BRADLEY IS ELECTED

Kentucky Chooses Republican United States Senator

FOUR DEMOCRATS FOR HIM

Republicans Vote Solidly For Bradley and With the Assistance of Four Democrats Succeed in Landing the Former Governor in the Senatorship With Only Four Votes to the Good.

Frankfort, Ky., Special.—Amid scenes of wildest excitement, former Governor William O'Connell Bradley, Republican, was elected United States Senator to succeed James B. McCreary. Bradley's term of six years will begin March 4th, 1909. He received 64 votes, four of which were cast by Democrats opposed to former Governor Beckham, leading Democratic candidate for senator, who was endorsed for the office at the State primary.

The four Democrats were surrounded by party friends and urged to withdraw their support from Bradley and re-elect Senator James McCreary. Any Democrat they might name but the four men declared that the proposal came too late. The Democratic leaders even promised a caucus to select a candidate, to which the name of Beckham would not be presented.

The ballot as recast resulted as follows: Bradley 64; Beckham 15; James 15; McCreary 10; Mayo 8; Allen 2; Ellison 1; Stanley 1; Blackburn 1; Cantrell 1; Ellis 1; Cammack 1; Sullivan 1; McElroy 1; Hunt 1.

In a speech accepting his election Bradley promised to use every effort as senator to procure the repeal of the 6-cent tax on tobacco. Representative Lillard was the only one of the four Democrats to explain his vote for Bradley. He said he thought the time had come to "throw off party shackles and to break up the machine," and, although he did support the Democratic ticket for 40 years, he believed his vote for Bradley "was the best Democratic vote he ever cast."

The Republicans voted solidly for Bradley, the caucus nominee. It had been held from the beginning of the contest (over six weeks ago) that a majority of a quorum was sufficient for an election, and with 126 members present it required 64 votes to elect. The votes of the four Democrats who have steadily refused to vote for former Governor Beckham were transferred to Bradley from the various Democratic opponents of Beckham.

Winner by Four Votes.

Bradley received 64 votes to 60 for Beckham 1 for Allen and 1 for Blackburn. The Democrats left the hall in an attempt to break the vote, but later returned and the vote was ordered ratified.

Senators McNutt and Chariton and Representative Meuller, of Louisville, and Representative Lillard, of Boyle, were the Democrats who voted with the Republicans for Bradley.

A scene of the wildest excitement prevailed before the result was announced, the Democrats demanding a recount. Beckham came on the floor and released the Democrats from their primary nomination pledge. Many Democrats sought to change their votes the majority going to Congressman James.

THREE ARE ARRESTED

In Connection With Frauds in the Patent Office

ONE HIGH OFFICIAL IMPLICATED

Arrests of Third Assistant Examiner Barton, Henry W. Everding, a Patent Attorney and John A. Heany, an Inventor, Bring to Light a Scandal in the Patent Office.

Washington, Special.—Three arrests here Thursday brought to light a scandal in the patent office which has been under investigation since early in February, and which revolves around an invention valued at more than $5,000,000. The parties arrested are Ned W. Barton, third assistant examiner of the patent office, Henry W. Everding, a patent attorney of Philadelphia, and John A. Heany, an inventor of York, Pa. They had been indicted by the United States grand jury for conspiracy to defraud the government and for destroying public records.

Heany's Leads to Arrest.

The indictment charges that the three men, "with an intent to steal and destroy," carried away from the patent office certain letters, specifications and amendments relating to patents and unlawfully and wilfully destroyed them. The investigation was made upon information that as a result of a conspiracy John A. Heany had been given a patent on an invention for manufacturing filaments and electrodes for electric incandescent lamps.

The facts disclosed by the investigation were of such a character that they were presented to the grand jury. It is alleged that through connivance with New W. Barton, Heany and Barton outwitted more than 20 of the largest electrical concerns in the country, striving to get the same patent. All of these concerns had filed applications for a patent, but from time to time, Barton, it is charged, would see the specifications and employ whatever he desired for perfecting Heany's invention. To be successful in this plan it was necessary to destroy certain records, and file substitutes thereof.

Noticed in Court House.

Secretary Garfield, after a conference with Commissioner Moore, called upon District Attorney Baker last Friday and the latter immediately presented the case to the grand jury. Subpoenas were issued Monday, directing Barton, Heany and Everding to appear before the grand jury, and at 3:50 Thursday afternoon the indictments were returned before Justice Stafford in criminal court, and bench warrants were at once issued for the arrest of the accused men. Under some pretext the three men had been kept in the court house and Deputy Marshalls Stutler, Hawkins and Reid served the warrants immediately. Assistant District Attorney Jesse A. Adkins and Hugh Taggart, who have worked up the case for the government, consulted Justice Stafford who fixed bail for the defendants at $10,000. Later they were still making efforts to procure bonds.

The accused men said they cared to make no statement other than the fact of their innocence would be proven.

Since the war he has made his home in this city.

Millionaires in Congress.

