

King Edward's Little Needs.

Many interesting reminiscences of famous people are given by Mr. F. Townsend Martin in "Things I Remember."

Referring to the late King Edward the author says:

"Lady Burton once told me an amusing incident which occurred when the late King Edward stayed at Glenquoich."

"I hope, sir, that you have found everything to your liking," she said to the royal visitor.

"Yes, answered the king; but if I may make a suggestion, one little thing would add greatly to the comfort of your guests."

"Oh, sir, what can that be?" "Well, Lady Burton," said his majesty, "the one thing needed is a hook on the bathroom door."

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disagreeable and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. # BOY SCOUTS

ENGLISH SCOUTS GREET US

Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell has written to Mr. Colin H. Livingstone, president of the Boy Scouts of America, stating that America's entry into the war has increased the already existing strong brotherly feeling between the English and American scouts.

The English chief scout in his letter from London also tells something of the work done for their country by English Boy Scouts, as follows:

"On the great historical step taken by the United States in coming into the war I feel that I must send you one word of greeting from the Boy Scouts' point of view.

"We have done war work over here in various forms behind the scenes, not necessarily involving the taking up of arms by boys under the age for military service, but by acting as watchmen over railway bridges, telegraph and cable lines, reservoirs, power works, etc., the work have done valuable national service.

"Also they have performed the duties of orderlies in large numbers for the war office, admiralty, government and other offices and have carried out the coast-watching service ever since the first outbreak of war. They have also supplied trained signallers and ambulance men where required.

"I feel sure that with the training they have received the Boy Scouts of America are in a position to do very valuable service for their country behind the scenes in the present crisis."

SCOUTS' FIRST WAR SERVICE.

Members of the Boy Scouts of America gave a practical demonstration of the services which they can render in an emergency when the disaster at the Edlystone Munition company's works occurred. More than 120 lives were lost in this explosion and several hundred people were injured.

Word was sent to schools in nearby towns requesting the services of scouts. All members were immediately released from school duties and hurried to Edlystone and to Chester, where they did splendid work assisting in first aid, acting as guards and doing various sorts of patrol duty.

Their assistance was so invaluable during this trying period that many of them were held for three days. They also came to the rescue of the Western Union Telegraph company, which was flooded with telegrams from anxious relatives of munition workers.

TAKE DOWN YOUR WIRELESS.

Here's another opportunity for boys to demonstrate their loyalty and their scouting ability. In accordance with an order issued by the president of the United States, it is illegal for any persons not authorized government officials to operate a wireless plant or to have one in such condition as to be capable of operation. This applies to receiving as well as to transmitting stations.

Every scout should dismantle his apparatus immediately. This means the taking down of the antenna wire, and the disconnecting and packing of the instruments.

Scouts should not only dismantle their own apparatus, but report to the local police department any stations aside from those they know to be government stations which are in operation.

SCOUTS AID FIREMEN.

The fire departments in many cities are beginning to recognize the value of the assistance which trained Boy Scouts can give. Under the direction of Robert J. Charles the Boy Scouts of Knoxville, Tenn., are being trained to assist the fire department of that city. Whenever a fire is reported the scout commissioner is notified, and he in turn notifies the scouts in the city through the officers of the various district commissions. This is part of the plan devised by Mr. Charles for the mobilization of Boy Scouts in time of fire or other disaster.

SCOUT KNOWS HIS CITY.

A scout knows his city as well as he knows the trails in the forest. He can guide a stranger wherever he desires to go, and his knowledge of short cuts saves him many needless steps. He knows where the police stations are located, where the fire-alarm boxes are placed, where the nearest doctor lives, where the hospitals are, and which is the quickest way to reach them. He knows the names of the city officials and the nature of their duties. A scout is proud of his city and freely offers his services when he can help.

CIVIC GOOD TURNS.

The civic good turns of scouts are adding very considerably to the comfort and wellbeing of the communities in which they live. Recently the Boy Scouts of Alameda, Cal., cleaned the beaches on the south side of their city for a distance of several miles. Under the direction of their scoutmasters the boys of seven troops separated into groups and cleared the stretch of sand. Following the cleanup, they held a scout rally and made a big bonfire of the rubbish they had gathered.

South Africa's Gold Product.

The output of gold in the Transvaal during 1916 has been valued at $197,423,500. This constitutes an increase of $4,287,540 on the output for 1915, and is the highest year's return in the history of the Transvaal. The previous record was the 1912 production, which, however, has been beaten by the 1916 output by over three-quarters of a million. The 1916 output represents approximately 40 per cent of the world's output. South Africa has now, since the first discovery of gold in that country, contributed $2,575,000,000.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. E. FITZGERALD, D. D., Teacher of Hebrew Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 5.

MANASSEH'S SIN AND REPENTANCE.

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 33:1-9. GOLDEN TEXT—Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.—Isaiah 55:7.

The reign of Manasseh was the longest of any of the kings of Judah. It is strange that a wicked king should have the distinction of the longest reign. This can be accounted for, perhaps, by the fact that the nation was in such a state that their idolatrous corruption needed to go to its fullest development. It seems to be necessary in a world of free beings, that their actions must go to a certain stage of development. It was so with the inhabitants of Canaan before that land was possessed by Israel. Israel was kept in Egypt until the iniquity of that nation was full. In this case doubtless the Lord permitted this to go on until the idolatrous practices would become extremely obstinate.

Another reason why this is done is to show God's long forbearance. He is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance (II Peter 3:9). And finally, we can account for it on the ground that God permits these things to go on long in order to vindicate his justice when he judges. He does not strike in judgment until all hope of repentance is past.

