Roanoke Ramblings

By Pat Nantz

How anyone can be cruel to little animals is beyond me...but a perfect example of this is the incident which occurred on Hamilton Street, on Monday...while walking to school with two of my friends, Margie Greene and Merle Singletary, we noticed a small puppy run out in front of a car. The driver slowed down but did not stop...running over the little dog, but never stopping nor looking back. The impact that the body of the puppy made against the front of the car was heard for quite a distance, so it was undoubtedly felt by the driver. The car only injured the dog's head and body, not killing him...but the car behind the one that hit him did not see the dog in time to stop, so he ran over him and killed him. This may well be a lesson to drivers...this could have easily been a small child darting across the street...

The most unusual type of bandage that I have ever encountered was that on a Negro man, at the local hospital, on Monday. He had injured his face especially around his mouth...so the doctor put a bandage around his head covering his mouth. When you first see it, it reminds you greatly of a gag...note to all husbands who have talkative wives. This is an idea...

You just can't help get homesick when you are away from good ol' Roanoke Rapids, can you? Even though Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Lane, Mrs. Chester Allsbrook and children spent last week-end in Raleigh with Bill Hawkins and Dwight Dobbin at State College, Bill and Dwight just had to return home this week-end to see the folks...

Another person that can't bear the thought of staying away long at the time is Josie Johnson who is going to college in Richmond; she also spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Instead of the fishermen three...there was exactly twice that number in the fishing party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Garner, and Mr. and Mrs. Leturn Mills. I'd like to hear Leturn tell about those "that got away" down on the Chowan river, this week-end...

Some of the more ardent football fans of our city are Harrison Giles, Stephen Davenport, Dickie Smith, Joe Kidd and Dick George Appendick, who attended the Carolina-Texas game at Chapel Hill, this week-end.

One of Roanoke Rapids' pioneer settlers died Sunday morning. He was Mr. Willie H. Shell, 65, who died at his home, after a lone illness. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from Smith's Church and burial services followed in the family plot in the church cemetery. Mr. Shell's widow is the former Hatie Ward.

Four more of our local citizens viewed their liking for football attending the State-Duke game Saturday, they were Marvin Woodard, A. W. Lynch, Richmond Lynch, and Buster Britt.

New Paper Mill Official Comes From Canada

K.D. Running, a native of Canada who recently moved to Roanoke Rapids to take over the job of superintendent of the sulphate mill of the Halifax Paper Corporation, said today that he and his family are quickly learning to love North Carolina and the South.

He said he had never previously been further South in the United States than Washington, D.C., and added that his wife and two young sons are also strangers to this part of the world.

Running came to Roanoke Rapids from St. John's, New Brunswick, but is a native of western Canada. He has been in the paper and wood pulp business for a number of years, he said.

In his new job he succeeds H. Watt Ellerson, who was recently made general superintendent at the local plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Running are making their home at 209 Williams street, and Kenneth, six has just entered school in the first grade. The younger son, Robert, is three.

Running said he is pleased with the setup he has found at the local plant, adding that he has a wonderful group of workers with whom to operate.

The sulphate mill at the paper corporation has to do with the complete processing and production of wood pulp.

"It is clear from the protracted exchange of notes and the conversations which have taken place on the initiative of the three governments between them and the Soviet Government that the three Governments... have made every effort to resolve their differences directly with the Soviet Government," the notes said.

The notes were delivered to U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie in the Palais Chaillot, scene of the U. N. Assembly session, shortly after 4 p. m.

From Moscow came an indication of what the Russian position may be. The authoritative New Times said the Western powers, through violations of four-power agreements, have "exploded the legal basis which assured them the right of participation in the Berlin administration." It declared the appeal to the Security Council would fail.

The paper blamed the West for the breakdown of the Moscow negotiations over Berlin.

"It is not a matter of chance that this was the chosen moment when the Assembly of the United Nations began work," New Times said. "Indeed, all this narrow-minded plan of Marshall-Bevin was timed ahead for this."

British sources said they did not believe the 11-nation Security Council will take action before Monday. It was noted that the Western notes did not request "urgent" action. The three governments were said to wish to avoid an appearance of trying to stampee the U. N. into hurried disposition of the case.

