

REVIVAL JUNE 19th.

Storm Damages Cyclone Mack's Tent at Kannapolis, and Revival is Postponed from June 12th to June 19th.

The long-awaited for Cyclone Mack revival scheduled to start June 12th at Rockingham, has been postponed just one week, and will not start until June 19th. The postponement is due to a storm that damaged his tent at Kannapolis last week. Mr. McLendon was forced to order a new tent from Atlanta, and a week's delay results in shipping this tent.

The tent will be placed on the lot between Roberson and LeGrand streets, near the city park. The park will be cleaned and put in condition as a rest-place for the hundreds who may come to the meetings.

The business men's prayer service is held daily, at 11 o'clock each morning upstairs in the Manufacturers building, lasting 15 minutes. A union prayer service is held each Friday night at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. McLendon closed his meeting at Kannapolis last Monday night before a crowd estimated at 8,000. As a result of the Kannapolis revival there were 1,414 professions of faith and re-professions. The McLendon party will rest up for the next ten days in order to start here the 19th fresh.

In Memory of Johnsie Little.

(Contributed)

This is a bright, glad, beautiful world, fragrant with the odor of flowers, tuneful with the songs of birds, resplendent with the glories of earth and sea and sky. And yet its attractions are unnoticed by family and many friends of Johnsie as they think of the cruel and relentless hand of death, with its icy clasp, which has snatched a flower from our midst. The sky now seems to be hung with black and somber curtains. Our vision is o'ercast with gloom and sorrow. Without the presence of Johnsie the world will indeed seem empty and cheerless, and in our hearts there is a dreary, dismal aching void:

It is true God moves in mysterious ways his wonders to perform, but what a great consolation to know Johnsie is at rest. She had been in feeble health for some time but was confined to her bed only a few days before she died. Her poor, worn frame will never more be racked with the agonies of pain. Her suffering is at an end. But it will only be a little while until every one shall cross that dark river and then see little Johnsie an angel shining bright.

How much we missed her sweet voice when we gathered around her casket to sing the songs and paid the last sad rites, but thanks be to God who gives us the victor over death, Johnsie can sing with us around His throne in heaven where there will be no more parting.

We shall never hear her gentle foot-steps any more, and life will be sad without her, for there is another missing link. Johnsie was a sweet child and loved by all who knew her. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Little. She leaves three sisters, a brother and a fond father and mother to mourn her loss. May God in His wisdom help the bereaved family to in this time of deep affliction:

"Sleep, Johnsie, sleep, and take your rest...
God called you home, He thought it best; It was hard, indeed, to part with thee; But Christ's strong arm supported me."

Returning, it leaves Rockingham Hotel at 9:30, arriving Troy 11:30. In afternoon it leaves Troy at 1 a. m., arrives Rham at 3:30, leaves Rockingham at 3:30, arrives Troy 5:30—Atkins and Warner.

Side Lights on Primary.

Creek. In the primary last Saturday this township cast 1396 votes to 1029 cast in Marks Creek. The full vote in Marks Creek did not come out last Saturday—but as for that matter neither did the full vote of this old township.

1184 votes were cast in Rockingham precinct No. 2.

W. E. Harrison got a majority of 412 in Rockingham township over his two opponents for the Senate, but his opponents combined got a majority of 877 in their home township. In Steele's township Harrison received 104, to none for Muse and 40 for Sanders. At Ellerbe precinct Harrison received 160 to 72 for his two opponents and at Norman precinct he got 44 to 15 for the other two. Black Jack gave him 34 to 8 for the other two.

Shores led Baldwin in Rockingham No. 2 precinct by 88 votes, he getting 458 here, Baldwin 370, Reynolds 304 and McLaurin 52. McLaurin's next largest vote was 11 in Hamlet.

In Rockingham No. 2 precinct Walter Thomas received 617, T. L. Covington 241, C. E. D. Egerton 212, H. P. Austin 99. But in Hamlet Austin walked away, getting 957 to 33 for Thomas, 16 for Egerton and 20 for Covington. Thomas cleaned up at Roberdel No. 2.

Out of the 14 precincts in Rich mond county Brock carried 10 to 4 carried by Stack. In 9 precincts Baldwin had the largest vote of the four candidates for Sheriff, Shores had the largest in 3 and Reynolds in 2. In 11 precincts Thomas led for Clerk, with Austin leading in 3. W. E. Harrison led for Senate in 10 precincts while Muse led in 4.

