ARTHURIA WAITS IN VAIN

Said That Husband "Would-Be" Saw 150-Pound Lady First and That Ended Romance.

Albany, N.Y.—Somewhere in New York State Robert Walters, a gay Lothario, was being sought by his beloved Arthuria, whom he waits to meet in Albany to marry. Poor Arthuria, of Aransas, Texas, arrived in Albany to meet her husband "would-be" only to find that she was stranded, after waiting many hours for him to appear.

Arthuria told Commissioner Alvin C. Quenell of the department of charities that she became acquainted with Walters through a Boston matrimonial agency and that they had been corresponding for a number of months. The romance terminated when she came to Albany to meet and marry Walters.

Arthuria only weighs about 250-odd pounds, and arrived in Albany with a large trunk containing her wedding trousseau. What Arthuria would like to know is why her beloved Bob failed to know it is why her beloved Bob failed to meet her. From an authentic source comes the news that he saw her first. Meanwhile Arthuria is in Lowell, Mass., waiting to hear from "the only man in the world."

Commissioner Quenell said "Waiting at the Church."

Tells a Sad Truth
He—You're one of the kind of women who believe they never did anything foolish in their lives.
She—I couldn't believe that. Didn't I marry you?

THE REPORT OF THE SPIES

After the Israelites had crossed the Jordan River, they were encamped near Gilgal. They sent twelve men to spy out the land before them. They were to bring back a report concerning the strength of the land, whether it was good or bad, if there was water enough for them to drink, and if the people were strong or weak, and if they could easily conquer them.
