COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY ENDORSES HEALTH WORK

Summing up the estimates mentioned we have the equivalent of more than $13,784 in benefit to the people of the county at the small and total cost to the county of $4848.46. The work done by the Red Cross Nurses has not been included in any part of this report. On account of the general misunderstanding of the amount of expenditures for health work and especially for the salary of the health officer it is given in detail below. The budget plan with the state is as follows:

Salary Health Officer, 1920 2700, 1921 3000; Travel Health Officer, 1920 600, 1921 600; Salary Office Assistant, 1920 600, 1921 600; Contingent Fund, 1920 900, 1921 900; Sanitary Inspector Salary and Travel, 1920 1800, 1921 1800; Nurse Salary and Travel, 1920 2100, 1921 2100; Total, 1920 8700, 1921 9000. Participating agencies in above: County, 1920 4600, 1921 4900; State, 1920 1000, 1921 1000; International Health Board, 1920 1000, 1921 1000; Red Cross, 1920 2100, 1921 2100

Automobiles were furnished by the health officer and sanitary inspector. The health officer's car has been traded for a new one for use in 1921 and the county paid the difference. The traveling expenses were too low and found to curtail the work and were increased $10 per month for this year. The above budget went into effect February 1, 1920. The Health Officer's Salary for January 1920 was $175 from all sources, making the total amount received from all sources $2,650. The traveling expenses were $877.48 and the car was furnished by the health officer. The International Health Board pays $1,000 only on the condition that the sanitary inspector is employed. The local Red Cross pays the salary of the nurse and the county furnished the car. Respectfully submitted to the Medical Society.

Paul C. Carter, Health Officer.

SOCIETY APPROVES THE WORK AND THE EXPENDITURES

On motion of Dr. Whitaker, of Enfield, seconded by Dr. Smith, of Scotland Neck, the society unanimously passed the following resolution. Be it resolved that the County Medical Society endorses the work of the County Health Department for 1920, and recommends that the work be continued indefinitely as per the budget of 1921. Resolve further that in view of the misunderstanding that has arisen we hereby state that the salary of the public health officer for 1920 from all sources was $2,650 and will be $3,000 for 1921. In view of the fact that the cost of public health work in the county is approximately 10¢ per head it is not considered too much.

H. B. Furjerson, President.

COTTON EXPORT MOVE LAUNCHED

ANNUAL SESSION OF AMERICAN COTTON ASSOCIATION GOES ON RECORD ENDORSING EXPORT CORPORATION.

Raleigh—Delegates to the Second Annual Convention of the American Cotton Association held in Raleigh January 13th went on record as unanimously supporting a co-operative marketing association and the newly organized Cotton Export Company. L. S. Tomlinson, who has been at the head of the State Association during the past year, was re-elected President.

Over a thousand delegates were in attendance at the meeting which was addressed by Richard I. Manning, former Governor of South Carolina, Aaron Sapiro, Attorney for the California Fruit Exchange, and Hollins Randolph, Attorney for the Federal Reserve Board, sixth district.

Governor Manning dwelt at length on the advantages that the Export Corporation would offer Southern farmers and Southern people generally. When the American Products Export and Import Corporation was organized about two months ago, Governor Manning was chosen its President. Joseph Walker of Columbia, S. C., formerly of the cotton firm of Hollowell & Walker, is General Manager for the corporation. The Corporation plans to stabilize the domestic cotton market by shipping the South's surplus stable to Europe. One shipment has already been made and others will follow very shortly.

Of considerable interest to the convention was an address by Mr. Sapiro, who has had extensive experience in marketing problems. He sketched the work accomplished in California and urged the State of North Carolina to be one of the leaders in the co-operative movement. Mr. Hollins Randolph explained the difference between the American Products Export and Import Corporation and the bankers export corporation, formed under the Edge Act. The Edge Corporation is limited primarily to discounting and cannot deal in commodities, whereas the organization headed by Governor Manning is actually buying and selling cotton and the other chief products of the South.

