

ORDER ISSUED FOR WAGE REDUCTIONS

UNITED STATES RAILROAD LABOR BOARD MAKES PUBLIC A DRASTIC DECISION.

EVERY LARGE ROAD INCLUDED

The Rates of Reduction for Several Classes of Employes Were Added to This Latest Order of Board.

Chicago.—The United States Railroad Labor Board has extended its wage reduction order effective July 1, to nearly every large railroad in the country. No change from the average twelve per cent reduction granted 104 carriers on June 1 was made by this decision. The board's order covered 210 roads.

The reduction order involved nearly all classes of employes on virtually every railroad known as a class one carrier not included in the original reduction order. The class one group includes every big road in the country.

All classes of employes have been named in the submission of some of the roads. The wage cut, however, applies only to those employes of a given road which were named in that road's submission.

Rates of reduction for several minor classes of employes were added to the order, which was issued as an addendum to decision 147, the original wage reduction order. Chefs and other restaurant workers, dining car employes, laundry workers and porters were named in the added sections of the decision.

Willing Workers Club.

On the afternoon of the 23rd of June the Willing Workers Club of the Mangum Community met at the home of Mrs. D. M. Ross.

On arrival an half hour or longer was spent in talking and laughing and there was a spirit of cheer on every face.

When Mrs. Covington called order then we knew we were to hear something good. She gave some good points on saving time on floors, such as oiled floors and linoleum. She said there was so many more important things for the house wife to conserve her strength for, it was very necessary to have the floors made easy to be cleaned and not have to be scoured every week as some seem to persist in doing. Then she gave us good ideas on how to make old window shades look like new ones and also more on pretty rugs. One rug begun by one in the community was put on exhibition. After a good many useful and interesting points on this line were given our hostess Mrs. Ross announced the stove was ready and water hot, so in spite of the hot afternoon, all moved into the kitchen where we made black berry jam, packed beans and carrots, and iced cakes, such a time as we did have and our hostess was everywhere you wanted her to be in giving aid in the way of boilers, pans, clothes dishes, egg-beaters etc., etc.

All too soon the time for departure rolled around and Mrs. D. N. Currie asked to have the next meeting.

Four new members were added to our list and as guests the following added to the merriment of our club:

Mrs. Isham Scarboro Mt. Gilead, N. C., Mrs. Claudius Dockery Mrs. Joe Andrews, Mrs. Tom Baldwin, Mrs. Nita Greene, Misses Jennie and Neil Mathereson, Mrs. Cal Stutts, Miss Maggie Covington, Miss Elizabeth Maynor, and for the first time in its existence we had one gentleman, he proved himself so obliging and helpful we feel like saying, "John, come to our next meeting".

Our club is progressing and let everyone take more interest and lend all the aid he can in making it one of the best in the State. We have the material—all we need is the work to do. You may know this by our name.

All will long remember the kind hospitality of Mrs. Ross in opening her home to us and I am sure every member will join me in thanking her for the good time we had while there.

LESSON FOR JULY 3

THE EARLY LIFE OF SAUL

LESSON TEXT—Acts 13:20; Deut. 6:4-9; cf. II Tim. 2:14, 15. GOLDEN TEXT—Today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.—Heb. 3:7, 8.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deut. 4:8, 10; 6:20-25; Josh. 4:20-24.

PRIMARY TOPIC—When Saul Was a Boy.—Acts 22:3; Deut. 6:4-9.

JUNIOR TOPIC—When Timothy Was a Boy.—II Tim. 3:14-16.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jewish Boy Life.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Saul's Early Training and Education.

We are now entering a six months' study of the life and teachings of one of the greatest men who ever lived.

I. Saul's Birth (Acts 21:30).

His parents belonged to the tribe of Benjamin and were "Hebrews of the Hebrews," that is, Jews who have not become contaminated in their ancestry through intermarriage with the Gentiles (Phil. 3:5).

1. Time of. It is impossible to determine the exact year of his birth, but the probability is that it was practically the same as that of Jesus. He was a "young man" when Stephen was stoned (Acts 7:58). "Young man" may mean any age from twenty to thirty. About 90 A. D. in the Roman prison he calls himself "Paul the aged" (Philemon 9). This distinction would hardly be appropriate for a man under sixty.

2. Place of (v. 33). Tarsus, the capital of the Province of Cilicia. Representative business men came here from all parts of the world. It was a self-governing city which made citizenship therein honorable. Besides, it was one of the three great educational centers of the Roman empire. God's providence ordered that the apostle to the Gentiles should be born in a city where he would encounter men of every class and nation, making him broad in his sympathy and tolerant in his dealings with others.

II. Saul's Home Training (Deut. 6:4-9; cf. II Tim. 3:14, 15).

He was brought up in a pious home (Phil. 3:5). In the passages cited above is given the responsibility of a Jew in the training of his children.

1. Central truths to be taught (vv. 4, 5). (1) Unity of God. "The Lord our God is one Lord." This was a testimony against the polytheism existing among the Gentiles of that day. He is God alone, therefore to worship another is sin. The word translated "God" is plural in form, giving room for the doctrine of the Trinity—Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The great need of the world is a recognition of the fundamental doctrine of the unity and trinity of the Godhead. There can be no established order until God is given His rightful place; neither can there be any moral health. (2) Man's supreme obligation (v. 5). God should be loved with all the heart, soul and might, because He is God alone and supreme. This being the first and great commandment, we know what is man's supreme duty.

2. How these truths are to be kept alive (vv. 6-9). The place for God's Word is in the heart. In order that it may be in the heart (1) "teach it diligently to thy children" (v. 7). The most important part of a child's education is that given by parents in the Word of God. (2) Talk of them in the home (v. 7). How blessed is that home where God's Word is the topic of conversation. (3) Talk of them when retiring for the night (v. 7). The last thing upon which the mind should rest before going to sleep should be God and His truth. (4) Talk of them when rising in the morning (v. 7). How fitting that God should speak to us the first thing when we awake! (5) Bind them upon thine hand (v. 8). This was literally done by the Jews, even to the wearing of little boxes between their eyes. (7) Write them upon the posts of the houses and on the gates (v. 9).

Doubtless Timothy's home training was similar to Saul's (II Tim. 3:14, 15). From a child Timothy was taught the Holy Scriptures (II Tim. 1:5). This was done in the home by his mother.

III. Saul's Education (Acts 22:3).

1. In college at Jerusalem. A Jewish child became a child of the law at the age of thirteen. Most likely at this age he went to Jerusalem to enter upon his course of study. Here he sat at the feet of Gamaliel, one of the most eminent teachers that ever blessed Israel. The course of study here was restricted to the Holy Scriptures.

2. A trade at Tarsus. Perhaps after finishing his college course at Jerusalem he returned to Tarsus and learned a trade. One rabbi said, "He that teacheth not his son a trade doeth the same as if he had taught him to steal." The trade he learned was tent making. This came in very good in his later life, enabling him to support himself while preaching the gospel.

A Handful With Quietness.

Better is an handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit.—Ecclesiastes 4:6.

Meet Each Other.

Who can measure the difference between the great sun and that little blade of grass? Yet the grass has all the sun it can use or hold. In waiting on God His greatness and your littleness suit and meet each other most wonderfully.—Rev. Andrew Murray.
