Remarkable Cures for Rheumatism.
Kenia, Jackson Co., W. Va.—About three years my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. B. Parsons. For sale by Richmond County drug store.

WHETTING HIS PITCHFORK.

Senator Tillman Will Open Campaign
In South Carolina on Friday.
Columbia, S. C., April 22.—At the request of friends Senator E. B. Tillman has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at Manning, Clarendon county, Friday, April 25. Sensational developments are expected at this meeting.
The object of the senator's visit to Clarendon is two-fold in that he will fire the first gun of the senatorial campaign and make reply to charges brought against him by his former friend, State Senator Appelt.
In his paper, The Manning Times, Mr. Appelt reiterates the old charges of dispensary rebates, bond deals, etc., and further charges the senator with having accepted free groceries and other articles from the state penitentiary.

It is alleged that Senator Tillman is armed with evidence to sustain the charges he made against Senator John L. McLaurin, which resulted in the fight in the United States senate. It is said the senator secured his information from one of the leaders of the Republican party of this state, who has been in Washington for some time opposing the appointments made through Senator McLaurin's recommendation.

DEADLY FEUD OF A CENTURY.

Notable Case is On Trial at Morganton, N. C.
Raleigh, April 18.—At Morganton's notable case is on trial. Jack Keaton and two brothers, Alex and Sam McCall, all white, are on trial for arson. The alleged crime was committed some years ago in McDowell county. Keaton was promptly arrested, gave bail and fled. Later he was captured in Tennessee.
He confessed and implicated the McCalls, declaring they hired him to burn a mill belonging to a man named Brown, there having for over a century been a deadly feud between the McCall and Brown families.
Six incendiary fires occurred in the Brown-McCall neighborhood in rapid succession and two churches, three schools and Brown's mill were destroyed.

Alex McCall is blind. He was acquitted of burning the mill. Now he and his brother are on trial as accessories before the fact.
The case was removed to Morganton on affidavit that the Brown influence was too great in McDowell.

SHE SHIED AT THE CARS.

South Carolina Woman, Aged 75, Sees Her First Locomotive.
Greenville, S. C., April 21.—Mrs. Eliza Bedell, a native of the famous "Dark Corner" section of this county, was among the visitors last week to the Charleston exposition.
Mrs. Bedell is in her seventy-fifth year and had never seen a locomotive until she came to Greenville last week. While waiting at the depot for the arrival of her train the aged woman became frightened and showed evidence of great nervous strain at the approach of the rapidly moving engine. Friends, however, soon pacified her, but it required considerable persuasion and many assurances of safety on their part before the woman of ante-bellum time would consent to board the train.

Belfield Was Mob's Leader.

Raleigh, April 19.—Milton Belfield, almost a giant in size, who confessed that he was the leader of the mob which shot young John Stephenson to death, has been taken to Windsor and jailed. He implicates his brother, John, and Julius Bishop, both of whom are in jail at the same place. Milton Belfield was arrested at Weldon, resisted the police and was seriously shot. He and his gang shot Stephenson many times, mainly in the back, having taken him unaware, and when he fell they broke his neck. There is talk of lynching.

Monument to Wade Hampton.

Columbia, S. C., April 19.—The movement for the erection of a splendid monument to General Wade Hampton, to be surmounted by an equestrian statue, has now been launched and is in good hands. Last evening Camp Hampton met in an extra session and after fine tributes to the dead chieftain had been adopted a resolution was adopted inviting subscriptions from all citizens of South Carolina for the erection in Columbia of a monument to Hampton.

Came Near Losing Their Lives.

Raleigh, April 21.—At Kinston a member of the North Carolina naval militia nearly lost his life. He took a 1-pounder shell from the auxiliary cruiser Hornet last week and carried it home. He cut the shell away from the metal cartridge case and took the shell to a tinner, asking the latter to see what was in it. The tinner placed the shell in a vise and struck the fuse. The resulting explosion tore off all the fingers on one of the tinner's hands and cut the naval militiaman's head.

Bank of Goodlettsville, Tenn., Looted.

Nashville, April 19.—The bank of Goodlettsville, was visited last night by robbers, who blew open the safe and got all the available cash, amounting to about $2,000. The box of the postmaster, containing $500 in stamps and $90 in currency, was also looted. The sheriff and detectives have gone to the scene of the robbery, but there is no clew as to the identity of the thieves.

CITIES DESTROYED BY SEISMIC SHOCKS

Entire Coast of Guatemala Rooked by Earthquakes.

600 LIVES REPORTED LOST

Populous Towns of Quetzaltenango and Amatitlan Have Been Reduced to Ruins by One of the Severest Earthquakes Known to Central America.

New York, April 21.—The three earthquakes on Friday night reduced to ruins Quetzaltenango, the second city of importance in Guatemala, having 25,000 inhabitants, and completely destroyed the town of Amatitlan, says a Guatemala City (Guatemala) dispatch to The Herald. Both of these towns were capitals of the departments of the same name each bears.