1. Manasseh's Sin (vv. 1-9). Though he had the example of a good father, he with passionate endeavor gave himself up to the imitation of the heathen about him. This shows that grace is not inherited; a good father may have a bad son. It also teaches us that it is absolutely necessary to bring the grace of God into vital touch with our children, for that grace is absolutely essential to their salvation. Only his grace can counteract the downward pull of sin.

2. He restored the high places which had been destroyed by his father (v. 8). It is thus seen that he sought to undo the good work done by his father.

3. He erected altars to Baal (v. 8). The idols worshipped on these altars seem to have been images of leucous appearance, provoking the indulgence of the human passion. Therefore, with this worship was coupled the grossest licentiousness.

4. He introduced the star worship of the Chaldeans and Assyrians (v. 8). He even erected these altars in the house of the Lord, placing them on a level with God himself.

5. He set up Moloch in the Vale of Hinnon (v. 6). He not only encouraged this worship on the part of others, but he even caused his own children to pass through the fire.

6. He practiced magic, witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit (v. 6). So gross were these practices that they did even worse than the heathen whom God had destroyed before the Children of Israel came into the land. It seems to be true always that those who profess to worship God turn away from him, they indulge in sin in excess of the unbelievers.

7. He rejected the Lord's testimony (v. 10). Doubtless the prophets had again and again admonished him, but he seems to have turned entirely aside from such remonstrances.

8. Manasseh's Chastisement (vv. 11-13). The Lord in grace used the Assyrians to chastise Manasseh, so as to bring him to see his evil ways. He was captured, perhaps while hiding among the thicket of thorns (v. 11), bound in chains and carried to Babylon. This was most humiliating. His hands were manacled, his ankles fastened together with rings and a bar.

9. Manasseh's Repentance (vv. 12, 13). Fortunately, the chastisement had its desired effect. Manasseh brought to his senses and turned from his evil ways. The steps in his repentance are as follows:

1. Affliction (v. 12). This was most severe. Bound with chains and dragged to Babylon. While this was severe, it was light in comparison with the sin which provoked it. Many today are groaning under the weight of God's chastisement who have not yet come to realize that the weight is light compared with the offense. Affliction is God's love token (Heb. 12:6). Its primary design is to bring men back to God.

2. Supplication (v. 12). Manasseh had the good sense to cry out to God in this condition. It is the unmistakable evidence that God's chastisement is accomplishing its purpose. We are instructed in James 5:13 in time of affliction to pray.

3. Humility (v. 12). This is a common characteristic of penitent souls. Those who come under the hand of God always recognize it in their humble walk.

4. Forgiveness (v. 13). As soon as God sees the signs of penitence, he turns in mercy to the penitent and grants absolution for sin. No one needs to wait long to receive his forgiveness.

5. His kingdom restored (v. 13). Manasseh not only was forgiven, but he was actually restored to his kingdom. Those who truly repent, God will not only forgive, but he will restore (Ps. 32:3-5).

6. Apprehension of God (v. 13). Through this experience Manasseh came to know God. He not only came to know God as the Jealous God, the One who will not tolerate a rival, but he came to know him as a God of mercy. He came to know him in a new way. Happy are those who submit to the chastisement of God, who opens their hearts to receive the new revelation of himself, even though it be through the hand of chastisement.

TIMES CHANGED IN KOREA

Government Which Twenty Years Ago Was Afraid of New Methods Now Welcomes American Ideas.

Twenty years ago the old Korean government was so afraid of new ideas that a Korean student in the Methodist Episcopal School for Boys in Seoul was arrested and put into prison. What was the heinous charge? Simply that he had formed a literary society that discussed matters of general interest.

But times have changed and Korea now appreciates American ideas, says the World Outlook. The imprisoned boy, named Cynn, came to America to study and later became the efficient principal of his old boys' school in Seoul. And how the boys discuss current events nowadays! Mr. Cynn has since then distinguished himself in a general conference by a speech notable for its thought and its English. He is just one of the many Korean youths who have tested Uncle Sam's tree of knowledge and found it good.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands. Adv.

He'd Blow the Whistle.

"Suppose," read Capt. John J. Tofey, Jr., instructor of the Sixth company of the Ninth division, at Ft. Harrison, from "Small Problems of Infantry," "that your advance guard had been surrounded; that you knew the approximate location of the enemy and his number, but his position was strongly held, and darkness was coming on. What would you do?"

"I'd let it be known that I was a union man, and then I'd blow the whistle and go to supper," volunteered one fellow. And then, when he was "blawed out" for his flippancy, he had another answer just as good and much more apropos ready.—Indianapolis News.

Let Us Weep.

Father was stern-looking and a frown gathered somewhere round his mouth and advanced all along the western front until it was barred by a line of trenches on his forehead.

"My lad," said father grimly, "Mrs. Smith, from next door, tells me that four of her windows are broken. She says you were there when you did it, or whether the culprit is her son. Now, then, did you do it or not?"

The shade of George Washington got into the room, somehow, regardless of the enemy aliens act, and William answered:

"Father, I did it. I cannot lie."

"No," said father, as he tucked up his sleeve, with ghastly delight, "and you won't be able to sit either by the time I'm done with you."—London Ideas.

Intelligent Alarm Clock.

An alarm clock awakened a lady in Philadelphia just in time to allow her to escape from a burning building. She had set the clock as usual at five o'clock, but that morning it failed to ring. During the afternoon she lay down for a nap on the divan. At five o'clock the alarm clock started its racket twelve hours late. She awoke to find the house full of smoke and flames creeping up the stairway. She was aroused just in time to escape to the street. "That clock has been my pal for years," said she. "I never knew it to miss its regular morning alarm before. It must have known something."