The text of the British note, identical with the others except for the salutations said: I have the honor, on behalf of his majesty's government in the United Kingdom in agreement with the governments of America and the French Republic, to draw your attention to the serious imposition by the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of restrictions on transport and communications between the Western Zones of occupation in Germany and Berlin quite apart from the fact that it is in conflict with rights of his majesty's government in the United Kingdom, the government of the United States of America and the government of France, with regard to the occupation and administration of Berlin, this action by the Soviet government is contrary to its obligations under Article 2 of the Charter of the United Nations and creates a threat to the peace within the meaning of Chapter VII of the charter.

"Two—it is clear from the protracted exchange of notes and the conversations which have taken place on the initiative of the three governments between them and the Soviet Government that the three governments, conscious of their obligations under the charter to settle their disputes by peaceful means, have made every effort to resolve their differences directly with the Soviet Government. Copies of the relevant documents are submitted separately, in particular, attention is drawn to the summary of the situation which is contained in the note of his majesty's government and the governments of the United States of America and the French Republic dated September 26th-27th as follows:

"The issue and the Western occupying powers is, therefore, not that of technical difficulties in communications nor that of reaching agreement upon the conditions for the regulation of the currency for Berlin. The issue is that the Soviet Government has clearly shown by its actions that it is attempting by illegal and coercive measures, in disregard of its obligations, to secure political objectives to which it is not entitled and which it could not achieve by peaceful means. It has resorted to blockade measures; it has threatened the Berlin population with starvation, disease and economic; it has tolerated disorders and attempted to overthrow the duly elected municipal government of Berlin. The attitude and conduct of the Soviet Government reveal sharply its purpose to continue its illegal and coercive blockade and its unlawful actions designed to reduce the status of the United States, the United Kingdom and France as occupying powers in Berlin to one of complete subordination to Soviet rule, and thus to ob-

The broadcast will be carried over local station WCBT from 10:30 until 11:00 p. m., and the President's talk will highlight the star-studded "Red Feather Roundup" featuring a number of the nation's top-flight radio entertainers.

Henry Ford, II, chairman of Community Chests of America, will conclude the program and will thank the President for his efforts in behalf of more than 1,000 Community Chests all over the country.

Soviet Planes Buzz American Transports

Berlin, Sept. 29—(AP)—Nine Soviet fighter planes dangerously buzzed two American supply planes in a Soviet zone air corridor today, U. S. authorities announced.

The planes were flying supplies into Soviet-blockaded Berlin from the western zones.

American air officials said they were transmitting a written protest to the Russians, charging violation of air safety regulations and demanding remedial action.

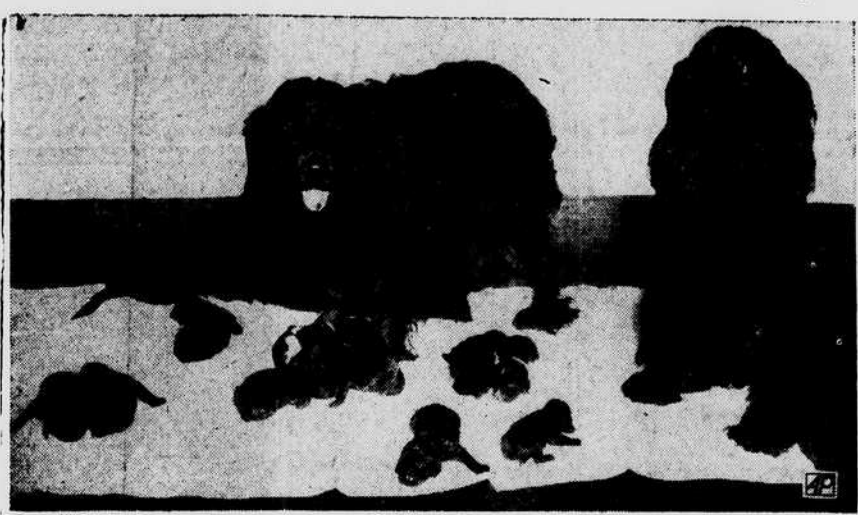

These were the latest of several recent Soviet-perpetrated incidents in the air corridors which Americans asserted violated four-power flying regulations and were designed to harass the blockade-busting air lift to Berlin.

Last week a Soviet fighter flew dangerously close to an American passenger transport, during the last week also the Americans protested a Soviet announcement of "close formation flying by Russian aircraft, which violates air corridor rules, and a Soviet announcement of anti-aircraft firing practice in the corridors to a height of 10,000 feet.