Simon Gugenheim heads the list of millionaire Senators, with $60,000,000. Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin possesses a fortune estimated at half that sum, and Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, is a close third, with $25,000,000. Representative John A. Andrus, of New York, is the rich man of the house, his "pile" being given as $35,000,000.

Railroads Robbing Uncle Sam.

The charge that the government had been robbed of over $70,000,000 since 1880 by railroads carrying the mails was made on the floor of the house of Representatives by Mr. Lloyd, of Missouri. He referred to the new system of weighing the mails recently introduced by the Postmaster General and declared that it was an admission that the Postoffice Department had allowed the people of the country to be muled out of the sum stated. He demanded to know why suits had not been instituted against the railroads to recover this money. No suits, he charged, had been filed and none suggested. "I call upon the chairman of the committee to audit and control the expenses of the Postoffice Department," he exclaimed, "to investigate that department and ascertain whether there is anything wrong in it."

Mr. Wanger, of Pennsylvania, the chairman, pledged careful investigation into the subject. Mr. Lloyd, referring to the retirement of Mr. Madden, the Third Assistant Postmaster General, and the proposition to drop 23 postoffice inspectors, declared that they were from the beginning all "marked" men because of their connection in one way or another with the suppression of certain publications. "We have too much bureaucracy," he exclaimed. "We need more law and less departmental rule."

A Day in the Senate.

Speeches on the pending currency bill were made in the Senate by Senators McCumber, of North Dakota, and Newlands, of Nevada.

Each of these Senators contended for modifications of the emergency currency bill and each declared in favor of legislation adding confidence on the part of the depositors in the banks as a prominent feature of any plan for preventing panics.

The Senate also passed a resolution offered by Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, calling on the Attorney General for all information concerning court proceedings in the Indian Territory affecting the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes.

A number of bills of minor importance were passed.

Tillman Wants to Know.

Senator Tillman wants to have the Comptroller of Currency send to the Senate a detailed statement of all loans made by national banks in New York City upon collateral security from June 1st to December 1st, 1907, with the full names of borrowers, amounts of loans and lists of stocks and bonds deposited with each loan as collateral security with a statement whether they are time or call loans and whether call loans are made by executive officers of the banks by order of the board of directors. This direction to the Comptroller of the Currency was embodied in a resolution submitted to the Senate by Mr. Tillman.

A preamble of the resolution recites that banks in cities where stock exchanges are located loan money of depositors which are trust funds upon worthless stocks and bonds, on terms that make such loans dangerous and make them a menace to the public.

Mr. Aldrich asked that the consideration of the resolution be postponed. Mr. Tillman wanted immediate action.

"Stock gambling," he said, "is recognized by a great many people as one of the most pernicious and devilish things of all the pernicious and devilish things that are being done in New York."

Senator Aldrich suggested that there were other places besides New York where stock gambling is practiced.

Mr. Tillman said he would be glad to have the same information from all places where there are stock exchanges.

"I am willing to let it go over," he added, "to see what special interests are jeopardized."

Postoffice Appropriations.

Washington, Special.—Consideration of the postoffice appropriation resolutions. As adopted the bill was begun in the House of Representatives. It carries a total appropriation of $220,765,392, which is $9,675,624 less than the estimates. Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, explained the provisions of the measures, the main features of which already have been published. An understanding was reached whereby general debate is to continue indefinitely.

Millionaires in Congress.

Washington, Special.—According to a Washington statistician, the United States Senate now has 32 millionaires, representing a capital of $210,500,000, and the House 14 men in the millionaire class, with fortunes aggregating $83,000,000. # THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMITTEES FOR MARCH 8.

Subject: Jesus the Bread of Life. John 6:22-40—Golden Text, John 6:35—Commit Verse 32, 33—Commentary.

TIME.—April, A. D. 28. PLACE. Capernaum.

EXPOSITION.—I. Seeking the Food That Perisheth. 22-34. The multitude came "seeking" Jesus. That sounds well, but it was a wrong sort of seeking and did not bring salvation. It was not really Jesus Himself that they were seeking, but the loaves and fishes. There is much of that sort of seeking still. It was not the "sign" as indicating His divine character that drew them, but simply the wonder as indicating that there would be a constant supply of bread. They did not see "in the bread the sign," but only "in the sign of the bread." Their eyes and desire were entirely fixed on "the food which perisheth." There is "food which abideth unto eternal life," and the man who seeks only "the food which perisheth" when he can have "food which abideth unto eternal life" is a fool. It is the Son of man who gives this more precious food. It is a gift and cannot be earned (cf. Ro. 5:23; Eph. 2:8). Still we are told "to work for it, vs. 28, 29." The loaves miraculously multiplied were a sign of the true bread. The result of eating the meat which abideth is that one lives forever (vs. 51, 58). The proof that the Son of man gives the food which abideth unto eternal life is that the Father, even God, had sealed Him (cf. Acts 2:22; Jno. 1:1; 3:2; 5:36; 37; 10:37, 38; Matt. 1:17). There is just one work that God requires as the condition of receiving this bread, viz.: belief on Him whom He hath sent (cf. Jno. 3:15-18; 10; 16:31; Eph. 2:8). "This is the work of God." All other things count for nothing if this is lacking. This work does not merit the true bread, but simply accepts it. Jesus' hearers demanded a sign as a condition of believing on Him. The reasonableness of this demand is apparent when one remembers the recent miracle of the loaves and fishes (vs. 10-14). The demands of modern skeptics are just as unreasonable. He Himself was the greatest of all signs (v. 26). They sought to enforce their demand by a reference to Moses and the manna. But Jesus showed them that the manna was but a type of Himself, "the (true) bread of God." The two characteristics of this bread are (1) it "cometh down out of heaven," (2) it "giveth life unto the world." Jesus' hearers did not understand what He meant, so they exclaimed, "evermore give us this bread."

