TRAGEDY IN NORTH CAROLINA. Story of Atrocious Murder Committed

In Yadkin County. -Raleigh, Feb. 10 .- One of the most atrocious crimes that has ever been recorded in the annals of this state was a murder committed recently in Yadkin county. The victim was Wilham Kelly, who was shot three times in the back and his body then thrown in a well.

The murder was committed on the place of Mrs. Hunt, a rich widow of that county. Kelly was courting the daughter of the widow.

William Martin, the brother of Mrs. Hunt, is accused of being the slayer of Kelly and the coroner's jury has recommended that he be held for an investigation of the crime. Martin's broken scaffold in the building of arrest him, and while it is generally whereabouts, however, are unknown. Flanders brought to jail here yesterday a negro woman, Anna Rabb, for one of the darkest deeds ever committed in Emanuel county. Night before last the woman got on the train at Garfield, Ga., with a white baby 3 weeks or a month old. At Monte, on the millen and Southwestern railway, she was left in the car alone. She then raised a window and threw the baby out. The fall did not kill the baby, but it froze to death before daylight. The little thing left its sign where it scratched and kicked in the sand. The woman went on to Stillmore and took the train for Adrian. The sher!If was notified after the baby was found. He went to Monte to get the particulars and took the train for Adrian and caught the woman, who handle." says the mother of the baby is a gypsy out in the heart of the business section of this city at an early hour yesterday morning and before the flames were checked over $100,000 had gone up in smoke.

The loss is estimated at $104,500. Of this less than half was covered by insurance, the total amount of insurance on the burned buildings and stocks amounting to only $41,750. Hon. T. M. Swift was the heaviest loser, not being protected by insurance at all. The Tate block, which was burned, was one of the handsomest buildings in Elberton, having been erected only three years ago. The fire was by all odds the most disastrous in the history of the Granite City. The buildings burned were on McIntosh street, the principal business street of Elberton, and the particular section on which they were located is known locally as the "Spoon-

The wind was blowing a gale and Mabel walked toward the edge of the cliff. The child's skirts were caught by a violent gust of wind and she was carried along despite all her efforts to escape.

Mrs. Fichenon saw her daughter's peril and ran after her. Mabel was blown over the edge of the precipice just as her mother grasped at her skirts. Mrs. Fichenon could not recover her balance and both fell to the rocks below.

The Collins girl ran for help and men hurried to the foot of the cliff. The mother's neck was broken and death was instantaneous. Mabel's arms were broken and she was otherwise badly hurt, but she may live.