J. B. Reynolds came powerfully strong in the last three days of the primary. Many think that had he gained in the past three weeks like he forged forward in the last three days that he would have been probably in the second primary. He led his three opponents in Roberdel No. 1 and Ellerbe.

Atty. Wade Sanders says the chief reason he wanted to go to the Senate was in order to change the law in mother-in-law.

8 precincts showed an increase in vote this primary over the Democratic vote in the November, 1920, while 6 show a decrease. The four precincts in Wolf Pit voted 895 last Saturday, as compared with only 435 in the election two years ago. Rockingham city voted 240 more than in the election of 1920, whereas Hamlet voted 110 less than the 1920 election. The two Steele's precincts voted 204 in November, 1920, election, as compared with 150 last Saturday. The folks didn't turn out there in such numbers. They failed to turn out at Norman, only 62 voting in the primary as compared with 88 two years ago. At Ellerbe they came out better; 256 voting this primary as against 209 in the last election. Black Jack voted 58 two years ago, and 44 now. Roberdel No. 1 voted 221 in the election and 212 in the Saturday primary. Hoffman precinct voted 77 last Saturday as against 58 in the 1920 election, and Ledbetter's precinct cast 147 in the primary compared with 56 in the election. These figures make interesting comparison.

Squire W. T. Mullis made an efficient registrar at Rockingham (city) precinct, and was splendidly assisted by Clyde Black and Frank Meacham as poll-holders. The Squire had his wife prepare a baked fowl, plenty of pies and cakes and "treated" his fellow-workers at noon.

And when we talk about the race for County Commissioners a page of stuff might be written in the way of comparison. With 14 candidates running, and a choice to be made of but 5, the voter had a hard time selecting. Two—White of Ellerbe, and Hatch of Hamlet—secured quite a bunch of votes over the necessary majority, and are the nominees. It now remains to select three more from the next six highest, these being McNeill, Caddell, Wall, Frutche, Capel and Cole.

Hatch and White each secured the most votes in three precincts, Gibson the most in 1, Frutche in 1, Meacham in 1, George McRae in 3, Caddell in 1 and he and George Terry tied in 1.

Of the old Board of Commissioners, one (B. F. Reynolds) declined to be a candidate again, but the other four were. One of these four, H. D. Hatch, was nominated Saturday, he leading with 2657 votes. The other three will be in the second primary—John A. McNeill, L. D. Frutche and John W. Capel, together with Dr. Caddell, Henry C. Wall and W. B. Cole.

The sun set at 7:26 last Saturday—and with it set the hopes of quite a number of candidates.

In times past whiskey was in evidence at primaries and elections here. But last Saturday there was no sign of any. Did the presence of the women act as a check on this kind of vote getting? It is refreshing to think so, at any rate.

Some wag remarked that it was impossible to get a five dollar bill at the banks here Saturday—that a run had been made on bills of this denomination; that a V-spot was the prevailing price. Of course he was merely joking, for of course no voter in Richmond county would be guilty of selling his or her vote!

The voting in Rockingham (city) precinct was upstairs in the courthouse. Squire Mullis with Clyde Black and Frank Meacham presided over the boxes for the men, and Mrs. R. R. Simmons and Miss Maude Moore over the boxes for women.

Brock had a majority of 362 over Stack in the county. Brock carried 10 precincts, while Stack carried 4.

Squire Mullis says he intends running Mr. Everett for Governor in 1924, and he himself run for the House in Mr. Everett's place.

The Squire developed into quite an "introducer" in the speaking appointments during the last primary.

U. D. C. At Monroe.

The seventh district meeting of the U. D. C. will be held at Monroe tomorrow (Friday) at 1:30, lasting all day. This district consists of Anson, Union, Scotland, Richmond and Stanly.

Attending from Rockingham will be: Mrs. George Entwistle, Mrs. John Brewer, and Mrs. George Steele.

Davis Buys House.

The deeds were passed this week for the sale of the Dr. Chamberlain lot of 43x150 feet on South Washington street, and the partially built house on same. T. Edgar Davis bought the property through J. R. McLendon, the price being $1,300. Mr. Davis is now advertising the house for sale and removal of same. This is the property over which there was quite a lot of litigation between the town and Dr. Chamberlain a year or so ago.

