Is the Greatest Mystery Story of all Time!

THE most wonderful of all photoplay serials by the world's greatest fiction writer—E. Phillips Oppenheim
Produced by the World's Greatest Director—Otis Turner
On the World's Greatest Stage at Universal City, Cal.
The most vivid portrayal of crime and its detection ever known to man.

Swift and powerful action. Breathless scenes in every one of the fifteen episodes. Each a mental shock that brings you gasping to the edge of your seat.

Wonderful acting by the immaculate Herbert Rawlinson as Sanford Quest, the greatest detective character of modern fiction.

See the charming Anna Little, as Leonora, Sanford Quest's clever assistant.

See William Worthington as Professor Ashleigh, the scientist, a man of dual personality.

See Laura Oakley as the keen woman detective, and her marvelous masculine impersonations.

See Frank MacQuarrie as Craig, the man tortured by a horrible secret.

See the wondrous marvels of science used in the detection of crime—the pocket wireless—Analdyte, which explodes in one direction only; the Photolisme (moving pictures by telephone); electric thought transference, hypnotic confessions, and all the other strange things.

See the leap from the fast express, speeding at 60 miles an hour.

See the mysterious hands that clutch the jewels from a woman's neck in a brilliantly lighted conservatory.

See the death defying leap from a tower to the top of the mile a minute freight train.

See these terrific thrillers and a thousand others besides.

You must, if you want to see the greatest moving picture serial the world has ever produced.

Set aside one night every week to—

Mrs. C. A. Wyche Entertains

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid society was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. C. A. Wyche assisted by Miss Susan Holladay. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd of ladies present and the meeting proved one of the best of the year. The house was beautifully decorated with wild crab apple blossoms.

The ladies in charge of the young peoples work reported that a Junior Endeavor has been organized and joined by about twenty little folks all very much interested in the work.

Resolutions of respect for Mrs. Henry Wood were read by Mrs. C. A. Wyche.

The ladies expressed their appreciation the help of all those who participated in the opera Powhatan given last Thursday night. The annual white sale will be held about the last week of May and everyone is much interested in preparing for it.

Delicious ice cream and cake was served by the hostesses and the society adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. W. F. Herner of Rosemary.

Honesty is the best fire insurance policy

FIRE

insurance means more than honest intentions. To live and furnish real protection a company must have resources to back up its honest intentions.

The Hartford Fire Insurance Company has lived through every great disaster that has visited this country in the past 104 years. It has met its obligations cheerfully and faithfully. It does the largest fire insurance business in America.

May we talk to you about the best policy?

BORAX A FLY PREVENTIVE

A Pound per Horse per Week Prevents Fly Breeding. Cleanliness also a Good Thing

Each spring when the anti-fly campaigns start up the State Board of Health is repeatedly called on to recommend some chemical treatment that will destroy fly larvae in manure. To find that chemical which will destroy the fly economically and at the same time preserve the fertilizing value of the manure appears to be a somewhat baffling question to scientists but one they are hopeful of solving. In fact through a long process of experimentation with different chemicals, the United States Department of Agriculture believes that it has found what may be relied on as an economical, practical and fairly effective larvicide. It is ordinary borax.

The Bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture speaking of the favorable results obtained by the use of borax says: "It possesses a marked larvicidal action and appears to exert no permanent injury on the fertilizing value of the manure."

The Bulletin reckons the cost of borax treatment, using ordinary commercial borax costing 5 to 6 cents per pound, to be one cent per horse per day, and recommends about a pound of borax to every 15 cubic feet or 12 bushels of manure immediately after its removal from the stable, or in other words, about a pound per horse per week. It further advises the sprinkling of the borax through any fine sieve over the manure especially around the outer edges if placed in a pile and that the whole be sprinkled with 3 to 5 gallons of water.

While the State Board of Health would not for a moment frown on the use of borax where borax is necessary, or where for some reason prompt removal of manure seems out of the question, but attention should be called to the danger of trying to use some larvicide to the neglect of ordinary cleanliness. In other words, beware of perfume where a bath is needed.

Where practical manure should be placed in a tight, tongued and grooved box so that the larvae cannot work their way down or cut through cracks and so that female flies cannot deposit more eggs in the manure. Such a box should be cleaned out thoroughly not less than once every five days, or better still twice a week.

"For two dollars."
"But what made you think I wanted a book?"
"Why, two dollars."
