BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK AND POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound airtight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. STORM DEALS DEATH IN STATE ALABAMA

Many People Reported Killed at Moundville.

TOWN IS ALMOST DESTROYED.

Tuscaloosa Doctors Are Hurried to the Scene to Render Assistance. Death List is Reported at Thirty So Far.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 22.—A special to The News from Tuscaloosa, Ala., says: Moundville, a town 16 miles south of here, was totally destroyed at 1 o'clock this morning by a cyclone. A great many people were killed or fatally hurt. A negro section laborer, who arrived here on a handcar, reports that the country is laid bare for miles around Moundville. He saw the bodies of many people lying around. Every doctor in Tuscaloosa, including the surgeons at the state insane hospital, have gone to the scene. Reports received here by telephone say that the death list so far is estimated at 30. The merchants of Tuscaloosa have offered every assistance to the destitute.

Limited Train No. 1 on the Alabama Great Southern railroad missed the storm by only a few minutes. Thomas B. Allen, a well known planter, who lives at Moundville, has arrived here and reports that A. H. Warren, of Montgomery, traveling salesman for the Alabama Grocery company, of Birmingham; Robert Powers; a small boy, name unknown; the night telegraph operator at Moundville Station, and the man in charge of the railroad tank there, were among the killed. These bodies will be brought here on the noon train.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 23.—Officials of the Alabama Great Southern railroad here have just received a message by the way of Selma from Conductor Caphart, of the Limited Train No. 1, northbound, dated at Akron, Ala., saying that when his train reached Moundville shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, he was unable to pass because of wreckage on the track. He says that the entire north end of the town of Moundville was wrecked by a tornado about 3 o'clock this morning. Moundville is a town of about 300 people on the line of Male and Tuscaloosa counties. It is 10 miles southwest of here and about 16 miles south of Tuscaloosa. Every wire to the place is down as the result of the storm, but a wrecking train with 16 men on board has gone from here to repair the damage. The wrecking train is in charge of Superintendent Griggs, of the railroad.

Struck North Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 23.—A tornado struck the town of North Birmingham at 3 o'clock this morning and demolished or damaged 26 houses, most of which were negro cabins. A number of industrial plants were also damaged, having stacks blown down. The store of Posey Bros. was destroyed. There were a number of narrow escapes, but no one was hurt.

BASE FRAZIER LOCATED.

After Years of Mystery News Comes of Former Tech Student.

Atlanta, Jan. 26.—After three years of mystery and unexplained absence Base Frazier, the former Tech student from Union Springs, Ala., has been located. Young Frazier is a corporal in the Twenty-sixth United States infantry stationed at Fort Ringold, Tex. His family has known of his whereabouts since last July and while they have made no secret of their knowledge, only a few of their friends knew the facts until a day or two ago. Young Frazier, then a student at the Tech, disappeared from Atlanta in January, 1901, just four years ago. The peculiar circumstances leading up to the disappearance caused the wide spread impression that he had been kidnaped and foully dealt with. Searching parties were organized, rewards were offered and the brothers of young Frazier came to Atlanta to assist in the prosecution of the search. It now develops that while the search was under way young Frazier was in San Francisco and later in the Philippines in the ranks of the Twenty-sixth infantry under the name of J. E. Williams. The following telegram from Union Springs, Ala., tells of Frazier's disappearance: Union Springs, Ala., Jan. 19.—Base Frazier, the young man of this city who disappeared from Atlanta in January, 1901, and was believed to have been kidnaped, is in the United States army. On Jan. 9, 1901, Frazier left Atlanta and went direct to Denver, where he enlisted in the Twenty-sixth infantry. Frazier then removed to San Francisco and embarked for the Philippines, where he served two and a half years. He was engaged in some of the hottest fighting of the campaign and acquitted himself excellently. Last July he was returned to Fort Ringold, Tex., and has since communicated with his people here. He had enlisted under the name of J. F. Williams. Until then he was unaware of the disturbance caused by his disappearance and supposed kidnaping. Learning this, he decided to re-enlist instead of coming home. This he did on the 6th instant and was immediately appointed corporal, with flattering prospects of early promotion. He is now called in his own name. On account of the good standing of his family his disappearance created excitement throughout this section, especially here, where friends were solicitous concerning him. All this while the facts of his whereabouts remained closely shrouded in mystery although he regularly communicated with his people here since last July. Today the Bullock County Press learned of the matter and was given full information. The case became known to the public although it has been guarded as a secret by those who have heard from him. It just happened not to become general talk. All his friends here are glad of young Frazier's safety, and are confident that he will make a splendid soldier.

BOYS' FATAL ACCIDENT.

Were Playing With Blasting Powder in Mississippi.

