bacon is much improved if cooked in some of the bacon fat saved from the previous day. There should be just enough for the bacon to float in, and it must be hot before the rashers are added. Cook three minutes.

"Stonewall" Jackson's Baptism.

Robert E. Lee and Thomas Jonathan ("Stonewall") Jackson were once stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York, before the former went to the battle of Gettysburg. Jackson was baptized at old St. John's church at Fort Hamilton, and the records contain the following entry: "On Sunday, 29th of April, 1840, I baptized Thomas Jonathan Jackson, major in the United States army; sponsors, Colonels Taylor and Dimick, also of the army." The baptismal font used for this ceremony is still preserved.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

No Excuse.

A member of a volunteer fire brigade did not appear on the scene of the conflagration until after the fire was under control. He was severely taken to account by the chief for thus neglecting his duty.

"I could not help it," replied the freeman. "I live a long way from the fire."

"That's no excuse," snarled the chief. "You must move nearer the next fire."—London Answers.

Pay Your Debts.

"No, sir," declared Gazzan as he warmed up to his subject. "You'll never be happy so long as you are in debt. Pay your debts. Swayback; pay your debts."

"But I have no money," said Swayback.

"Then borrow it!"—Detroit Free Press.

The condition in the principal states is reported as follows:

North Carolina, 85; South Carolina, 88; Georgia, 83; Florida, 84; Alabama, 77; Mississippi, 80; Louisiana, 81; Texas, 77; Arkansas, 92; Tennessee, 82; Oklahoma, 94; Indian Territory, 95.

A discussion, "The Child Ever in Our Midst," was led by Miss Victoria Campbell.

Mrs. Mary Jewett Telford addressed the congress on "The Divine Handwriting," after which a noonday prayer-meeting was held.

The feature of the afternoon was a lecture by the noted Miss Carrie Lee Carter, on "The Subject of a Half Hour with the Brethren."

COMMODORE MONTGOMERY DIES.

Aged Confederate Naval Officer Passes Away at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Commodore Joseph E. Montgomery, the aged Confederate naval officer who nearly captured General Grant during the civil war, died here today, at the home of his son, Dr. James Montgomery.

Commodore Montgomery was born in Carrollton, Ky., in 1817, and from his youth until the war broke out was engaged in river traffic. At the battle of Mobile Bay he played a conspicuous part. He also was at the battle of Fort Pillow and New Orleans, and at Memphis he lost his fleet. He was an intimate friend of Jefferson Davis. He lost his eyesight 12 years ago and since that time had lived in this city.

Huntington's Street Car Strike.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 4.—No violence has been manifested here in the street railway strike. All the cars are being operated between here and Ashland, Ky., with non-union men, but they are being patronized by little Union sympathizers still line the streets and avenues and plead with all who sympathize with union labor not to patronize the cars. Their pleadings usually are successful. At present there seems to be no one to settle the strike on this side of the Ohio river. In the manufacturing districts many cars have been struck with eggs today.

A SKULL FOR "HAMLET."

The Odd Manner in Which the Elder Booth Acquired It.

The elder Booth acquired a skull for use in "Hamlet" in an odd manner, according to a story in Seen and Heard. The tragedian, somewhat in his cups, was traveling near Louisville when he took a horse from a field and rode off with it. Horse stealing at that time was a capital offense in Kentucky, and the greatest horse thief was a man named Fontaine. Booth was soon overtaken and when asked where he got the animal said:

"I captured him in a field back here."

"Indeed?" said one of the farmers. "And what might your name be?"

"My name is Fontaine," said Booth, without a smile.

"Fontaine?" ejaculated both men simultaneously. "Then you are the very man we want. Come back to town with us."

"Certainly," said Booth in the most good natured manner, and, wheeling his horse, he rode back to Louisville with his captors.

The city jail was then in charge of a Colonel Thomas, who knew Booth well. "We have brought you Fontaine, the horse thief, and claim the reward," said the farmers proudly, addressing the jailer.

"Where is he?" they were asked. Booth was produced. "Why, what does this mean, Mr. Booth?" asked Thomas.

"I haven't the slightest idea," said the great tragedian, with the utmost simplicity. "I met these two men with this horse, and they insisted upon giving it to me. I guess they stole it. I think one of them is Fontaine."

The rustics were about to be locked up when by the most singular coincidence a man rushed to the prison door on horseback and shouted out information that the real Fontaine had been taken into custody. Booth made Fontaine's acquaintance in jail, and the horse thief, who was executed later, left by will his skull to the actor.

THE COUGAR'S FIGHTING.

How a Bull Elk Won a Battle by a Bull Placens Blow.

The cougar does not leap upon its big game near drop upon it out of treecrooks, but sneaks close or lies in wait upon the level and goes from cover in a straight rush like the tiger or the hunting leopard. It endeavors to seize upon the lower throat or shoulder with its teeth and to twist the quarry's head against this "purchase" in its powerful forelimbs until the neck is broken.

Failing in its attempt, yet making good its catch hold, the cougar will—put it moderately—go in and finish in any old style. It will usually finish once tooth and claw are engaged, but sometimes it fails and even gets the worst of an encounter.

