"HOT DOGS"

Better Barbecued

So Says Betty McGinnis

"Hot Dogs" are a favorite for youngsters and grown-ups alike. They have appetite appeal and are very inexpensive compared to other meat dishes.

Barbecued Frankfurters

- 1 cup thinly sliced onion
1 clove garlic minced
2 3 cup ketchup
1 to 2 teaspoons chili seasoning
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup water
6 frankfurters

Simmer all ingredients, except frankfurters in covered sauce pan or skillet for 15 minutes. Add franks; cover and cook slowly for 10 minutes. Serve on split and toasted and warmed buns.

Frankfurter-Cheese Rolls

- 1 pound frankfurters
1-8 ounce can tomato sauce
1 small onion grated
1 3 cup pickle relish
1 1/2 cup shredded cheese
12 frankfurter rolls

Cut franks into thin slices; cook in boiling water, barely to cover, for 5 minutes, drain. Mix franks, tomato sauce, onion, relish, and cheese. Split rolls, halfway through lengthwise, and fill with frank mixture. Place filled side up in a large covered casserole or roasting pan, and bake in slow oven 300° F. for 30 minutes.

Fireman's Frankfurters

- 1 cup grated cheese
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 1/2 ounces dried beef
1 tablespoon horse-radish
1 pound frankfurters

Mix cheese, milk, and pepper, cook slowly until cheese melts, and stir until smooth. Add chipped dried beef and horse radish; cool slightly. Split franks lengthwise, don't cut through. Put close together in shallow baking dish; fill with cheese mixture. Bake in oven at 375° F. for 10-15 minutes.

Baby Born After Mother Wreck

Addisons were proceeding westward and had the right of way. A car driven by Mrs. Mary Lou Utrup of Hamlet, was coming out of old 74 and the Patrolmen say she failed to heed the "STOP" sign and drove into the path of the Addison car. Both of the Addisons were severely hurt and are in our hospital—where she gave birth to her baby some 7 hours after the wreck. Mr. Addison has a ruptured spleen besides cut and bruises and shock.

Damages to the cars will be over $500! Patrolman Beal has charged Mrs. Utrup with reckless driving, and she is under bond.

With Mrs. Utrup in her car were Shirley McDaniel of Hamlet who sustained head injuries. Also with her were Mrs. Ben-neth Bullard and Mrs. McDaniel's small child but they were not hurt.

The point where the accident occurred is half a mile southeast of the Memorial hospital, and a mile and a half southeast of Rockingham.

Pate for Top Post

Senator to succeed the late Senator Willis Smith. Friends of Senator Pate here started the ball rolling after a hurried conference and by Monday were pressing the case from every angle. Scotland's State Senator is a formidable candidate and he will have strong backing when the matter comes before Governor Umstead for a final decision.

Appointment as United States Senator would be a fitting recognition of Senator Pate's ability and character, and the understanding service he has rendered the State of North Carolina in the State Senate, as a member of the State School Commission some years ago, as a trustee of the Greater University, and in scores of other assignments.

The decision in this case rests with Governor Umstead, but he will have no more capable or seasoned a candidate than Senator Edwin Pate of Scotland, a man experienced in many fields and in every way eminently qualified for this high position.

Sgt. Jerry Brooks for Overseas in Late July.

Sgt. Jerry Brooks, son of Mrs. Ethel Brooks is at home for a visit before leaving for overseas duty. He will be here until July 23. He has been in service for two years and recently was stationed at Cherry Point.

Sgt. Brooks graduated at the Rockingham high school with the class of 1951. He has relatives and many friends that are enjoying his short visit here.
