PIG CAFETERIA RICHMOND REALITY

Piggly-Wiggly Style.

Marion Lee Hinson has thirty-five pigs out on the farm really having meals at their own cafeteria. Cafeteria style evidently is very popular with the pigs for it nearly seems that their growth is visible. Also this pig cafeteria is Piggly-Wiggly style. They serve themselves and save feed and money by rapid growth. From the success of this type of pig feeding one does not hesitate to predict that Richmond county will soon have a chain of Piggly-Wiggly cafeterias. If one wants to see Mrs. Palmer, Marion Lee's mother smile, just ask her how the 35 customers of Piggly-Wiggly are progressing. L. L. Osteen R. H. S.

CAR OVERTURNS, NONE HURT

Dodge Steel Frame Unbroken.

The fact that the Dodge Sedan in which they were riding is of steel frame construction doubtless saved the Hicks-Stansill ladies a serious injury.

Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock the Dodge Sedan, owned by Miss Mary Hicks, but being driven by Mrs. Robt. Stansill, blew a rear tire, and in some way got beyond control.

overturning about two miles southeast of Hamlet, on Route 20. The car turned completely over on its top, then landed on its side. There were 8 in the car and no one was really hurt, other than some abrasions and scratches. The car doors were not sprung, and but two windows broken, which is remarkable for such a turnover, and going around 40 an hour. In the car, en route to White Lake for the day, were Mrs. Robt. Stansill and baby, Mrs. Harvey Terry and baby, Mrs. Minnie Hicks, Mrs. Mattie Stansill, Alice and Garrett Hicks.

ASKS FOR THEIR PRAYERS

D. L. Coppedge asks the prayers of the good people of the community for the safe recovery of his wife.

MISS BODDIE INJURED

Friends here will be glad to know that Miss Sallie Boddie was not seriously injured in the bus wreck in Durham last Sunday afternoon. She was on her way to visit her sister in Sanford, on a Durham-Sanford-Rockingham bus, containing 14 passengers. Just before getting out of Durham, the bus collided with a car in which were a bunch of negroes. One negro died a few minutes later. The bus was turned over and every window glass broken. The negro's car was jammed against a phone post and almost completely wrecked. Miss Boddie sustained a small scalp wound, and went to a hospital for the rest of the day, but was able later to return to her home.

You can afford to own a Ford and have the same pleasure as the other fellow whose paying higher prices for some other make.

And as for a second-hand car, we have them at attractive prices and terms.