Felix Michaud, a most reliable free trapper of the old regime, once told me he had watched a lion stalking a bull elk. It was a Teton mountain cougar of the big variety. It went from cover in a headlong rush, but missed its neck stroke as the bull lunged ahead, catching him at the point of the shoulder and going under his belly. Both animals were bowled over in a mixup of hair, hoofs, claws and horns. In a brief struggle, as they rolled over together, the cougar was thrown into the air, as if hoisted by a spring trap, by a convulsive kick from the bull's hind leg. The maddened elk gained his legs and clasped his enemy off the field. An unlooked-for punch in the wind had taken the sand out of pussy.—Outing.

Scotch "Drip Stone."

Years ago a Scotch great-grandpa brought to America a piece of sand rock that some persons thought was intended for a grindstone. What caused them to think so was not because it was round, but on the upper side it was hollowed out like a saucer, and the other side had a small projection like a chocolate drop in shape and size. Soon this was discovered to be what is termed a "drip stone" and when set in a sandy place and water was poured over it with a saucer side filled with cold drops from the underside. The water is absolutely clean and pure as the result of this homely process. The idea was originally taken from the orientals, no doubt.—New York Press.

Sure to Please One.

George Selwyn, the famous English wit and man about town, took an extraordinary interest in authentic scenes, criminal executions and funerals, and in "Jesse's Memoirs" the story is told of him that when the first Lord Selwyn was dying and learned that Selwyn had called to inquire after his health he said: "The next time Mr. Selwyn calls show him up. If I am alive, I shall be delighted to see him, and if I am dead he will be glad to see me."

Too Queer to Pass.

"Yes, I still have the first dollar I ever made," said the gray haired passenger.

"The idea!" exclaimed the traveling acquaintance. "And how did you keep it so long?"

"It was very imperfect, being my first, and I'd have had trouble in passing it"—Philadelphia Press.

Didn't Count in the Bill.

Dr. Jalsp-Well, you may thank your fine constitution for pulling you through. Nothing else could have saved you.

The Convalescent—But I cannot see that you have made any reduction in your bill for my fine constitution's share in the cure.—Boston Transcript.

Congress would prepare a drama for the stage in a week or ten days, though four or five times this period was spent in writing it.

OUTBREAK IN HAITI PRACTICALLY OVER

So Cables Captain McCrea of Gunboat Machias.

QUIET PREVAILS EVERYWHERE.

Rebels Have Been Driven From Critical Positions and No Further Danger of Disturbance Is Anticipated. Machias Will Soon Leave.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Captain McCrea, of the gunboat Machias, today cabled the navy department that the outbreak in Haiti is practically over. The rebellion, which is dated Cape Haitien, Aug. 4, is as follows:

After interviewing authorities at Cape Haitien, Captain McCrea reports that the rebels have been driven from critical positions. Little enthusiasm. No further danger of serious disturbances. Captain McCrea requested permission to go to San Juan, Porto Rico for coal. This was granted him, and the Machias probably will come north unless there is another outbreak in Haiti.

QUAY HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Senator Is Overtaken by Fierce Storm in Fishing Smack.

New York, Aug. 4.—United States Senator M. S. Quay has had an exciting experience here, says a dispatch to The New York American from Atlantic City. He was out in a little fishing smack, enjoying a day's deep sea sport, when he was caught in a fierce storm and swept to sea. The senator was fishing with his old friend, Captain Sooy. They were about 10 miles out when the storm came. The sky suddenly became so dark that it was impossible to see a boat length. The sea rose to a dangerous height.

Sails were close reefed and the party prepared to ride the storm. The tide carried them out to sea and the rain poured in a torrent for over three hours. At one time it looked as if the boat would be swamped, but it rode the storm out in safety.

The fishermen were many miles from Atlantic City when the storm overtook them and were obliged to spend the night at Brigantine.

JUDGE CAMPBELL ACQUITTED.

Charged with Assault Upon Rev. C. H. Crawford in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 4.—Amid wild excitement the jury in the Campbell case brought in a verdict acquitting Judge Campbell, of Amherst county, of the charge of assault upon Rev. C. H. Crawford. The trial was long and the arguments were characterized by the bitterness of invective on the part of the counsel for the defense. One juror stuck out for more than three hours for a verdict of common assault, but finally, at 12 o'clock, the verdict of acquittal was brought in.

The adherents of Judge Campbell went wild, and after court adjourned held a mass meeting and assured him of their continued support.

TRIANGULAR RACE THE TALK.

Warm Fight for Congress in Second South Carolina District.

Aliken, S. C., Aug. 4.—As the time drew near for the primary on August 26 the all-absorbing topic in political circles is the triangular race for congress in the second district between Solleifer Thurmond, of Edgefield; Attorney General Bellingier, of Barnwell; and Colonel George W. Croft, of Aiken. It is generally conceded that there will be a second race between Bellingier and Croft with the odds in Croft's favor.

World's Cycle Record Broken.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Robt. of Munich, beat the world's 6-hour cycle record at Friedemann yesterday. He averaged 37 miles an hour. Dickontmann, of Amsterdam, and Hurst of Paris, were among those defeated. Robt. on June 22 won the race for the cycle championship of the world, of a distance of 100 kilometers (62 and 1/2 one-thousandths miles). His time was 1 hour, 28 minutes and 18 seconds. The race was contested in Berlin.

No Advice From Baldwin.

New York, Aug. 4.—William Zeigler who supplied the funds for the Arctic expedition said to the Associated Press today that the statement that he had received advice from Baldwin was untrue. He has had no dispatches from the explorer since his reported arrival at Honningsvaag, and said he was even inclined to be skeptical of the report that Baldwin had returned.

Kaiser Goes to Russia.
