WHEN AIRPLANE WAS NOVELTY

In 1910 Newspapers Considered Ordinary Flights as Something Worthy of "Splurge" Headlines.

Nine years ago who would have dreamed of an NC-4 flying easily from Rockaway to Halifax, from Halifax to Trepassay, from there to the Azores and on to Lisbon, and thence to Plymouth? Or of Hawker and Grievé, the indomitable ones, jumping off at St. John's in a land machine with an ocean between them and the Irish coast, whether they were bound? Or of Alcock and Brown who won after Hawker and Grievé had failed? Or of a dirigible, large as the ocean liner Adriatic, with five gondolas and a crew of 30 men, sailing swiftly through the fog, most of the time seeing nothing else, from England to a landing field in Minnesota?

On July 7, 1910, a New York newspaper published the latest "ocean flight" news with a three-column head: "Curless in Great Ocean Flight, Soars 1800 Feet Above Waves."

"Remains Aloft More Than 12 Minutes, Circles Atlantic City's Throats." The story goes on to describe the flight:

"Steady as a sea gull, the great yellow biplane flew over the sea, 1,800 feet above the waves and a mile out from the shore, remaining aloft for 12 minutes and 18 seconds." It tells how Curless almost wrecked the plane at the start in a dash through a breaker. The accident forced him to descend after he had covered 1,300 feet.

"Sending for new propeller blades," the account says, "Mr. Curless superintended their adjustment, and after a single test he forgot the accident and daringly reascended. This display of confidence and courage brought a cheer from the multitude."—New York Evening Post.

Admonishing Them.

"Looky here, now!" sternly said Constable Sam T. Stackpitter, the redoubtable sleuth of Petunia. "This diabolical practice of matching pennies on the sidewalk has got to stop! Why, dot-blast it, every few days when I come along walking my beat, with my head high like an officer of the law out to carry his'n, I fall over a bunch of you infernal young cusses and get my uniform all dusty!"—Kansas City Star.

Ain't It the Truth?

Mr. Skepp (with newspaper)—Says here that the man who threw the bomb at the premier of Egypt is a divinity student.

Mrs. Skepp—Oh, you're always digging up something like that because I insist on dragging you to church now and then!—Buffalo Express.

Beginning January 15 And Lasting For 10 Days Only

OUR ANNUAL After Inventory Sale

Will be held. Not a radical affair at all - but 10 Days of real economy in buying for the people of this community and Halifax and Northampton Counties. It is impossible for us to mention the many genuine reductions in prices here, but below we give some PERTINENT FACTS regarding this sale, which are short and to the point.

It is time to buy shoes for the whole family and even if you don't need them. We have several pair in odd sizes that you can not afford not to buy.

Walk-Over shoes for Men and Ladies in good style at attractive prices.

Complete line of work shoes at before the war prices.

Childrens school and dress shoes in a full range of prices.

Now is the time for men to buy a good suit of clothes and bank the difference.

We can save you some money on a suit for your boy as we are overstocked.

Our line of Ladies Suits, Coats and Dresses must go during this sale at less than to days wholesale cost.

Just received a new stock of mens hats that will be in style for the Spring at to-days prices.

Best line of mens and boys caps in town at special prices

We are selling our Mens, Ladies and Childrens hosiery at less than wholesale price. Now is the time.

Best quality of overalls and work shirts at "low price cotton" prices.

Underwear for the whole family under to-days prices.

We bought our dress goods several months ago when prices were lowest and are giving you the advantage. See them.

Everything in our Dress Goods Department will be sold at a reduction in order to make room for the remodeling of our store and for Spring goods which will begin to arrive soon.

We are not mentioning any prices on this circular as the best way to be convinced is to see the goods and hear the price at the same time.

Our last years business far exceeded our expectations and we want to thank the public for their hearty support.

Remember the money saving opportunity lasts 10 Days Only - Beginning January 15.