Thursday, Mrs. Steele Lowdermilk was a charming hostess at rook in honor of her house guests, Mesdames Violet Sparkes, of Fort Sill, Okla., and James Horan, of Hamlet. Ten tables were arranged in the rooms of the beautifully decorated home where summer flowers were used in profusion, for the game which was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Mauda Moore scoring highest received three hand-made handkerchiefs, the consolation going to Mrs. F. B. Reynolds, an incense burner. To the honorees, Mrs. Sparkes was presented a bottle of Cody's Extract, and to Mrs. Horan a handsome picture. The hostess served sliced bacon with tomatoes, pickle and mints and cake.

In the afternoon of the same day another coterie of friends were entertained at rook by Mrs. Lowdermilk, with the same honorees. Mrs. score was given by the hostess a Russell Ford winning the highest box of Cody's powder. Eleven tables for the game; after the usual progressions delicious refreshments of tea, sandwiches and tea, followed by ice cream and cake.

Among the many entertainments given in honor of the J. W. Leak house party were: On Wednesday morning, Mrs. W. L. Parsons entertained in their honor with a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon.

Three tables of bridge being arranged in the attractive living room of the Parsons' home, made beautiful with summer flowers.

Friday evening Mrs. W. C. Leak entertained with three tables of bridge in their honor, presenting to the honorees lovely prizes.

Thursday afternoon Mesdames R. S. and Mial Leak entertained the party with a delightful picnic supper at Ellerbe Springs hotel. The picnic idea was to have been carried out in every detail but just before the supper hour the rain poured in torrents so the supper had to be served in the dining room of the hotel. Dancing and many other modes of entertainment were enjoyed.

Friday afternoon at the Fowlkes bungalow Mesdames Morris Purvis, John Watts and Willie Fowlkes entertained most elaborately, honoring the Leak house party. Twelve tables were arranged for bridge, which was enthusiastically enjoyed. After several progressions the scores were taken, Mrs. A. M. McPhail receiving the rook prize, a box of Cody's powder. In bridge, Mrs. R. R. Simmons was the lucky winner of a box of powder also, while visitor's was cut by Mrs. Rufus Howard, a Cody vanity. Refreshments of salad and accessories and mint were served.

Saturday evening Miss Nancy Fairley entertained at bridge in honor of her house visitors, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bryant, of Charlotte, who spent the week-end. Four tables of bridge were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac London, Mr. and Mrs. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leak, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wall, Mrs. T. C. and W. C. Leak, Misses Holmes and Mary Brokenborough. To Mrs. Bryant was given an exquisite fan, to Mr. Bryant a deck of cards.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Isaac London entertained the members of her bridge club with the members of Mrs. J. W. Leak's house party as honor guests. Attached to the score cards were individual Colonial bouquets. Before the game was called the hostess served mint ice. Then an hour was spent playing hard for highest score, which was won by Mrs. J. M. Ledbetter, card table numbers with bridge score pads. To the honor guests were given souvenirs of the game. Mrs. London served delicious perfection and cheese salad, creamed chicken in toast squares, pickle, crackers, tea, followed by ice cream and cake.

Monday morning Miss Mary Entwistle entertained in honor of Miss Elsie Ezell, of Paris, Tenn., guest of Miss Elizabeth Cole, and Miss Holmes, guests of Miss Jeannet Fairley, at a very pretty bridge lunch.

After the game the hostess served luncheon in two courses. Present were Misses Elsie Ezell, Bernice Turner, of Statesville, and Edith and Caroline Holmes, all of whom received bottles of sachet powder; Jen and Elsie Fairley, Elizabeth Cole, Anna Leak Ledbetter, Octavia Scales, Ruth Harrison, Laura Page Steele and Mrs. Minor Hinson. Miss Elsie Fairley making the highest score was given a pretty vanity.

Miss Elizabeth Cole on Saturday morning was charming hostess in honor of her house guest, Miss Elsie Ezell, of Paris, Tenn., and Misses Holmes, of Asheville, visitors of the Fairleys, when she entertained the "H-13" sewing club, at her home on Washington street. Summer flowers were everywhere in evidence. After some time spent in conversation and sewing the hostess served a frozen fruit salad, sandwiches and tea. Others, besides the club members and honorees present were Misses Mira Ormond, Mary Shores, Elsie Fairley.

Tuesday evening Mr. Minor T. Hinson entertained several of his close friends at a stag dinner at his home on Randolph street. Those bidden to this affair were Messrs. William Leak, Walter Parsons, Jr., L. G. Fox, Robert Stansil, Alex Monroe, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed the dinner, friend chicken, country ham, baked apples, stuffed eggs, hot rolls, potato salad, beer, followed by peach ice cream and cake, smokes.