Another potential point of tension developed around Berlin police said about 25 Germans allegedly consigned to forced labor in Russian-operated uranium mines in Saxony made a daring escape last night.

German police sources, confirmed by the British, said 52 Germans were bound for the Uranium mines aboard a train which halted last night near the Zoological Garden in the British sector. About half succeeded in

U. S. Bars A-Bomb Plants To Unions; Heads Refuse To Disavow Communism

Washington, Sept. 28—(AP)—The government today barred its A-bomb plants to unions whose officers refuse to disavow communism.

This action—on the heels of congressional charges that a network of Soviet spy rings tried during the war to feed atomic secrets to Moscow—stemmed from a double-barreled atomic energy commission order.

It (a) posted "keep out" signs for two specific CIO unions and (b) opened the way for official recognition of others only if they can qualify for certification by the National Labor Relations board.

Except at Oak Ridge, union activity in all atomic plants has been sharply curtailed since the A-bomb project was launched. But a number of unions have been active in the hope that these curbs would be eased.

Today's new policy decision, however, ruled out any hope of those whose officers have failed to submit non-communist oaths.

These are required by the Taft-Hartley act for NLRB certification.

The unions singled out in the CIO United Electrical Workers and the CIO United Public Workers.

A congressional committee heard testimony only yesterday from a self-described former Communist that the U. E. is "the largest communist-dominated organization in the United States."

The Public Workers union, with a large membership of government employes, also has been under scrutiny in congress. The commission itself said, as it did of the U. E.: "Information is available concerning alleged communist affiliation or association of certain officers of this union."

The commission's move to erect new safeguards against possible leaks of atomic secrets, was only one in a series of tumbling developments bearing on the issue of Reds-in-government.

Among them: The disclosure by William W. Remington that he has appealed a regional loyalty board's ruling of "reasonable grounds to believe" he was disloyal.

Remington is the suspended $10,000 a year Commerce Department official named by Elizabeth T. Bentley as a source of the wartime secrets she told of collecting while serving as a spy investigation of the way Rep. J. his attorney that he has asked the president's loyalty review board to let him confront the Vassar graduate and cross-examine her.

2. Word from the Justice Department that it has taken "under advisement" a request for a Remington announced through Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) has run his office.

Thomas is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee. On Monday the committee charged the Truman administration with "inexcusable" failure to move against a "Soviet espionage conspiracy in the United States during World War II."

Thomas said of the Justice Department disclosure: "I refuse to be intimidated."

The request for an investigation came from 17 New Jersey lawyers. Clipped to their petition was a file of newspaper columns by Drew Pearson, discussing the handling of Thomas' office payroll. The lawyers said they are "deeply concerned" over Pearson's charges.

Showers Replacing Tubs, Survey Shows

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—The sit-and-soak method of bathing is slowly joining the old wooden tub in front of the kitchen stove as a thing of the past, a survey of observers on the post-war bathing scene shows.

"Blame it on the war, they said. The tub is going down the drain to make way for the shower. "During the war, people got accustomed to taking showers," Charles Jauch, secretary of the Cleveland Builders Exchange said. "There were no tubs on drewnaughts or in barracks for the men in service. Priorities made it difficult for civilians to get tubs."

"People learned to prefer the speed and efficiency of showers."

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 29—(AP)—The Rev. George M. Henry was consecrated today as third bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western North Carolina.

Dr. Henry took his vows in Episcopal Church here before an assemblage of church and lay leaders from throughout the southeast. The consecrator was the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, D. D., lately presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States.

His assistants were the Rt. Rev. Henry D. Phillips, D. D., bishop of southwest Virginia, and the Rt. Rev. Thomas N. Caruthers, D. D., bishop of South Carolina. Bishop Edwin A. Penick of the North Carolina diocese, preached the sermon.

Bishop Henry, recently rector of Christ Church in Charlotte, succeeded Bishop Robert E. Gribbin, who retired because of ill health. Bishop Gribbin, formerly of Winston-Salem, succeeded the late Bishop Junius M. Horner, who was consecrated bishop of the Missionary District of Asheville in December of 1898. The diocese of western North Carolina was established in 1922. It now embraces about 4,600 communicants and 66 parishes and missions.
