NOTICE OF THANKS AND APPRECIATION

To all who so nobly and generously came to our assistance, rendering aid in the time of need, thereby saving our residences from the flames that destroyed our barn, we feel deeply grateful, and take this method of expressing our heart felt appreciation for their timely assistance.

THE FIGHTER has no time to count the cost as he jumps into the unknown, as he springs to success or eternity.

ROGERS—BASS

A wedding of great interest occurred this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rogers, on Glorie avenue when their daughter, Majorie became the bride of Mr. William C. Bass, of Rosemary.

The lower floor of the home was beautifully, though simply decorated with palms, ferns and white roses. Cathedral candles were artistically arranged on the improvised altar in the parlor where the vows were taken. Only relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple were present. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Walter Whitted accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Spence sang "Thou Art So Like a Flower." Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mrs. Spence.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. J. D. Rogers, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a fawn colored suit accessories to match and carrying a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. M. North pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church. Miss Uldine Rogers little sister of the bride, carried the ring in the heart of a pink rose. She wore dainty white net and pink ribbons. Miss Adelle Rogers, another sister, acted as maid of honor, wearing a pretty white frock and an arm bouquet of pink killarney roses. Mr. J. U. Loftin, of Rosemary, was Mr. Bass' best man and only attendant.

During the morning Mr. Bass and bride left for Washington, D. C. and other points north for an extended honeymoon. Afterwards they will go to Rosemary to make their home.

Mr. Bass is one of Durham's prettiest young women. She is unusually talented, is a graduate of the Durham High School, the Durham Business School and studied at the Durham School of Music. Mrs. Bass is a lovely character, and is most highly thought of by all who know her.

Mr. Bass will be remembered here as a student of Trinity Park School. He is a graduate of Oak Ridge. Mr. Bass is a promising young business man and holds a government position in Rosemary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass received many handsome gifts. Their friends here are wishing them happiness.

The above taken from the Durham Sun, will come as surprise to many of Mr. Bass' numerous friends in Rosemary and Roanoke Rapids. Mrs. Bass will be remembered as the charming guest of Miss Alice Hockaday last summer. Mr. Bass has been a resident of Roanoke Rapids and Rosemary for many years and has a wide circle of friends who wish him and Mrs. Bass a long and happy life and anticipate with pleasure their return to make their home in our community.

NOTICE TO BUILDERS

The Government's Imperative need of materials and labor requires that practically all new construction work which cannot be classed as a direct or indirect war necessary be deferred until we have won the war.

To make this policy effective, the following plan has been arranged by the War Industries Board. The rule does not apply to repairs or extension of existing buildings where the aggregate cost is not over $2500.00, nor to certain classes of war work building, but otherwise the procedure is as follows:

- (1) The person concerned must present to the County Council of Defense a sworn statement of the facts.
- (2) The County Council's recommendation is sent, together with the original application, to the State Council of Defense.
- (3) The State Council reviews the case, and reports unfavorably to the applicant or favorably to the War Industries Board, which either issues or withholds the permit and notifies the applicant.

No building will be done in the County by anyone unless these instructions are strictly followed and permit therefore is issued.

R. C. Dnnn, Chairman Council of Defense of Halifax County.

NOTICE

Your fourth and last installment of your Red Cross pledge will be due October 1st. Please send checks to Mrs. W. F. Horner, Rosemary; Rev. Lewis N.

Dear Sister:

Wonder how you are all getting along these days? Well I hope. I'm feeling pretty well this morn. Have you heard from me yet? I have not heard from any one yet, you know the mail and everything is so heavy now we must expect delay.

This and England are interesting countries, and I have seen many old things of which I have read about but never thought I would see, and I can also better understand the colera as described in "Wandering Jew". Every thing here looks old and the building we are in is - I think at least 200 years old. Tell if she ever has an opportunity to visit England she will be glad she studied Latin. I was sorry I had forgotten what little I knew. For all the inscriptions in those old buildings are Latin. I saw what was supposed to have been "King Arthur's Round Table", and now I'm wishing I could speak French as it is embarrassing to have to be a dummy and that is what we all are here.

However, there no doubt about our welcome among the French, they are glad to see us and, you very often see the boys gathered around a Frenchman who is trying to tell them something or teach them a few words of French. I wish I had an English French Grammar, I guess I could learn a few expressions.

Have you had much fruit this summer? It has not seemed like summer to me and it must not be here as blackberries are not ripe here yet. The days are warm - it is cool today - but the nights are cold. Give my best wishes to all and write often, but don't worry if you don't hear from me often.

With love and best wishes from,
Peter

CANNING CLUB MAKES SPLENDID EXHIBIT HERE

To Be Exhibited at Four Fairs in the Near Future

A canning exhibit of unusual interest is now being displayed in the Roanoke Pharmacy. The exhibit, the best ever made here and probably as good as any ever shown in the State, is a fair sample of the tremendous output or "put up" of the Roanoke Mills Canning Club, which is directed by Miss Jennie Whitaker, Home Demonstration Agent of the above mentioned company.

In viewing this exhibit one cannot help being very favorably impressed by the activities of this club, whose work so far this year has amounted to 9800 quarts in tin and 2500 in glass, these figures represent vegetables and fruit only and do not take into consideration jellies, etc. Every fruit and vegetable grown in the community is among the products canned.

Every housewife in the company's village, besides forty-eight girls and boys of the community are members of this club, and it is needless to say that each of them are proud of this exhibit, which on Saturday will be taken to the Rocky Mount Fair and placed on exhibit by Mrs. J. M. Jackson and Miss Whitaker. The exhibit will also be carried to Tarboro, Halifax and...
