Punishment and Pardon.
Mr. Stanley tells, in his "Dark Continent," how he dealt mercifully with a thief, who was one of his most valuable men, and at the same time prevented the demoralization of his followers.

Uledi's conviction. Mrs. Shumari and Saywa take his punishment. He is set free, and I pardon Shumari and Saywa.

Uledi's pardon. Mr. Stanley, much moved by the offer of these two men to substitute themselves for the offender, answered: "Uledi is a thief. I have forgiven him, but I will not let him go free. He is a thief, and he is a thief, and he is a thief."

Uledi's conviction. Mrs. Shumari and Saywa take his punishment. He is set free, and I pardon Shumari and Saywa.

GROVER CLEVELAND, OF NEW YORK.
Grover Cleveland, the nominee of the Democratic Convention, has attained that distinction in spite of perhaps the most determined opposition ever made to a candidate from his own State. He was born in Caldwell, New Jersey, March 18, 1837. At eighteen years of age he arrived in Buffalo, as he describes it, "friendly, unknown and poor," and was received by his uncle, who gave him a situation as a clerk in the office of the Erie Railroad.

THE POPULATION OF MEXICO.
The census of Mexico gives the population at 9,686,771. No State has 1,000,000; two States have less than 100,000, and several States have less than 200,000 inhabitants. But Señor Romero thinks that the population is really not far from 12,000,000. Eighty-two per cent. of the population live south of the parallel of Tampico. More than half the wealth of the republic lies south of the northern boundary of the federal district which in Mexico City is situated.

LONDON.
The great metropolis is without a rival for size and population. It contains 4,000,000 of people and covers an area of 117 square miles. Its population is almost equal to that of Canada; it is quite equal to that of Holland; it is greater than that of Scotland and double that of Denmark. It adds 70,000 people, or a city more than half the size of Toronto, to its population annually. Over its bridges every day 384,000 pedestrians and 75,000 vehicles, while its railways carry 575,000 persons daily. London is one of the wonders of the age.

BRILLIANT RECORD.
The record of young Irving Hale, of New York, who carried off the highest honors at West Point this year, bears a record that was never made at that famous institution. The boy commenced at the head of his class. He was first in every study in the first year, and in the third year he found himself again at the head in every branch of study. He now stands first in the graduating class in all but one study, Spanish, and in that there is but one-tenth of a mark between him and Cadet Sanford, who is first. Hale is the son of a school teacher. He will be assigned to duty in the engineer corps of the United States army.

THE GROWTH OF THE ORANGE TREE.
The orange tree is the longest-lived fruit tree known. It is reputed to have attained the age of 300 years, and it has been known to have flourished and borne fruit for more than a thousand years. No fruit tree will grow and produce so long under rough treatment. It commences to bear the third or fourth year after budding, and by the fifth year it will produce an abundant crop, but its yield will increase gradually under favorable circumstances, and as the years pass on it will become a very productive tree. The early growth of the orange is very rapid, and by the tenth year it will have increased more than in the next fifty years, so far as its breadth and height is concerned; but its age multiplies its fruit stems greatly, and an old tree will sometimes bear several thousand oranges.

INVENTIVE QUAKERS.
The peculiar sect known as the "Shaking Quakers" deserve credit for many useful inventions of the present. More than half a century ago they first originated the drying of sweet corn for food, and they first raised, papered and rinded garden seeds in the present styles. From their first methods of preparing medicinal roots and herbs for market sprung the immense patent medicine trade. They began the broom-corn business. The first box was made by the Shakers at New Lebanon. This is now in the Albany Geographical Hall. The Shakers invented mastic pens, first made of brass and silver. All distilled liquors were abandoned by the Shakers sixty years ago, and during the past forty years no fermented liquors of any sort has been used, except as a medicine. Pork and tobacco are also numbered among the "forbidden articles."

A HINT TO DRINKERS.
Liquor dealers, it is said, pay on an average of $2 a gallon for whiskey. One gallon contains an average of sixty-five drinks, and at ten cents a drink a man pays $6.50 a gallon for his whiskey; or, rather, he pays $3 for the whiskey and $4.50 to the man for handing it over the bar. In view of these figures a Western paper makes the following practical suggestion to drinkers: "Take your wife, your back-saver. Lend her $2 to buy a gallon of whiskey for a beginning, and every time you want a drink go and pay ten cents for it. By the time you have drunk a gallon she will have $6.50, enough to refund the $3 borrowed from you, to pay for another gallon of whiskey and a balance of $3.50. She will be able to conduct future operations on her own capital, and when you become an inebriate, unable to support yourself, shunned and despised by all respectable persons, your wife will have enough money to keep you until you get ready to fill a drunkard's grave.

OYSTERS AND STARFISH.
The destruction of the oyster industry of Long Island Sound is said to be certain unless some method can be devised to check the depredations of starfish upon the oyster beds. Capt. Thomas Scott, a well known submarine expert, has been engaged to dive down among the oysters for an investigation of the work of the destructive "five fingers," and if he finds that starfish can be removed from the beds in "bourse nets," hundreds of oystermen will soon be engaged in the use of such nets along the Connecticut coast. One theory of the pest which the oysters complain is that the oysters are attacked by the parasites of oil and fertilizer has resulted in the rapid increase of starfish, as there are not manhood enough to destroy the starfish spaw as formerly. Whether the theory is true or false, it is certain that the government ought to restrict manhood fishing. Connecticut is the chief New England producer of oysters, and her beds in the Sound are so valuable that their destruction would be a great calamity.

SOUTHERN ENTERPRISE.
The latest statistics show that during the last six months nearly $70,000,000 has been invested in the Southern States, and enlarging those already established in the South. For the past two months the amount invested was $18,744,000, a falling off from the earlier months of the year, due mainly to the usual summer dullness. The list of new enterprises established during the first half of the year shows a wide range of industries, including cotton mills, iron furnaces, agricultural implements, machine, shot foundries, cotton seed oil mills, fertilizer factories, tobacco factories, ship building yards, paper mills, and many others. The aggregate investments foot up $69,221,000, Alabama heading the list with $13,840,000, Kentucky $13,497,000, Virginia $12,989,000, Texas $7,688,000, Tennessee $4,849,000, Georgia $3,759,000, Maryland $2,832,000, North Carolina $2,738,000, West Virginia $2,428,000, Louisiana $1,730,000, South Carolina $1,529,000, Florida $1,508,000, and Mississippi $767,000.

Types of Scarlet Fever.
A short time after exposure a person shows a quick pulse, a marked rise of temperature, headache, vomiting, a scarlet rash—first on the neck, then on the chest and limbs—sore throat, and aching in the limbs. The rash is more (those under the lower jaw). This would be a typical case of scarlet fever. But most diseases, both in their onset and in their progress, vary more or less from the typical and readily distinguishable form. It is so with scarlet fever.

South and West.
Two men named Lewis and another quarreled in a hotel at Dallas, Texas, and each shot the other dead. While two colored men were being conveyed to jail at Memphis, Tenn., they refused to pass two small boys in 1883, they were taken from custody by masked men and shot. A prominent medical journal of Philadelphia, declares that "the progress of cholera during the past week has been such as to warrant the belief that it is spreading rapidly in Europe during the next thirty days, and may reach our shores at any time. Its progress can be arrested only by the most careful care on the part of our quarantine officers, for this disease has already reached our shores by ships."

Washington.
