LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

The yell of the base ballist is abroad in the air these afternoons.

Rev. P. R. Law will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath at 11 o'clock A. M. and 8 P. M.

Mr. Lum Taylor, formerly with the late G. E. Wishart, Esq., is now with Capt. W. I. Everett as clerk.

We heard a lawyer express the wish that our June term of court might be abolished, as it comes at such a hot time, and especially as money is so hard to get at about this season.

Marshal Hinson is leveling up Washington street very nicely and adding a thick coating of clay and gravel, which will improve it as a thoroughfare for the fast horses and drivers of our town.

Mr. L. Weill has purchased of J. T. LeGrand, Esq., the handsome vacant lot on Randolph street north of Mr. H. C. Dockery's residence. Mr. W. contemplates building on it soon.

The selection of Rev. M. N. McIver as county superintendent of public schools will give general satisfaction, we doubt not. As the worthy successor of our friend and brother editor, J. D. Bundy, Esq., we congratulate him.

The stockholders of the Rockingham Literary and Educational Association met at Watson's Hall on Tuesday last for the purpose of electing a teacher or teachers of the Academy for the next scholastic year; and to fix terms of tuition, rent of building and other matters pertaining thereto. Capt. A. D. Armistead was re-elected principal.

Capt. W. I. Everett and Peter McRae, Esq., both declined re-election as county commissioners, and the next best thing was to place them on the county finance committee, thus demonstrating that the people of the county are not yet ready to dispense with their valuable services as financiers ever watchful of the county's interests. The third man elected on this committee was Jno. P. McNair, Esq., a successful business man and a financier of ability.

The New Board.

The Justices met here on Monday, 2nd, and elected the following persons as a Board of County Commissioners to serve two years from the first Monday in December next: W. T. Covington, J. P. Little, Jr., J. A. Ingram, D. Z. Hardin, A. L. James. Mr. Covington is a leading merchant of our town. Mr. J. P. Little, Jr., is a prosperous young farmer, of Steele's township. Mr. Ingram is a live, pushing farmer, of Mineral Springs. Mr. Hardin is a farmer and a gentleman worthy of the honor bestowed. Mr. James is one of Laurinburg's leading merchants. In this board the county may congratulate itself upon having an efficient old board succeeded by a competent new one, since the choice for a clean sweep prevailed. The old board goes out with the regrets of many, but there is compensation in the fact that the new men are exceptionally worthy and qualified to administer the affairs of the county.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for bruises, cuts, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures them, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by W. M. Fowlkes & Co.

TWO CHANGES.

We greet our readers this week in an enlarged form, giving them about one-third more reading matter than heretofore, while the subscription price remains the same, $1.50. It was this that caused the failure to issue a paper last week, a pair of new chases and other material having been delayed en route a week longer than it should have been. We hope to move along smoothly in the future, giving you a larger and a better paper.

The Rocket has in the meantime moved back to the old Everett, Wall & Co. building and occupies the two front rooms over the drug store. Our friends are cordially invited to call and see us.

Confederate Vets. Attention.

A resolution passed 4th of July, in the meeting here, appointed the annual meeting of the veterans of this county for the year at Laurinburg, N. C., on the 4th of next month. Let steps be taken at once throughout the county, to have all the old soldiers answer to roll-call on that day. The people of Laurinburg are expecting a big time.

Division of the N. C. Conference.

The General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, recently in session at St. Louis, Mo., divided the N. C. Conference; and by the action Richmond county is thrown into the Eastern division. The line between the Eastern & Western divisions will run with the boundary line of Moore & Randolph, the former being in the Eastern division which will hold its first annual session at Wilson, N. C., under the old name of North Carolina Conference while the other division will be called the Western N. C. Conference.

"One More Unfortunate."

We have just learned of a case of desecration and death occurring in this community which, for horror and sadness, reminds like a tale of fiction. An abandoned white woman was found dead Thursday, 29th ult., and an infant of a few hours of age also dead at her side. The woman had been permitted to take shelter in a house on the Jacob Watkins place, in which she and child were found dead by some colored women passing by. So base and abandoned in character had she lived that it was difficult to procure help and ground with which and where to bury her. She and infant were buried at Zion church. Thus to have been left destitute and suffering, mother and infant to die in solitude, was a sad commentary on the inevitable result of such a wretched life as the poor creature lived. It calls to mind forcibly the lines of Hood:

"O, it was pitiful,
In a whole city,
Friends she had none."

County Matters.