Tuesday evening, Mrs. Marshall French was the delightful hostess at four tables of bridge, honoring her guest, Miss Jeddie Bristow, of Fairmont. The game was enjoyed for a couple of hours, then the cards were taken up and the hostess served a delectable salad course, followed by ice cream and cake. Punch was served throughout the game. Those present were: Miss Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bynum, Mr. and Mrs. June Diggs, Mrs. Pastorfield, Rufus Howard, Misses Octavi Scales, Mary Entwistle, Anna Leak Ledbetter, Ruth Harrison, Messrs. Roy Phillips, John Scales, Tom Linton, Mr. Youngblood and Ophelia Ormond. The party were treated to specially good music which was much enjoyed.

Chautauqua Program.

One of the biggest numbers of the Redpath Chautauqua to be offered in Rockingham this season is the National Male Quartet that appears on the program Friday afternoon and evening. This quartet has established itself as one of the musical treats of the lyceum and chautauqua field and this year has two programs of unusual attractiveness and interest.

This company is headed by Charles Cox, bass and impersonator par excellence and each of his numbers is a decided hit. Mr. Cox is an entertainer of unusual ability and a comedian who knows how to entertain in a manner to please his audiences. He has surrounded himself with musicians whose voices blend in perfect harmony and has arranged a program that pleases every person in his audience and this number is rated as one of the best of the chautauqua.

Saturday night the delightful comedy-drama, "Friendly Enemies," will be offered by a cast of characters that comes from the Broadway theatres and each has established himself or herself as a favorite with New York audiences. The play itself is filled with many comical and novel situations, yet it has its heart gripping moments and pathos. It is a story based on the late war but having a message for the present and future generations that can not fail to be understood. The play has been received in the same approving manner in the Redpath tents that marked its long runs in the big theatres of the country.

For the final day, Monday, the Kubilick company will be the musical attraction. This company consists of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Kubilick, both of whom are wonderful musicians, Mr. Kubilick being a violinist and his wife a pianist and both have good voices. Mr. Kubilick will introduce his violin on which the strings of the instrument are reversed so that he can use his thumb on the strings instead of his little finger. The little finger of his left hand was injured when he was only a young man and he was forced to change the strings on his instrument in order to continue his musical career.

Dr. Henry A. Adrian, an associate of Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, will be the lecturer on the final night (Monday night). His subject being "In Wonderland With Burbank." Dr. Adrian is one of the pioneers of the chautauqua platform and his unusually clever and mirthsome manner of presenting his subject and his theme has made him a favorite throughout the circuit this season. He brings with him a number of Burbank's latest developments and following his lecture these will be on display for the audience.

The morning hour programs for the children will begin Friday morning when Stephan Schutze, one of the foremost children story-tellers will deliver in a very dramatic manner a number of the best children's stories. He is a lover of children and interested in the kind of stories they are told. This is shown in his afternoon lecture when he will speak to the grown people on the subject of story-telling for children.

Saturday morning Hughie Fitzpatrick, one of the New York Hippodrome's favorite clowns will be the children's entertainer and with his comedy, acrobatic stunts and clever stories he is said to be one of the children's favorites.

Monday morning Miss Bernice Van, story-teller and reader, will entertain the children and this little lady is said to be one of the headliners in her class. She will also entertain at the afternoon program working with the Kubilick's.

Road Gang Appreciative.

The social service work of the community each Sunday has a different committee to visit the jail, county home and chain gang and conduct religious services. In appreciation of this work, the members of the county road force have sent the following letter to Mrs. J. F. Diggs, chairman of this branch of the social service work:

"Camp Near Roberdel,
May 30, 1922.

"Dear Friends:
"I take great pleasure on behalf of the inmates of the Richmond county road camp in extending our thanks to you and the members of the committee and clergy who have contributed their time and services in the Sunday visits to our camp. We wish to thank you one and all for the interest being taken in us, and we simply want you to know that your efforts in our behalf are not in vain and that they are appreciated. We hope you will continue to visit us, and give us the comfort that your presence inspires.

"Please excuse my poor attempt to put in words our appreciation. With thanks and best wishes to you and the committee, we are,

"Very respectfully,
"The Members of Camp,
"By Fred Butler, by request."