It is reported that 500 persons were killed in Quetzaltenango, but the rumor lacks confirmation. The exact loss of life cannot now be ascertained. News of the destruction, which extended 100 miles along the western part of the republic, is coming in slowly because all the telegraph wires are down.

It is known that Amatitlan exists no more as a town, the seismic disturbance having been so great. The inhabitants—that is, those of the 10,000 residents who escaped death in the cataclysm—are camping in the open air for safety, not daring to return to the ruined confines of the town. Some of the inhabitants are building temporary mud huts.

DEWINDT EXPEDITION.

Had Terrible Experience in Crossing Virkhyansk Mountains.

London, April 21.—Letters were received today from Harry DeWindt, the leader of the expedition which is attempting to make its way overland from Paris to New York dated Virkhyansk, East Siberia, at the end of February. In spite of the forebodings of the officials of the Yakutsk, who strongly urged DeWindt not to continue his journey, saying the conditions were worse this year than ever, the expedition reached Virkhyansk, 600 miles north of Yakutsk, Feb. 28. The members of the expedition had a terrible experience while crossing the Virkhyansk mountains. The cold was intense, 63 degrees below zero being registered.

All the travelers were frostbitten, but otherwise they were well and in good spirits and were leaving the same day for Sradna Tomak, East Siberia, 900 miles further on, which the party hoped to reach about the middle of March. Then it was their intention to push on 1,500 miles to East Cape on Behring strait. Probably the next news of the expedition will be its arrival in the United States, via Behring strait. DeWindt mentions a report that Baron Tolb's expeditionary ship Searl was stranded on the Siberian islands, with only seven tons of coal on board.

Congress also is requested to pass the bill to remove the tariff on fresh meats.

UNRULY NEGROES SHOT DOWN.

Two Are Killed in Birmingham Park by Policemen.

Birmingham, Ala., April 21.—Policemen Strong and McMath killed two unruly negroes near the North Birmingham park at an early hour Sunday morning.

The residents of that suburban locality have been annoyed of late by persons firing in the park during the night. One of them, about 1 o'clock, telephoned the police that the firing had opened.

Officers Strong and McMath slipped upon the culprits, there being three, and ordered them to lay down their pistols. Henry Dunlap, one of the negroes, raised his pistol as though to fire, and the officers both fired and killed him. Tom Keifer, another negro, still held his weapon in his hand, and the officers fearing trouble from him, whereupon he fell, a bullet going entirely through his body.
No inquests were held, the coroner concluding the killings were justifiable.

IN RIVER BOAT FIRE MANY PEOPLE PERISH

Steamer City of Pittsburg Is Burned to Water's Edge.

WORST DISASTER IN YEARS

Full List of Those Lost Cannot Now Be Given, as Register of Passengers and All Records Were Destroyed—Thrilling Story of Catastrophe.

Cairo, Ill., April 21.—Although no complete list of either the victims or of the survivors is yet obtainable, investigation today indicates that almost one-half of the 150 people on the City of Pittsburg were lost when that ill-fated steamer was burned yesterday at Ogden's Landing, between this city and Paducah. Many of those who were brought to this city are suffering from injuries, exposure and fright. The number aboard was about equally divided between passengers and crew, the latter suffering the greater loss in casualties.
The names of many of the "roustabouts" were not known, and the number drowned or burned is not likely to ever be ascertained. The fire started in the lower part of the steamer, in the freight material or possibly in the engine room, and shut off the means of escape there while passengers jumped overboard from the upper decks.
Penned in by flames.
Within ten minutes of the discovery of fire at 4 a. m. survivors say the upper decks were swept by flames and passengers were penned in on all sides, even the life preservers being out set by the flames. The panic which followed caused a greater loss of life than would have ensued if the officers could have controlled the terror-stricken people. Some rushed through the flames and perished; others fainted and sank down to be cremated. Many in their night robes, some of them afire, jumped overboard and were drowned. Those that got into the boats saw others drowning as their overcrowded crafts pulled to shore. The barely clad survivors on the shore not only witnessed a horrifying scene around the charred hull, but also suffered from early morning till relief came in the afternoon.
The captain says there were 66 passengers, not including a dozen babies. There were as many women as men in the cabin and the indications are that the greater percentage of losses was among the women and children.
Register and Records Burned.
As the register, with all other records, was burned and the survivors scattered in every direction, there is great difficulty in getting a list of survivors. It is conceded that many bodies will never be recovered, so that there will never be a complete list of the victims. It is thought that many charred bodies will be found in the hull of the burned steamer when the mass of embers ceases burning so that the search for the remains can be made.

Partial List of Those Lost.

The following partial lists were revised up to midnight so far as possible with meager information obtainable.

Allen, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Miss Mary Lister, Carrollton, O.; Mr. Adams, of Ohio; Mr. Downs, of Memphis; Miss Sweeney, of Owensboro, Ky.; L. L. Hunter, of Lifford, Pa.
