LITTLETON COLLEGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

One of the most disastrous fires in this section of the State for some time past occurred early Tuesday morning at Littleton when the Littleton College was completely destroyed. It is thought that the fire originated in the dining room of a four story dormitory and spread so swiftly that very few of the 150 girl students had time to save any of their personal effects.

Two Roanoke Rapids girls, Misses Viola King and Mary Langston, being among those losing their trunks and clothing, saving only the clothing they wore the afternoon previous.

The property was valued at some fifty or sixty thousand dollars with $3,000 insurance.

29TH DIVISION IS COMMENDED

American E. F. A. P. O. 765, Nov. 6, 1918.

Dearest Sister: Just a few lines this A. M. I am sending you a copy of a document given each individual soldier by our General for work done on the front. You may have this typewritten if you choose. The original I have sent to another party. I am in the best of health and we are having fine weather in France. When you receive this it will be my birthday. I hope before I have another one I will be in U. S.

Give my love to all and answer soon. I remain always yours, Pvt. Paul W. King.

General Orders Headquarters 29 Division No. 59 American E. F. Nov. 1, 1918.

Now that its part in the action North of Verdun is finished, the Division Commander wishes to take occasion to express his deep appreciation of the skill, endurance and courage shown by the officers and men of the Division including both staff and line in the most difficult and prolonged fight. Everything was prepared to our success. We had the determined enemy in our front and one skilled by four years of warfare, whereas, this was the first real fight of our Division. Most days the weather was bad and the ground difficult added to the facts that the fight was largely in woods. On account of woods, ravines and dampness. Gassing of our troops was easily accomplished and full advantage was taken by the enemy, of which gas was the old story without exception. The organizations of the Division and their Commanders responded heroically to every call upon them and at the end of the fight we had not only gained our objectives, but we held them and turned them over to our successors. We advanced some eight kilometers through the enemy's trenches and captured over 2,100 prisoners, 7 cannon, about 200 machine guns and a large quantity of miscellaneous military property. We had the pleasure of seeing two hostile enemy divisions withdrawn, one of which was composed of some of the best troops in the German Army. On many occasions captured prisoners stated that our attack was so rapid and our fire so effective that they were overwhelmed and had nothing to do but retire or surrender. In this summing up the results of the first, the Division Commander feels that every officer and man participating, whether in planning or in executing should feel a just pride in what has been accomplished. This is but repeating the praise that has been bestowed upon the Division by both American and French superior Commanders.

By Command of Major General Moyton.

S. H. Clowmans, Colonel of Infantry, Chief of Staff.

Official: Harry Cooks, Adjutant General.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY HONORED FOR BRAVERY

Brooklyn Man is Awarded Croix de Guerre by Commander of Polish Forces

Paris, Dec. 11.—"For heroic and untiring work for the soldiers while under fire," Stanley Modra, of 2123 Ca. avenue, Brooklyn, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, has just received the Croix de Guerre from General Haller, commander-in-chief of the Polish army, and has been mentioned in the official citations. He is the third Y. M. C. A. man thus honored for conspicuous bravery.

Modra has been with the Polish forces continuously since his arrival in France five months ago, and has given many notable exhibitions of gallantry and fidelity to duty. During the last days of the hostilities he served with the First division in the Vosges, in charge of a hut in a narrow valley between the first and second line trenches. From this hut he made trips after trip, carrying supplies to the men at the most advanced posts, and was under fire repeatedly.

When the fighting was at its heaviest Modra and the men associated with him in Y work continued their ministrations to the soldiers, serving cocones, cakes, when the men were in position to receive them, and cigarettes. This service contributed much to the high morale of the troops and won not only the praise of the officers but the lasting gratitude of the men.

CAPT. BAIN WRITES MRS. ANDREWS

France, December 19, 1918. My dear Mrs. Andrews:

Your appreciated letter received. I know that your beloved companion had paid the great sacrifice. A fine boy. So many had to do, and it was only a very slim chance that any of us got out. Robert was still in my Company, in fact he was in my headquarters. It takes the bravest and best men for Company headquarters, and I regret to say that practically all of them paid the price of freedom. The battle which he was killed in I was not in, and only got to my boys the day after it was all over. I can't tell you any particulars, only that he died fighting and doing his duty. You are a noble woman to look at it as you do. God bless and keep you.

Now I appreciate your writing to me, and I want you to call on me any time and I will always do my best for you.

Wishing you the very best of good futures, and assuring you of my deepest sympathy in your bereavement, I am

Sincerely
Capt. Edgar H. Bain.
