MILITARY DISPLAY.

An Amusing Bit of Routine In a New York Hotel.

There is no better place to mark the increasing love of military display and maneuvers than the lobby of a large hotel. The colored help in particular are great soldiers. In one of the Broadquiet in the lobby at that hotel today, win my confidence." for the clerks and bookkeepers were "You are not used to them, that's The first year's issue of postal cards, deep in their books, and the loungers 1873, numbered 31,094,000, while in were all sitting-peacefully on the sofas when the steady tramp, tramp of In 1865 money orders to the amount | what sounded like a regiment of infantry broke the stillness.

The regiment consisted of six colored hallmen in blue and brass, with envelopes were first issued, 5,000,000 an especially resplendent mulatto in a head of the procession, says the New York correspondent of the Pittsburg Gazette. He lined his six men in front of a bench before the desk looked them over sharply to see that they were "eyes front" and hissed "Attention!" Then as he clapped his hands once the six men hinged their legs simultaneously and drooped into their seats like a row of wooden soldiers.

The mulatto wiped his brow with a highly perfumed handkerchief, glanced at the head clerk for approval and as the first man responded with a jerk to the cry of "Front!" went to the main doorway to look at the sunlight of Broadway with the air of a successful major general. The whole performance was exeruciatingly funny, but I am sure that mulatto would have committed assault and battery on any one who dared to laugh.

The Wax Insect.

Trees afford the birthplace and cradle of the wax insect, scientifically called Cossus pela. In the early spring the bark of the boughs and twigs becomes covered with brown pea shaped scales, which can be easily detached and which, when opened, reveal the flowery looking mass of minute animals, whose movements can just be detected by the naked eye. In May and June, however, the scales are found to contain a swarm of brown creatures with six legs and two antennæ each. Some of the scales also contain the white bag or cocoon of a small black beetle, which, if left undisturbed, burrows into and consumes the scales. The Chinese say that this beetle eats the little wax insects, and it appears certainly the case that where the parasite is most abundant the scales fetch a lower price in the market.-Chambers' Journal.

All In the Pamily.

They were discussing the factors which make for success in the world, when the knowing young man said: "There's nothing like force of character, old man. Now, there's Jones. Sure to make his way in the world. Has a will of his own, you know." "But Brown has something better in his favor."

"What's that?" "A will of his uncle."-Stray Stories.

Legal Points.

"So he got out an injunction against your company," we say pityingly. "Why didn't you forestall him by getting an injunction to prevent the issuance of his injunction?"

"I couldn't. You see, he was slick enough to get out an injunction against my getting out an injunction against his injunction!"-Baltimore Herald.
