That this work is much needed and in the right direction will be recognized from the fact that North Carolina had in 1880 (the last census) 232,133 milch cows and 375,105 other cattle, exclusive of working oxen, sheep and other stock. At a valuation of $30 apiece the total will be nearly fourteen million dollars. The dairy products alone from these milch cows amounted in one year to 446,793 gallons of milk consumed; 7,212,507 of butter and 57,380 lbs cheese. Is not this field in which already, so many millions of dollars are invested with an annual product of over a million and a half-dollars in dairy products (not to speak of the value of the stable manure produc-ed) is not the field of sufficient importance to merit scientific investigation in order to make the preducts more valuable, and to improve and increase the number of live stock already engaged in making these products? a field too, in which nothing has heretofore been done in this State in the way proposed? He was greatly wrought up by the report of the prophet who predicted that a storm would pass over this country on Monday night. He wants now to organize a club of at least twelve resolute men, who will take an oath to go to any part of the United States, to hang any man who may hereafter predict astorm. The funeral expenses of the false prophet will be paid by Auditor A. W. NOTICE!

TIMBER AND

Turpentine Lands FOR SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Richmond County, the undersigned will sell at public outcry at the court house in Rockingham, on SATURDAY, 21ST APRIL, 1888, at 12 o'clock, M., Eighteen Hundred Acres of Land, situated in said county, three and a half miles from the Railroad, and five miles from Hoffman. This land is well timbered, and from six hundred to a thousand acres of it have never been boxed, and it is, therefore, a splendid opportunity for turpentine men. The timber upon it, and proximity to the railroad, make it a fine location for a saw mill. There are also some valuable farming lands on the creek bottoms-a one-horse farm in cultivation, with suitable building, &c. The land is composed of a large number of small tracts, and can be sold in large or small bodies, to suit the purchasers.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash. Possession given immediately.

For further particulars apply or write to the undersigned at Old Hundred, N. C. M. D. McNEILL, Commissioner.