Columbus, Miss., Jan. 23.—Willie Dillard, son of T. F. Dillard; Fred and Eugene Hayslette, sons of Mr. W. G. Hayslette, and a young man named Griffin, who lives in the Mobile and Ohio depot neighborhood, with the other three boys, were playing near the city powder house Tuesday afternoon. A can of old blasting powder that had been thrown out of storage was found near the house and the four boys began scraping the can and pulverizing the lumps of powder they scraped out. They sprinkled the stuff over the dry grass and also put some in their pockets for experiments upon their arrival home. Before they left the can they struck a match to the ground and the next second the quart was ablaze. They ran to a ditch near by and jumped in some stagnant water, all their bodies being frightfully scorched. Willie Dillard and Fred Hayslette are dead. Eugene Hayslette is still alive, though suffering greatly from face and body burns. Young Griffin fared the best and will soon be well. All the boys were well known and each about 15 years old.

Peanuts Becoming Luxurious.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—Peanuts are becoming a luxury. Cotton has soared so high in the last four months that the southern peanut farmers have begun the cultivation of cotton. Connections of this city, who use peanuts extensively, report that they now find it hard to obtain enough to meet requirements, with prices advancing steadily.

RESULT OF GAS EXPLOSION.

Gas Escaped From Pipe Line and Penetrated Hotel Building—Outer Walls Were Blown Out—Great Difficulty in Rescuing Guests.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 21.—Three people were burned to death and ten badly injured in a tenement house here today. The cause was a gas explosion. The building was destroyed. The explosion occurred in the Seitz hotel building at Thirty-eighth street and Home avenue, which was wrecked. The dead: Charles Beitel, proprietor of the hotel. Mrs. Charles Beitel, wife of the proprietor. James Devlin, proprietor of the cafe. Those fatally injured: Edward Gaskill. T. H. Hobbs, oil well contractor. Those seriously injured: Thomas Twigg, Randall Biddle, Jno. Docherty, John Shott, Miss Carrie Ring, Orville Beitel, Harry Beitel, William East, Frank Gaskie, Miss Pearl Gaskill. The seriously injured were all guests of the hotel. The hotel was near the National Military home, 3 miles from the center of the city. Natural gas is said to have escaped from a pipe line and penetrated the building. The outer walls of the hotel were blown out, the second floor falling on the first with the roof on it. The guests were under the wreckage, which at once ignited. They were asleep in their rooms when the explosion occurred. Rescuers had great difficulty in taking the injured from the wreck. The gas could not be shut off and the fire which continued to gain headway. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Beitel were seen through the flames and wreckage for an hour before they could be recovered.

DELEGATES NAMED.

Florida Republicans Held State and Congressional Conventions.

St. Augustine, Fla., Jan. 21.—The Republicans held their state convention and the convention for each congressional district here. Joseph E. Lee, collector of internal revenue, presided over the state convention. This convention left the question of putting out a state ticket to the executive committee. D. N. Combs, Joseph E. Lee, Henry S. Chubb and M. S. White, were selected as delegates to the national convention. The first district convention nominated E. R. Gunby for congress and selected G. W. Allen and H. W. Chandler as delegates to the national Republican convention. In the second district J. M. Cheney was nominated for congress by acclamation, and G. W. Robinson and F. Harris were chosen to represent the district in the national convention. L. M. Ware, the lone Republican in the legislature, was nominated for congress in the third district, and W. H. Northrup and C. F. Buffum were elected as delegates to the national convention. The state and congressional delegates to the national Republican convention were divided equally between the races.

FOURTEEN GRANDCHILDREN.

General Horatio King Proud Possessor of that Many.

New York, Jan. 23.—Not long ago General Horatio King, of Brooklyn, called on President Roosevelt and in the course of the conversation proudly informed the president that he had 14 grandchildren. On Monday the 14th grandchild arrived and General King notified President Roosevelt, who replied: "My Dear General King: Three cheers for you, and especially for the mother of the young grandchild. Sincerely yours, Theodore Roosevelt."

Move Against "Death Trust."

Chicago, Jan. 23.—"With antitoxin in the control of a trust which has made the lives of children secondary to material gain, it is time for the federal government to step in and manufacture this necessity of medical practice," said Dr. R. B. Preble, president of the Chicago Medical society. Dr. Preble also said he would appoint a committee to make a complete report of the facts and start a movement toward the manufacture of antitoxin by the United States government.

Moras Attack U. S. Soldiers.

Manila, Jan. 23.—A report has been received from Mindanao to the effect that Lieutenant Campbell W. Fluke had been killed and that Lieutenant William E. Roberts and Private Floy had been badly wounded when out on a scouting expedition against unfriendly Moros. All of them belonged to the Twenty-second infantry.

DECLINES THE HONOR.

