A wild shout rang down from the floor. It was caught up and echoed from side to side. Rising with hysterical force, the sound grow and grew, a formless, toneless thing that had in it something that stirred the blood and pulled at the emotions. Deiegates leaped on their chairs, waving and shouting. They stampeded into the aisles, jostling and cheering in a packed mass before the platform.

Over in the Virginia section a delegate ripped the standard from the loop and charged toward the speaker's stand waving it high in the air. Other states followed. Some of them were slower to get in motion, but as the shouting and tumult continued, standard after standard came up and the march around the hall began. In the New York section, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt seized the standard and rushed into the crowded alsle battling with others who sought with eager hands to uphold the sign.