The meeting of the County Commissioners last week was an unusually interesting one. Besides the usual routine business there were two liquor license cases that were warmly contested. The first was that of J. R. Coley. He made application for an order granting him license to retail liquor in the building corner of Washington and Carolina streets, Rockingham, for six months from July 1st, 1890, to January 1st, 1891. His application was opposed by Mrs. Ida L. Terry, who objected to the place he intended to open business at as unsuitable. Mr. T. C. Guthrie appeared for Coley and Mr. John D. Shaw, Jr., appeared for Mrs. Terry. Evidence was introduced and arguments made. The Board, after hearing the matter, postponed decision until their next meeting. The town commissioners had already granted Coley license. Mrs. Terry said she did not oppose his getting town license because she had no knowledge that he would apply for it. The town commissioners have full power to revoke or annul a license, and are given by the town charter full and complete control of the sale of liquor within the corporate limits. The county commissioners did not seem desirous of interfering in the matter. They postponed decision on Coley's application until their next meeting in order that Mrs. Terry or any one else might have an opportunity of going before the town commissioners and asking to revoke the town license if they desired.

The other case before the Board was the Laurinburg license case. This was a petition of the town commissioners of Laurinburg to revoke the license to sell liquor of Steelman & Co., W. A. McLean and Isaac Williams. The grounds of the motion were that these parties had violated the law regulating the sale of liquor in that they had been selling on Sunday and to minors. The matter was begun Monday night and was concluded Tuesday. Messrs. N. A. McLean, W. H. Neal and P. D. Walker represented the petitioners. The liquor men were represented by Judge R. T. Bennett and Mr. John D. Shaw, Jr. The case was ably conducted on both sides. The arguments were good. The commissioners decided to revoke the license and an order was made accordingly.

Our Town Improvements.

Messrs. Leak & Wall have completed negotiations with Mr. W. A. McKinnon, contractor, for the erection of a block of buildings embracing a bank, clothing store, hotel and drug store, to be located on the old Knight Hotel lot. The hotel is to be first-class in its construction and appointments and to contain about twenty bed rooms, while the other buildings are to be of similar merit in finish and arrangement. The work of tearing away the old structures and laying the foundations of the new will begin probably as early as Monday week, 23rd inst., the new buildings to be ready for occupancy within a reasonable time.

In addition we may mention that Dr. J. M. Stansill is taking steps towards the erection of two offices of brick, on the lot adjoining, with a story above which will be used as a hall for the Y. M. C. A. and for other purposes.

It is stated also that other parties contemplate building to meet increasing demands in the mercantile business, already prosperous in our town.

Yet further we note that the Rockingham Drug Company, composed of Messrs. Leak, McIlhenny & Wall, have placed an order with the Elliott Machine Co., of Baltimore, for an engine, boiler and plant complete for their chewing gum factory, which they propose to have ready soon for the manufacture by wholesale of the superior Southern sweet gum "chewing gum" which is immensely popular wherever it has become known.

We chronicle these improvements with pleasure, as indicative of the spirit of our people to push our town forward to the place it is entitled to in the march of this energetic age. We believe the old town is only at the threshold of a booming future.

Meeting of the Dem. Ex. Committee.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee of Richmond county are hereby notified to meet at Rockingham on Monday next, 18th inst., to fix a time for holding the County Convention to elect delegates to attend the Judicial and Congressional Conventions which will assemble in Laurinburg on the 16th and 23rd of July respectively. D. STEWART, Chairman.

A Misrepresentation.

Correspondence of The Rocket. I am unfortunate. It seems, from what I learn, that I am incapable of speaking so as to be understood, or others are incapable of comprehending my meaning. The Sanford Express represents me as having stated that my ONLY EXPERTISE for campaign purposes in the Congressional contest of 1876 was the sum of five cents! I am sure that the editor of that paper had no purpose to misrepresent, but he did misrepresent most atrociously. As a friend of mine said, several years ago, I am "concerned!" Now for the facts, which, I trust, I shall be able to narrate with sufficient clearness to be understood by every one: During the session of the 44th Congress as I entered the committee room of Agriculture, on one occasion, some of the members were speaking of the cost attending an election to Congress. It was alleged that Mr. J. of New York, who was a member of the 43rd and 44th Congresses, had spent $50,000 to secure his seat in the former and $30,000 in the latter. He had simply bought the seats of Messrs. A. B. C. and D. always required an outlay of $20,000 each. The member who was talking admitted that he had spent over $3,000, not for campaign purposes but for practical bribery. I was then asked what I had cost me. To this I replied that I had kept no account of the items of railroad and hack fare, hotel bills and ticket printing. The member said, "These are legitimate and necessary; what did you pay besides in the way of contributions to school houses, churches, individuals, &c.?" I replied, "Five cents, and this I gave to a man named S., in Lincoln county, who told me he wanted it to get a drink of whiskey!" This was a revelation to Northern members, and I was asked what sort of a people I represented. To this I responded, "Just such a people; they do not plunder a candidate."

