This school will be under direct supervision of Supt. Proctor and has been organized on the same lines as the regular day school. Pupils will be expected to attend regularly and will be given reports of their work just as the day school pupils are. It is intended in this way to give enough work to prevent those children who drop out of school for a half year from losing a grade.
The instruction is in charge of two competent teachers and effective work can be done. Only the essential studies will be undertaken. Sessions begin promptly at seven in the evening and last until nine thirty. Pupils who wish to enroll will please apply at once to Supt. Proctor as classes have already begun.

Will Be Under Direct Supervision of Prof. A. M. Proctor

There are a number of children in town who are obliged to work to meet the necessary expenses of life. These children should not be deprived of an opportunity to obtain some kind of an education. For their benefit there is being organized a night school in connection with the Graded school. It is planned to hold the sessions of the night school four nights in the week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

This school will be under direct supervision of Supt. Proctor and has been organized on the same lines as the regular day school. Pupils will be expected to attend regularly and will be given reports of their work just as the day school pupils are. It is intended in this way to give enough work to prevent those children who drop out of school for a half year from losing a grade.

The instruction is in charge of two competent teachers and effective work can be done. Only the essential studies will be undertaken. Sessions begin promptly at seven in the evening and last until nine thirty. Pupils who wish to enroll will please apply at once to Supt. Proctor as classes have already begun.

As one death in three is from a preventable disease, there is evidently much that individuals can do of their own choosing to ward off diseases and prolong their life. And it is not always the big things, the most difficult, that a person can do that will count most in maintaining health, but it's the little daily habits and careless customs that count most, either for or against health. For instance:

What One Can Do To Take Care Of His Health

One can keep their fingers out of their nose and mouth and teach their children the same. When one coughs, he can always turn his head and use his handkerchief after having time to reach it. One can wash his hands before meals for his own protection and after meals for the protection of others. One can avoid close proximity with other persons who are coughing and sneezing and thus avoid a cold for himself. In short, one can practice personal cleanliness in addition to the regular soap and water cleanliness and greatly decrease his chances against diseases.

Again, the individual can at least sleep in fresh air at night and can walk in it during the day. He can keep up bodily resistance by seeing that he gets sufficient rest, exercise, and that he never poisons his body with excessive eating, drinking or smoking or by any other form of excess. Excesses are peculiarly destructive to health.

Mr. P. N. Moody, of near Roanoke Rapids, and Miss Ruth Floyd, of near Garysburg, were happily married on last Wednesday.

Mr. Moody is a very prominent and handsome farmer of this community. The bride is a very young and pretty girl of this neighborhood, we miss her very much. We hope them a happy life.

Garysburg Items

Rev. R. W. Bailey, the new Pastor of Garysburg charge filled his appointment on this charge at Shilo on the 5th Sunday morning. He gave us a very stirring and forceful sermon which was enjoyed by all.

J. H. Allen and son spent a while in the home of Mr. J. W. Grant, Tuesday night, January 3.

We were glad to have our former Pastor, Rev. M. Y. Self with us a few days last week. He was on his way to his new field at Tarboro.

W. H. Allen called on Miss Daisy Collier Tuesday, January 2.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen spent Saturday in the home of her cousin, Mrs. James Collier.

Mrs. L. P. Brady, of Barley, spent Christmas week with her father, Mr. P. K. Garner and sister, Mrs. L. P. Woodruff.

B. B. Woodruff called on Miss Nita Turner, Tuesday night, January 2.

The Christmas trees at Shilo and Lebanon, we are glad to say were a success and were enjoyed by all who attended them.

There was a candy cracking at Miss Lizzie Camp's on last Saturday night, which was attended by a large crowd of friends and was enjoyed by all. We hope there will be another soon.

Rev. C. H. Trueblood gave us a soul stirring sermon on "New Year's Resolution" last Sunday.

W. H. Allen spent Saturday night with his brother Mr. T. J. Allen, of Vulture.

W. H. Camp Jr. and J. P. Allen spent a while in the pleasant home of Mrs. Mollie Harris, of Jetts, Sunday night.

Mrs. J. N. Seaborn, of Pleasant Hill, spent Sunday night in the home of Mrs. J. M. Floyd.

J. H. Allen and son, Johnnie spent a while in the business town of Roanoke Rapids, Saturday.

We are sorry to state that Mrs. L. A. Jordan is on the sick list. We hope she will be well again soon.

Baptist Church Every-Member-Canvass

The annual every member canvass of the Baptist Church will take place Sunday afternoon from two to five o'clock. The details of the Canvass are about completed, and the large committee of forty-two are hopeful for cheerful and ready responses. All who have been giving on the weekly basis, during the last year, have found it easier and more satisfactory in every way to make their offering weekly.

Every member of the church is urgently requested to be present next Sunday morning. A special consecration service will be held. The committee will occupy the front seats. At 1:30 o'clock the committee will reassemble at the church for special prayers, and then go out to visit the membership. On account of this canvass the monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society will be postponed one week. The Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. are also called off for this Sunday.

Miss Bessie Jones, of Bowling Green, Va., is visiting Miss Annie Medlin.

Jack Matthews has resigned his position with the S. A. L. Railroad Co., and has accepted a position with Hamill & Wood.

CORNER STONE LAID SUNDAY

Bishop Cheshire to Officiate at Corner Stone Exercises of New Episcopal Church at Corner of Seventh Street and Roanoke Avenue

With exercises appropriate to the importance of the occasion the corner stone of the handsome new building being erected by All Saints Mission will be laid on next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Right Reverend Joseph Blount Cheshire, of Raleigh, will officiate, and the public generally will be welcome at the services. The new church building, which has been designed by one of America's most prominent architects, when completed will be one of the community's most attractive churches. The church will seat about two hundred people, and in addition to the auditorium proper will have a large basement room for Sunday School classes.

LECTURE ON HAWAII FOR ARMENIAN AID

At Central Schools Auditorium, Next Monday Evening, January 15.

Dr. H. E. Kelsey, of Kilo, Hawaii will give a lecture on Hawaii, the paradise of the Pacific, at the Graded School Auditorium on next Monday night, January 15. This lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views of the island and will be both amusing and instructive.

The proceeds from Mr. Kelsey's lecture will be remitted by a local treasurer, less expenses, to the American Committee for Armenian Relief, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Of all the peoples in horrible suffering because of the war, the surviving Armenians—mostly women and children—seem most in need of help, and those who hear Mr. Kelsey's lecture may feel sure of helping a most worthy cause.

J. A. Blackman

Mr. J. A. Blackman, a former resident of Rosemary for many years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Manie Merritt, in Petersburg, on last Monday morning, January 8.

NAN of MUSIC MOUNTAIN
By FRANK H. SPEARMAN
Author of "Whispering Smith"

HOW would you like the job of cleaning out a gang of desperate outlaws who long had terrorized the country surrounding their mountain home?

That is the job assigned to Henry de Spain, young, good looking, a crack shot and who knows no fear. He accepts the task and meets Nan, a high-spirited niece of the leader of the band.

There are many thrilling adventures in the war that follows—hand-to-hand combats, pursuits, captures and escapes through all of which is interwoven his growing love for the mountain lass.

Here is a story as interesting and absorbing as any you have read in a long time. It is our new serial and we want you to be on the lookout for the first installment. You will miss a big treat if you don't read it.
