

DEATHS

J. E. DOWD.

Mr. Jack Emerson Dowd, aged 44, died at Cordova Thursday night of last week, and was buried at Pigгах Aug. 8th. He was afflicted with rheumatism.

"UNCLE" LEM SIMMONS.

An honorable old colored man, Lemuel Simmons, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at his home in Beaver Dam township. He was buried Tuesday at Holly Grove by his fellow Masons.

"Uncle" Lem had been bothered with his heart for some time, and realized that his going would be perhaps soon and sudden. On Saturday—the day before he died—he was at the Farmers bank to tell Mr. John W. Covington, for whom he worked, that he would not live long, and informed Mr. Covington as to his wishes respecting his property. Sunday afternoon he sent his wife to a neighbor's and on her return she found him lying on the bed, dead. He was honorable colored man whose word was his bond.

DORGIN LAMPLEY.

Mr. Dorgin Lampley died Monday at his home between Zion and Cordova, aged 75.

The funeral was held at Zion church Tuesday afternoon. A rain-storm came up shortly before time for starting from the house to the church, and the assembled friends crowded upon the porch. The unusual weigh caused it to collapse, but no one was injured, though one lady fainted.

And then just after the pall-bearers had made their exit from Zion church, the church rear steps gave way as Mrs. Lampley and two daughters were on them, but no injury resulted.

Reason Enough.

Blair: "What is the teachings of the Bible which Smithers practices and which cause his wife to sue for divorce?"

Blake: "Love Thy Neighbor." Blair: "Well—?" Blake: "She's young—and pretty."

Think Again, Dad.

Father: "I'll tell you this, young man, no one ever got rich by attending to other folks' business." Son: "Oh, I don't know. How about lawyers?"

Sick Headache

"I have used Black-Draught when needed for the past 25 years," says Mr. Emma Grimes, of Forbes, Mo. "I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, a bad taste in my mouth, . . . and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache. I don't know just who started me to taking but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and so effective, I began to use it in time and would not have sick headaches."

Theford's

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Constipation causes the system to re-absorb poisons that may cause great pain and much danger to your health. Take Theford's Black-Draught. It will stimulate the liver and help to drive out the poisons.

Sold by all dealers. Costs only one cent a dose.

INFECTION DANGERS IN SUMMER SCRATCH

VACATIONISTS URGED TO TAKE SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS IN CASE OF SLIGHT BRUISES AND TO AVOID SEPTIC POISONING.

If skin is broken, then: 1. Apply iodine; do not wash wound. 2. Apply sterile piece of gauze. 3. Wrap with sterile gauze bandage. 4. Fasten with adhesive plaster.

Summer vacationists are warned to be more careful of bruises and slight wounds, because of the seriousness of infection. The tragic death of young Calvin Coolidge, Jr., has served dramatically to show that no wound is slight, according to the Red Cross. There is always the danger of infection. When the skin is abraded or cut, do not go on with your tennis or golf—avoid further irritation. If the swelling, pain or redness continues, consult a doctor.

It is a great mistake to wrap a handkerchief around a bruise. Thousands of infections prove to doctors that so-called 'clean cloths' are never free of germ life.

Especially in summer should a bruise be watched. Vacation activities, outdoor sports, mountain and seashore pastimes bring frequent minor scratches and bruises. Vacationists should be as careful as their doctors.

If you get a slight wound or bruise, do not neglect it. Serious sickness may result and occasionally septic poisoning may cause death. There are four simple things that one should do: First. Apply half-strength tincture of iodine to the wound, or better, use glass ampoules. Never apply near the eyes, between the thighs or for wounds of the intestines. It is a mistake to wash the injury. Iodine is a destroyer of germs, and is very effective, as war surgeons proved.

Second. Apply a sterile piece of gauze, folded into a convenient pad.

Third. Wrap this dressing with a sterile gauze bandage. Fourth. Fasten the bandage with adhesive plaster. It is simple to do, but it may save need to fear septic poisoning from summer injuries, if you do this. The American Red Cross is teaching thousands of men, women, and children these simple rudiments of first aid. It means the saving of many lives this summer.—State Board of Health.

True to Form.

Sneed: "I have a ticket to the lecture tonight. It cost me $5.00.

Bill: "So—what's the subject?"

Sneed: "Fools."

Bill: "It's all right, I guess—it says on the ticket 'Admif One.'"

Information.

Spellbinder: "Home—ah, friends—how many of you know what that word really means?"

Voice from rear: "It's a sleeping place near the garage."

Cynical Crepehanger.

Auto Salesman: "The Blank car is the best car on the market. Why, sir—it takes 1,236 nuts to hold that seat together."

Prospect: "—one more, brother—one more nut—the guy who buys it."