Dr. Crawford Resigns Place to Senator Ben Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 25.—Dr. T. A. Crawford, of Rock Hill, one of the first trustees of Winthrop College, who, on Thursday last, was elected a member of the board of trustees of that institution to succeed Senator B. R. Tillman, has declined the honor in the following message: "The distinguished services of Senator Tillman to Winthrop college render his continuance on the board a public necessity. I cannot accept the election in his stead, and hereby tender my resignation." This message, it is said, explains the feeling of the community toward the college. This action on the part of Dr. Crawford is regarded as more than liberal, because Dr. Crawford himself was legislated off the board about three years ago. There were many new bills in the house of Representatives. One by W. L. Maudlin, of Greenville, seeks to permit the establishment of distilleries, breweries and blending establishments in cities of 10,000 inhabitants and over. The bill provides that the blending shall be done under supervision of the federal government. The annual report of the state board of dispensary control, which was made to the governor, shows the total sales for the year to have been $2,817,998.77. Of this amount the school fund got $126,266. The net profits that have accrued to, and equally divided between, the counties and towns, amount to $512,216.35. Grand total of earnings for the year for school fund and counties and towns $298,482.35. Increase over the earnings of last year, $71,554.02.

The dead bodies were found in a cotton patch a short distance from the house by the husband, Bob Bridges, who had spent the day in Raleigh. Suspicion points to a negro named Will Adams, and a posse is looking for him. It is reported that the negroes are greatly stirred up and that if the man is caught and proved guilty there will be a lynching.

ROBBERS BLOW SAFE.

Bandits Make Things Very Lively at Titusville, Fla.

Titusville, Fla., Jan. 25.—Crackdown blew open the safe of the postoffice here early Sunday morning and took all the cash in it, amounting to nearly $400. They first went to a blacksmith shop and secured a sledge hammer, crow bar and other tools. They then broke open the doors of the safe. They secured only about $20 in silver, over-looking bills, checks and postoffice orders. Two men were arrested at New Smyrna charged with the robbery and brought here and placed in jail.

SLAYER OF YOUNG GIRL STILL AT LARGE

Small Clue to the Murderer of Sarah Schaefer.

POLICE ARE ACTIVELY AT WORK

Shocking Tragedy at Bedford, Ind., Has Stirred Officials to Extra Endeavors in Effort to Bring Girl's Slayer to Justice.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 22.—Search for the murderer of Miss Sarah Schaefer has yet brought no definite results. A few red hairs found clutched in the hands of the dead girl and believed to have been torn from the mustache of her murderer, form the only clue. One arrest has been made. A red mustached man who looked as though he had been in a struggle was arrested, but easily proved his innocence, and was released. The hairs found in the girl's hand were from a white man. A bloody fire brick found near the body, was used to kill the girl. The parents of the victim have arrived here and will return to Elkhart with her body. Three courts of inquiry are being held by Coroner Plumber, Justice Fletcher and Mayor Smith. All the suspicious characters of Bedford have been apprehended and examined as to their whereabouts on the night of the murder. Sheriff Morris, of Floyd county, has returned home with his bloodhounds. They were not able to follow the tracks of the murderer. The first witnesses before the mayor's court of inquiry described the finding of the body. Was Struggle in Alley. The heavy dark brown hair was matted in the dirt of the alley way as she had lain with her face exposed to the rain. The body was in such a position as to lead to the belief that there had been no struggle in the shed. The struggle had taken place in the alley, as she was born down to the shed by her assailant. Miss Schaefer wore a Tan O'Shaner hat. Her dress was torn open in front, though the little jacket she wore was not torn. Five gashes and bruises were found on the head. The skull was fractured in three places—once over the left eye, one at the base of the brain and one to the right of this. Her clothing was torn, and the skirt of the dress jerked loose from the belt. It was testified that Miss Schaefer left her boarding house at Mrs. Martha Johnston's on L street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets at 6:30 o'clock to go to her room at Thirtieth and M streets, two squares away. About half way she passed the mouth of the alley where she was attacked. No one heard screams until 9 o'clock when Mrs. W. D. Elliott, who lives at Eleventh and Elm streets, near where the body was found, says she heard a woman scream. She went to the door, but the scream was not repeated. The conclusion is taken from this that Miss Schaefer might have been merely rendered unconscious by the first attack and recovered later, when she was struck again with the brick and killed. Blood splashes found on the cab in the shed indicate that Miss Schaefer was struck in the shed and was in a standing position when struck.

Titusville, Fla., Jan. 25.—Crackdown blew open the safe of the postoffice here early Sunday morning and took all the cash in it, amounting to nearly $400. They first went to a blacksmith shop and secured a sledge hammer, crow bar and other tools. They then broke open the doors of the safe. They secured only about $20 in silver, over-looking bills, checks and postoffice orders. Two men were arrested at New Smyrna charged with the robbery and brought here and placed in jail.

Chinese Bandits Make Streets of Harbin Unsafe at Night.

At Harbin there are ten murders weekly, and the streets are unsafe at night. Croup. The peculiar cough which indicates croup is usually well known to mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear.