A state-wide campaign in the interest of the Export Corporation has been launched, and meetings will be held in practically every cotton growing county in North Carolina. Mr. L. S. Tomlinson, President of the State Association, has already arranged a number of meetings which he will address. Wednesday, he will speak in Albemarle; Thursday, January 20th, in Troy; Friday, January 21st, in Shelby; and Saturday, January 22nd, in Rutherfordton. Mr. O. C. Maner of the Export Corporation will also speak at the Shelby and Rutherfordton meetings and Mr. H. L. C. Stevens, also a representative of the Export Company, will address the Albemarle and Troy gatherings.

Realizing that the European countries are not absorbing anywhere near the amount of cotton they used to in pre-war days, cotton men of the South have for months past been looking around for a way to remedy conditions. Indications are that the American Products Export & Import Corporation will solve the question. To enable Europe to secure the cotton it needs, proper credit facilities must be afforded and the Export Company with its $1,000,000 capitalization will be able to extend such credits. Stock of the American Products Export & Import Corporation is being offered at $10 per share and subscriptions are being received in cash or in cotton or Liberty Bonds at the market price. The company's North Carolina office is located in the State Agricultural Building at Raleigh.

Endorsements of the Cotton Export Corporation have been received from many sources. Governor W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board and Governor M. B. W. Wallborn of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta have come out in support of the program. Former Secretary of the Treasury, W. G. McAdoo, has endorsed the movement enthusiastically. Among the North Carolina organizations that are actively supporting the campaign are: American Cotton Association, Raleigh Clearing House, North Carolina A. & E. College, Extension Department; North Carolina Association of Life Underwriters; North Carolina Press Association; Interstate Tobacco Growers' Association; North Carolina Association of Hosiery Manufacturers; Charlotte Chamber of Commerce; Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce, and many banks and prominent individuals.

The American Cotton Association at its meeting in Raleigh faced squarely the fact that the total cotton exports of the South had fallen off 43% since the pre-war period. In the past the Southern States have looked to foreign capital to finance their exports. Appreciating that this is no longer possible, the cotton men of this State and of the South generally are banding together to assure the joint success of the Co-operative Marketing Idea and the Cotton Export Corporation.

WILL YOU HELP

No organization in this community deserves the co-operation and support of the people more than the work of improving the conditions of our Cemetery. Such deplorable conditions have existed far too long already and immediately every person in this community should rise and with one accord lend any assistance in their power to the final perfecting of plans. The committee appointed for this work is a most able one but no committee should be left alone to shoulder so great a task and especially when it concerns every person in our midst.

Our people have a coveted reputation of doing things in the most up to date way and we are quite sure that the only reason this proposition has been so long neglected is because it has not been brought before the public. Now is the time to act. Will you lend us your hearty co-operation?

North Carolina Safety League Organized

A number of children from the grades of the Central school have organized a North Carolina Safety League. The object of the League is to reduce fire waste in North Carolina and its loss in life and property. The officers of the League are as follows:

Honorary president Miss Hearne, president Hattie Kearney, vice president John Bell Fitzhugh, Secretary Mary Anderson, Treasurer Grover Woodruff.

We have held two very interesting meetings, the children showing much enthusiasm over the work of the League. At the last meeting we were favored with a solo by Betty Gray Long and a chorus by the Fifth Grades.

We trust that the citizens of the community will co-operate with the children in their efforts to keep premises clean of rubbish that might cause fires.

FRECKLES

One of the most important offerings of the current season at the Peoples Theatre, Roanoke Rapids, is the first presentation here of Neil Twomey's delightful dramatization of Gene Stratton Porter's charming story "Freckles," which is announced for Tuesday night, January 25.

The fact that there have been more readers of this story than any other book published in a decade - a fair estimate is in the millions - makes the dramatization of the utmost importance to the dramatic world.

"Freckles" as a song play is stronger than "Freckles" as a story. The characters live, love and have adventure, - one can see and hear, there is nothing left to the imagination. The Broadway Amusement Co., under whose management the present tour is conducted, has made the production of "Freckles" exceedingly elaborate, and has assembled a company of unusual excellence for the presentation of this charming song play.

The music for the play and the songs rendered by Freckles and other characters are by the Viennese Composer, Anatol Friedland, and are a novelty from a musical point of view. The Woodland Fantasy played during the play is a masterpiece. This is not a moving picture.