II. Offering the Bread of Life, 35-40.

Jesus explained to them that He Himself was the true bread of God of which He spoke. "I am the bread of life," were His simple but wonderful words. As the bread of life He would satisfy every hunger of their hearts and every thirst as well. "Hunger" may stand for the deep longing for that which ministers strength; "thirst," the more intense desire for that which satisfies spiritual craving. Then we see that Jesus ministers never failing strength to all who come to Him and never failing peace to all who believe on Him. There is a direct shade of meaning in "coming to Him" and "believing on Him." "Coming to Him" is seeking help and blessing from Him; "believing on Him" is the absolute abandonment of self to Him. They had seen this bread (v. 26) right before their eyes, but never appreciated what it was because so taken up with the material and unreal. And men are so taken up with the material and unreal today that they neither appreciate nor believe in this true bread. But while the mass of men would not come to Jesus, some would, all that which the Father giveth Me. That which the Father hath given includes "every one that had been sent from the Father and hath learned" (v. 45). Any one can prove that he belongs to that elect and blessed company that the Father hath given to Jesus by just coming to Him. And if any one does come he will be received. Jesus says in the most positive way, "I will in no wise cast him out." If any one thinks himself too great a sinner, or not to belong to the elect, or to have sinned away the day of grace, just let him come and he has the word of Christ for it that He will receive Him. It is a wonderful reason Jesus gives for not casting him out. "For I came down from heaven, not to do Mine own will, but the will of Him who sent Me" (v. 38). Then follow the statements of the Father's gracious will. It is so different from the idea many have of God's will. This will is "of all that which He hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day." Not one then that really comes to Jesus, and thus proves he belongs to "that which the Father hath given" Jesus can ever be lost (cf. Jno. 10:28, 29; 17:12, R. V.; Col. 3:3, 4; 1 Pet. 1:3; Jude 1; 2 Ti. 1:12). It is furthermore the will of God that everyone (1) "that believeth on the Son" (R. V.), and (2) "believeth on Him" "should have eternal life." Such is the Father's will and Jesus adds, "I will raise him up at the last day."

LEADING QUESTIONS.—

In this lesson what different things do we see Jesus to be? What does He give? What does He satisfy? What is His relation to the Father? What is God the Father's will? What must we do to have every longing satisfied? How many will Jesus receive and give eternal life? What is the best lesson of the passage?

The Lay of the Lazy Man.

Breathes there a man with soul dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
"Tomorrow morning I will rise
Before the sun lights up the skies,"
"I'll set this clock so it will ring
Before the birds begin to sing,
Its strident bell will wake me aware,
And with a sigh go off to sleep."

And when at an ungodly hour
Next morn, the clock with a power
Made noise enough to stir the dead,
And awoke the man upon the bed,
Breathes there a man, I now recite,
Who wouldn't chuck it in the street,
And back into the bed then leap
And with a sigh go off to sleep.

OLD SURGEON

Found Coffee Caus'd Heads to Tingle.

The surgeon's duties require judgment and a steady hand. A or an unnecessary incision may do irreparable damage to the patient. When he found that coffee drinking caused his hands to tremble, he, surgeon conscientiously gave up and this is his story: "For years I was a coffee drinker until my nervous system was nearly broken down, my hands trembled and could hardly write, and insomnia tormented me at night."

"Besides, how could I safely perform operations with unsteady hands using knives and instruments of precision? When I saw plainly the effects of coffee, I decided to stop it, and three years ago I prepared some Postum, of which I had received some sample."

"The first cupful surprised me. It was mild, soothing, delicious, and this time I gave some Postum to a friend who was in a similar condition to mine, from the use of coffee."

"A few days after, I met him, and he was full of praise for Postum, declaring he would never return to coffee, but stick to Postum. We then ordered a full supply, and within a short time my nervousness and consequent trembling, as well as insomnia disappeared; blood circulation became normal, no dizziness nor heart-flashes."

"My friend became a Postum enthusiast, his whole family using it exclusively."

"It would be the fault of the man who brewed the Postum if it did not taste good when served."

"The best food may be spoiled if not properly made. Postum should be boiled according to directions on the pkg. Then it is all right, any one can rely on it. It ought to become the national drink." "There's a Beechey." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkg.
