BISHOP FREEMAN IS CONSECRATED

Thirty-five thousand persons, including hundreds of the nation's notables, both in religious and official life, attended an open air meeting Sunday on the grounds of the new National Cathedral here incident to the consecration of the Reverend Doctor James Edward Freeman as Episcopal Bishop of Washington.

A choir of 800 voices, accompanied by vested military bands, furnished music for the ceremonies. Bishop Freeman and Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania, delivered addresses. President Coolidge sent a message to Bishop Freeman, as did former President Wilson.

The Cathedral, which is only partly completed, was described by President Coolidge as "both an adornment and an inspiration in the national capital."

"I know," he said, "that your devotion for the cause which it typifies will be a powerful factor of assurance that the work will proceed in both material and spiritual accomplishments."

"Your work is to be commended, because it represents the foundation of all progress, all government and all civilization. That foundation is religion. Our country is not lacking in material resources, and although he said to be lacking in intelligence. We need more education, it can not but, certainly, it has need of a greater practical application of the truths of religion. It is only in that direction that there is hope of solution of our economic and social problems."

"Whatever inspires and strengthens the religious belief and religious activity of the people, whatever ministers to their spiritual life of supreme importance. Without it all other efforts will fail. With it there lies the only hope of success. The strength of our country is the strength of its religious convictions. To you and all those associated with you throughout our land in ministering to religion, I extend my appreciation for your toil and sacrifice, and my faith in your ultimate success."

Mr. Wilson expressed his personal gratification at the honors conferred upon Dr. Freeman.

"I cannot in justice to my own feelings," the former President's letter said "let the occasion of your induction into the office of Bishop pass without again expressing my gratification that you should be assuming these new responsibilities, and by constant interest in what I know is very near your heart, namely, the completion of the great cathedral which is to crown Mount Saint Alban."

"May I not also express again my confidence in the people that your services in the office of bishop will be crowned with the greatest spiritual blessings, and that a great service to the community and to the nation may be opened to you."

Senator Pepper urged the early completion of the cathedral structure which he said would be a proper accompaniment to the national capitol building that the two might stand "symbols of free state and free church."—News and Observer.

WITH THE CHURCHES

All Saints Church (Episcopal)

Rev. Lewis N. Taylor, Rector
Mrs. Katherine Webster, Parish Warden
Roanoke Avenue

Thoughtful persons stand for the church because the church stands for the best things. The church-goer lines up with the forces which make for righteousness. He is on the side of the people who want to live the noblest lives themselves and who are trying to help this needy world to do the same.

The most efficient agency of human service on earth is the christian church. The churchman is a sharer in all the world-wide beneficences of the church.

All Saints invites you next Sunday, the Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity.

9:45 A. M. Church School, Bible Classes for adults and children. T. W. Mullen, Supt.

11 Celebration of the Holy Communion and sermon.

Night service at 7:30.

Young People's Society meets tonight at 7:30 with Miss Ruth Allen.

"The church is not a Museum of Saints but a hospital for sick souls."

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

Rev. Robert H. Broom, Pastor
Mr. W. V. Woodroof, S. S. Supt.
Miss Virginia Edwards, Pianist
Mr. R. L. Lowe, teacher of Baraca Class

9:45 A. M., Sunday School

11:00 A. M., Sermon by Pastor

7:30 P. M. Series of sermons on short questions found in New Testament continued.

Pews are made to face the pulpit, that they who sit in the one may here the man who stands in the other. The pew does not serve its purpose unless it is occupied with regularity. That pew helps the pulpit which is regularly filled — not merely helps the minister, but helps the pulpit as the organized expression of the church's worship and instruction. It was when they were all with one accord in one place that the power of the Holy Spirit fell upon the church at the first." Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving."

Misses Louise Jackson and Alma Vaughn Receive Life Saving Medallions

Misses Louise Jackson and Alma Vaughn have received certificates, pins and medallions from the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps for proficiency in life saving and are on regular duty at the High School pool during swimming periods for the high school girls. Football Game Today

The first football game of the season is to take place this afternoon on the high school gridiron just north of the high school when the local team meets the team from Franklin (Va) high. It was found impossible to arrange a football field at Rosemary Park on account of the adding of the new grandstand and the Rosemary Mfg. Company authorities are co-operating in developing the new field. Coach Simpson has been working hard of late and so have his charges. The team, however, will be badly crippled on Friday on account of both ends and two line men suffering sore arms from the effects of small pox vaccination. The team finished their preliminary training with a snappy scrimmage Wednesday afternoon. Yesterday a ceremony was spent in running signals and tackling.

The following line-up will appear this afternoon, the first team man appearing first and the second team last.

A game is pending with the Wilson high school for next Saturday which will probably be played here. Rocky Mount is scheduled for the 15th, and if possible this game will also be staged here. Coach Simpson states that every effort is being made to get as many games as possible played on the home grounds as the State Championship games will be played elsewhere. A game with the old rival Emporia high has been arranged for the 26th, this to come off in Roanoke Rapids. The next day the football coaches of the various state high schools will meet in conference in Raleigh to draw up the championship schedule.

A good game is likely for this afternoon. Franklin has already met and defeated two neighboring schools and the locals are eager for the fry.

Methodist Church Notes

The fourth quarterly meeting for the present conference year was held with the Roanoke Rapids Methodist Church last Sunday evening, when the progressive Presiding Elder, Rev. S. E. Mercer, preached a strong sermon on Solving Problems of Living Together, and led the quarterly conference in an interesting business session. If the members of this struggling church only knew something of the intense concern felt and expressed for their welfare, not only by the Presiding Elder and Pastor, but also by the operative boards of the church at large, probably they themselves would gratefully renew their efforts in their own relief. At any rate, the status of things is now more hopeful than hitherto, and the current reports indicated encouraging advance over 1922.

The conference re-elected the same board of Stewards, men whose consecration and loyalty to work of the church are deservedly commendable.

Mr. B. F. Aulry was duly licensed to exhort, or to conduct officially religious services, having his church's sanction.

Mr. W. V. Woodroof, for the twentieth successive year, was elected to superintend the Sunday school.

Mr. W. E. Britz was named as Lay leader for this pastoral charge.

Miss Clara Hearne is the Centenary collector.

American Legion Plans For Armistice Day

The Damask Post Chapter of the American Legion met in the High School building Tuesday night at eight o'clock. Local Schools Make a Success of Thrift Campaign

The Educational Thrift Service was put in operation in the local schools one year ago. Its purpose is to inculcate the principle of thrift in all of its phases, more particularly to get the children in the habit of saving by small weekly bank accounts. Although last year was the first and the movement was a new thing, ninety four percent of the pupils in the Junior-Senior high school and the central school were enrolled participants. (The Rosemary school is putting on the same movement under a different system.) This record was only surpassed in North Carolina by one school, Albemarle, whose score was 99, and in the United States our schools ranked sixth, the others 2 being 1, Follansbee, W. Va., 99, 2, Albemarle, N. C. 99, 3, Jamaica Plains, Mass. 97, 4, Youngwood, Pa., 96, 5, Flushing Ohio, 95.

The children in the local schools actually saved and banked last year $3,836.70. They have started to work again and are ambitious to surpass their former records.

Five Teachers Granted Palmer Certificates

Five members of the faculty of the local schools have been granted certificates for completion of the prescribed course in the Palmer Method of muscular movement business writing. Misses Luna G. Lassiter, Mary Belle Herring, Myrtle Bain, Martha E. Bowers, Carrie Belle Ross. This work has been done under the expert direction of Miss Estelle Gillis. All of the grade teachers are taking the course in Palmer Writing.