The above is a "plain tale," and I never alluded to the facts except for purposes of complimenting my constituents because of their sterling character. Always, as I think, me understood, and hence I am astonished at the statement of my friend of the Express, which has caused so many anxious inquiries. I must be allowed to say that a very little reflection would have shown the absurdity of the representation.

I venture to assert my belief that there was no other similar case in the country and that the 6th district is entitled to a credit possessed by no other. "Campaign purposes" cost me, necessarily, much more than a thousand times five cents. There has not been an election since the passage of the Reconstruction Acts in which I have not taken an active part, and I not only paid out of my own pocket all my expenses, but contributed to some extent to the expenses of others. In some places the local committees relieved me of hotel bills—when not a candidate.

The North boasts of its advanced civilization and taunts us with our "plantation manners" and our corruption. And yet there is not a district in all that land of purity and Puritanism—in which money is not corruptly used to control elections, especially by a party which flouts its banner of social and moral elevation. God help such hypocrites as Hear, Ingalls, Reed, Lodge and others!

I am no aspirant for any office, and the above has been written "to vindicate the truth of history." Am I now understood? Very Respectfully,

WALTER L. STEELE.

Everybody Knows

That this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of mounds of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrofula, salt rheum, or other disease may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier ever produced. It is the only medicine of which "100 doses one dollar" is true.

What Next? More Branches.

Wilmington has recently had a magnificent celebration in honor of completing the branch of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad from Fayetteville to Wilmington. Just such a celebration as the generous hearted, whole souled people of the "old city by the sea" know how to get up, and of such magnificent proportions as only those who attended it can appreciate. The branch road was finished and Wilmington was happy. Does this fill the measure of her ambition? Is she going to supinely rest upon her laurels or will she "gird her loins" and seek other fields and continue to add to her growing trade and commerce?

What next? Her trunk line railroads must have branches—feeders. One of her roads, at least the W. & W., has done much in constructing branches which have added largely to the business and profits of the road. The Carolina Central has been very remiss in this kind of work, and unless it moves early in that direction must lose forever some most valuable contiguous territory, which in years gone by contributed to the trade and commerce of Wilmington, principally through Fayetteville, but which of late years has been nearly all delivered to Charleston through Wadesboro.

In the writer's boyhood Fayetteville was the market town for all the products of the Pee Dee section of Richmond and Montgomery counties, thence to Wilmington. Now this trade seeks a market mostly in Charleston, S. C.

In the Pee Dee section of Richmond county alone, embracing the county above the confluence of Little river and the Pee Dee, there are produced annually about 2,000 bales of cotton. In the Little river valley section and the Mount Gilead section of Montgomery county, adjoining the Pee Dee section of Richmond county, at least 1,000 bales of cotton are raised, and in both sections production is annually increasing. Nearly all the products from this country goes to Charleston, to say nothing of the supplies in the way of groceries, provisions, dry goods, etc., which come back in a large measure to pay for the cotton. There are few finer agricultural sections of country in North Carolina than this Pee Dee and Little river valley and contiguous country. There is much fine timber, long-leaf pine, hickory, dog wood, oak, etc., and just above Mount Gilead sets in the finest body of long-leaf pine timber in North Carolina. This country is entirely without railroad facilities. The farmers have to haul their products from fifteen to twenty-five miles to Wadesboro, cross the Pee Dee river in flats; the river is often swollen and dangerous and impassable. This fine country is desirous of railroad connections with Wilmington, which would much increase its production. If that is not procured in the near future, they will doubtless be had with the Richmond and Danville system, which already has a "longing eye" upon the country described and contiguous country.

Were this country as near to the R. & D. as it is to the C. C. it would be a different railroad. The R. & D. by branch roads to Fayetteville, would be a great benefit to the country.

From Rockingham to Little's feeder the C. C. could build, and add much to the trade of Wilmington.

It is strange why this magnificent section of contiguous country has been so long overlooked by the wide-awake people of Wilmington. Wilmington will be, certainly, remiss, if she does not have this matter properly brought before the C. C. stockholders' meeting soon to be held in New York City, and make an effort to secure this prize before it is too late.—"Pee Dee," in Wilmington Messenger.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How CAN CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula sore neck from the time she was 27 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed on her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump appeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Narragansett, N. H. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.
