AUGUSTUS S. MERRIMON,

THE DIFFERENCE.

As between the letters of accept ance given to the press by the Republican candidates for President and Vice-President there is really but one a square acre, so to speak, so much ground. Both of them smack of the demagogical and are clothed in the garb of a bid for votes. It was left for Logan, no doubt by agreement to raise the bloody shirt and stir the dormant embers of prejudice, hoping thereby to consolidate as usual the -al- of vota-Sauth

It is cious that just such methods as mey attempt to saddle upon Demots exclusively have been systematreason jursued in the control of elections by the Republicans both North and South; and to-day, so scientifically arranged is that system of tyranny, that thousands in the North, for the matter of bread that is involved. cannot claim their souls as their own when voting time comes, but must move as machines at the behest of their employers and cast their votes, nolens volens, in support of their high

They take the ground that, as at present constituted, there is no material division in questions and the general policy of government offered in their respective platforms. They acknowledge their amount issue of the Presidential elecofficial trust for pecuniary gain; a representative of men, measures and conduct which the public conscience condition and which illustrate the dican party unfaithful to principle, plenty of time for that. and should not be sustained by the honest sentiment of the country.

Such a nomination, say they, does not promise in the executive chair inflexible official integrity, calm and wise judgment, sole regard for the public welfare, &c. But they propose to aid in defeating the Republican nomination, which, not for reasons of expediency only, but for high moral and patriotic considerations, with a due regard for the Republican name and for the American character, was unfit to be made. And they propose not to stay away from the polls, thus aiding to defeat Blaine simply by not voting, but, recogniz-Dogan, to hold up its hands ing in Cleveland, the Democratic nominee for President, a man whose name and record is distinguished for honesty, executive efficiency and genuine reform, they call upon their Republican friends who for any reason can not endorse Blaine, to support electors who will vote for Grover Cleveland, "in order most effectually to enforce their conviction that nothing could more deeply stain the American name and prove more disastrous to the public welfare than the deliberate indifference of the people of the United States to increasing public corruption and want of official integrity in the highest trusts of the gov-

The Democratic Platform--What is Thought of It.

"Under which King, Bezonian?"

Philadelphia Times, Ind. Rep.

The platform adopted at Chicago is certainly long enough, if not also broad enough, for everybody to stand upon. It is something more than a platform; it is a campaign address, and along with a great deal that is clear and forcible the two great parties as to public it contains a distressing amount of unneccessary rhetoric that might have been left for the campaign orators. It has the merit of being written in good loyalty to the principles of the Re- English, and the self-condemnation of publican party, but they say the par- the Republicans, who are responsible for nearly everything in which their tion this year is moral rather than platform demands reform, is very clevpolitical. The Democracy on a revenue tariff platform and the Republicans on a tariff for protection plank wheel into opposing lines for a square fight on the greatest political question that has divided parties since the reconstruction era.

Savannah News, Dem. While it declares that Federal taxation shall be exclusively for public purposes-which is only another way of saying that all custom house taxation must be for revenue only-it disavows any purpose to make such radical and hasty changes as will tend to damage any industrial interest. This is the position that the majority of the party occupied during the tariff discussion the last session of the Congress. ome concessions are made to the protectionists in the phraseology, but there is no retreat from the tariff for revenue principle.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian

HAIR RENEWER was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first suc-cessful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have ofton been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholie preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.
