EVANGELIST McLENDON IN ROSEMARY

Evangelist B. F. McLendon, known as "Cyclone Mack", will begin an evangelistic campaign in Rosemary July the 11th.

A tent, with 4,000 seating capacity, is now being set up on the corner of Roanoke Avenue and 10th Street. A large platform in the rear for the speaker and the rest is absolutely seats.

The campaign will be opened Sunday P. M. at 4 o'clock by Mrs. C. L. Steidler, lady assistant to Mr. McLendon.

There will also be services at 8 P. M. Evangelist McLendon will reach Rosemary Monday the 12th to take full charge of the campaign.

At present the McLendon party is composed of the Evangelist, himself, Mrs. Steidler, Bible teacher and personal worker's instructor; Prof. Canoll, choir director, and Mrs. Carroll, pianist; "Fred" R. Seibert, personal worker and tent manager, and Mrs. Seibert, assistant pianist.

It is the desire of the writer, as well as of Mr. McLendon, that this shall be a union meeting so far as possible, reaching and benefiting the entire community of Rosemary and Roanoke Rapids, also the adjoining communities.

We therefore, solicit the cooperation of all the pastors and churches of the community.

It is the purpose of Mr. Canoll to organize a choir of several hundred voices early in the campaign. The music will be a special feature. Accordingly we invite those who sing in the Church choir to volunteer their assistance.

Service will be held each day at four and eight o'clock P. M. Chas. M. Lance.

MISS HOCKADAY ENTERTAINS

Miss Alice Hockaday entertained the members of the Methodist Choir and a few friends on last Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Many beautiful vocal selections were rendered by Miss Alice Hockaday, accompanied by Miss Julia Thompson.

A musical contest was entered into by all present, Miss Julia Thompson winning the prize, which was a box of candy.

Delightful refreshments were served by Misses Alice Hockaday, Ethel Leatherwood and Lena Rivers Jones consisting of sandwiches and ice tea.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. C. Few, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Price, Misses Sula Williams, Susie Humphreys, Vivian Edmonds, Julia Thompson, Lena Rivers Jones, and Ethel Leatherwood.

COMBINED BANDS RENDER DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

The concert rendered last Sunday afternoon by the bands of Rosemary and Roanoke Rapids was indeed creditable and was enjoyed by hundreds of people of the community and neighboring towns and country.

The members appeared for the first time in their summer uniforms.

A visitor from a nearby town told the writer this week that had he not have known different he would have thought we imported a big city band for the occasion.

A. & E. ALUMNI TO ORGANIZE

All former students of North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, now living in Halifax county, have been requested to meet in the Masonic Hall, Weldon, at 8 P. M. Friday, July 9th for the purpose of forming a local unit for the General Alumni Association.

Mr. T. H. Stafford, Alumni Secretary, will be present to assist in the organization.

ETHEL MAY CONNOR

Ethel May Connor, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Connor died at the home of her parents on Four Hundred Street Thursday after a brief illness. The body was taken to Brunswick County, Virginia, for burial.

FREE BRIDGE BY SEPTEMBER 1, 1920

Commissioners of Halifax and Northampton Counties and Roanoke Rapids to Buy from Bridge Co.

$2,000 FOR CONSTITUTION HOUSE

The Board of Commissioners of both Halifax and Northampton Counties have ordered the bridge at Roanoke Rapids to be purchased. Halifax County paying $20,000 Northampton County $10,000 and Roanoke Rapids $5,000. We understand that Roanoke Mills Company will give the town its $5,000.

Roanoke Rapids people have been working for a free bridge for quite a long time and much credit is due those who worked so faithfully to put the proposition through.

The bridge will be turned over to the county authorities sometime between August 1st and September 1st.

The Halifax Commissioners also voted to give $2,000 to be used with a like amount given by the state to restore the old Constitution House at Halifax. Mrs. Job Taylor and Mrs. Travis appeared before the board in behalf of the organization which will restore the same.

Everybody who attended the barbecue the other afternoon will always remember that "cornfield hash" or alias Baird's Brunswick Stew. If medals were given for cooking that food Baird would cop the whole iron factory.

A little excitement occurred the other afternoon when the fire department rushed out with the hose to put liquid on the Avenue which was burning to a frizzle until dust was swooping into the windows and doors of all the houses along the streets. That should be a reminder that while the streets of Roanoke Rapids are going to be dusty all the summer that the said Roanoke Rapids should have a sprinkler. It will not only save trouble with dust but also will prevent the spreading of sickness. Some official should get this idea and put it through.

ROANOKE RAPIDS-ROSEMARY WIN

In a game featured with pep, a crowd of 250, and an ideal afternoon the home team gave the Henderson nine a good drubbing to the tune of 6-2 on the Rosemary field Saturday. Although the teams were composed of fat and lean players yet that did not handicap the locals winning.

The first frame opened pretty bad for the locals when Ole man Pace began to toss 'em over as if the Henderson boys had just arrived from the kindergarden and before Big Man Welch waved him from the box the visitors had netted two runs brought about by two hits, errors by Nantz and Williams and a wild pitch. Dunham then relieved Pace and that was the undoing of the Henderson lads. Roanoke Rapids-Rosemary scored one in the first after two were down by an error, stolen base and hit by Wheeler.

From the time that Dunham entered the box until the last inning he was the whole show and not until the ninth did a single man touch him for a safety. He fanned eleven men in the eight innings that he worked.

Neither team scored again until the fifth when Rosemary-Roanoke Rapids jumped on Forsythe's offerings and scored three runs which put the game on ice. At this period of the game Forsythe was relieved by Denon, but in the sixth the locals pounded him for two more runs, after this frame both teams settled down and neither team scored. But one hit was recorded on either side and that one by the Henderson delegation. The game was featured by the pitching of Dunham who held the visitors in the hollow of his hand with his underhand benders. Blake, the Henderson third baseman was the only man to connect with him. He seemed as strong in the ninth as he was in the second. He hit out two singles and a double at four trips to the plate.

The game was played fast all the route and would have been faultless but for the interference of two or three outsiders who took it upon themselves to trouble the players and pull off side line stunts.

Score:
Henderson, 200 000 000
Rosemary-Roanoke Rapids, 100 003 200.

Batteries: Pace, Dunham and Gardner; Forsythe
