

Stalin Accuses U. S., Britain, France of Supporting Policy Which Can Bring 'Unleashing of New War'

Britain, China Suggest Sanctions to Force Palestine Peace

Three Other Nations Said Backing Idea

Paris, Oct. 28—(AP)—Britain and China proposed today that the United Nations use economic sanctions to force peace in Palestine.

France, Belgium and Canada announced support and a reliable source said the United States also would vote for the resolution. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine did not make known their positions.

The debate will be resumed tomorrow in the Security Council. Russia asked for a two-day postponement, but Warren Austin, the American Council President, ruled at adjournment today there would be no delay. The council meets again tomorrow.

Israel has rejected orders to the U.N. Mediator of Palestine, Ralph Bunche, that her troops withdraw from positions won in the Negev desert in a week of battle with Egypt. Egypt's complaint that Israel is violating the U.N. cease fire order brought up the issue.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain offered the council a draft resolution calling for a special committee to "examine urgently" the action the council might take under article 41, chapter seven, of the U.N. charter. That article reads:

"The Security Council may decide what measures not involving the use of armed force are to be employed to give effect to its decisions, and it may call upon the members of the United Nations to apply such measures. These may include complete or partial interruption of economic relations and of rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio, and other means of communications, and the severance of diplomatic relations."

Dr. T. F. Tsiang of China declared stronger measures were needed to enforce the truce in the turbulent Palestine situation.

British Still Hunt Asian War Dead

Singapore—(AP)—Corners of Southeast Asia will remain "forever England." In their memorial cemeteries are being constructed for British servicemen. Unlike the Americans, who have returned home the bodies of some 30,000 war dead since last October, the British decided to leave their dead in the areas where they fell.

Initial work is accomplished by teams who locate and identify bodies in the isolated tropical jungles of Malaya, Burma, Indo-China and the East Indies. Lt. Colonel L. S. Harrop plans and coordinates efforts to locate estimated 10,000 men still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia. Recovery of approximately 6,000 bodies to date includes Malays, Chinese and Indians who fought with British soldiers in Singapore and the Federation of Malaya.

Once bodies are gathered together in the military cemetery, Graves Registration hands over its job to "Imperial War cemetery into a permanent memorial."

Congressman Gathings Has Trouble Getting His Phone Number Listed

Washington, Oct. 28—(AP)—Life in Washington can be pretty complex even for a congressman. Take Rep. Gathings (D) of Arkansas.

All Gathings wants is to have his office telephone listed as National 3120—the number by which the Capitol and all Congressional offices can be reached. Like all Congress members, Gathings has two National 3120 extensions in his office. And like most others he has still another office phone—his is District 4675. He is the one telephone directory lists. And Gathings pays the bill.

Why not, he thought, just list the Capitol number—at the standard extra listing fee of 75 cents a month—and do away with the other telephone. He'd pay the six bits and still save around $5 a month.

Sounds simple, eh? That's what Gathings thought. But he's been working on the project for weeks and hasn't gained an inch.

Roanoke Ramblings

By PAT NANTZ

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Allen, of this city, have returned from Miami, Florida, after having spent two weeks there. The Allens left on October 12, which was their golden wedding anniversary, and stayed at the same place they did on their wedding trip fifty years ago. They also visited practically every place they did then, and Allen told of how they were especially pleased when they entered the hotel and found the manager to be the son of the man who was manager on their first trip there. They have never had the opportunity to return until this time, and both agree the trip was enough to last them from this day forward.

Everyone is glad to hear that the Shriner's Club of this city will sponsor the Roanoke Rapids High band in the Shriner's March, Friday, October 29, at Raleigh—it has taken quite some time to decide whether or not the band would qualify to go, but it did, and more than likely the performance they gave at the Roanoke Rapids-Edenton football game, helped to swing the decision in their favor—here's hoping they keep getting chances like this. . . .

The many friends of George Walters welcomed him back to Roanoke Rapids for a visit. . . . George is an unrelenting patient at the veterans hospital in Richmond, Va., but was allowed to come home for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Walters, Sr., because of his improved condition—he will return to the hospital next week, when he will undergo an operation. . . . he served four years with the Marine Corps and was wounded on two Jims, when he suffered head injuries. . . . George said he has already had six minor operations, but is hoping this will be the final one, so he can come home to stay. . . .

Since Coach Danny Cagle hasn't had any more casualties lately, maybe the Yellow Jackets will make a good showing tomorrow night when they play Washington. . . .

And speaking of football, here's hoping the Junior-Jax have loads of luck when they play Kinston, today at Kinston. . . . Celebrating their birthday today are Shirley Bridges, Donald Waters and little Kenneth Parish. . . . congratulations, and may you have many, many more just as happy. . . .

A doctor told his patient that there was nothing really the matter with him. "All you require is more outdoor life; walk two or three miles regularly every day; by the way, what's your business?" To which his patient answered, "I'm a letter-carrier, doc."

Ho-Hum, Rainy Weekend Seen

Partly cloudy skies came to the Carolinas today, and the weatherman said there was some prospect of rain for weekend football games but it's too early to say definitely. The forecast was for not much change in temperatures through tomorrow, and that meant a continuation of comfortable afternoons and cool nights.

Five Billion Will Be Gone By March

Washington, Oct. 28—(AP)—Foreign aid officials said today they expect to ask congress for an extra $1,200,000,000 to carry the Marshall Plan through April May and June of next year. The $5,055,000,000 appropriation for European Recovery will have been exhausted by the end of March—12 months after the program's start—a spokesman for the economic cooperation administration reported privately. Congress voted the recovery money for 15 months, or until the end of the Federal fiscal year next June 30, but gave President Truman the power to let ECP use it up in 12 months if necessary. As early as last August, Mr. Truman's formal approval of the 12 month schedule may be asked within the next two weeks. As early as last August, Mr. Truman said a supplemental appropriation of $1,500,000,000 might be needed for the last three months of the program's first phase. The ECA spokesman said the new estimate of $1,200,000,000 is as close as the need can be gauged at this minute.

Saturday, at the local unit meeting Tuesday afternoon in the high school library. It's Infuriating, Really!

London, Oct. 28—(AP)—It's infuriating, really! A woodpecker has pecked so many holes in Mrs. D. M. Gay's house that it begins to look like a sieve. And when she shoos him off, she says, the bird just flies to a tree and gives her the bird. Sort of a jeering laugh. The culprit is a woodpecker type known as the yaffle because it sounds like that—like a guffaw. Mrs. Gay showed the press a frame house pockmarked with patched-up holes, some of them six inches wide. "It starts with two sharp raps about 7 a. m. daily, and then follows a rattle that reverberates through the house like a machine gun," she said. "When I scare it away, it laughs at me from a neighboring tree like the bird in the song 'Woodpecker's Serenade'. I am not amused." Mrs. Gay wanted to have the blasted thing shot dead, but even then the woodpecker had the last laugh. In her section of Essex, the British Home Office said, a yaffle can't legally be killed. So the yaffle keeps drilling, and yaffing.

Says Neutral Nations Lending Support To Policy Of Aggression

Moscow, Oct. 28—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin accused the United States, Britain and the so-called neutral states of the United Nations Security Council today of supporting a policy which an lead to the "unleashing of a new war."

The Soviet leader added, however, that the present international crisis "can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war."

No War For Few Months, Briton Says

Berlin, Oct. 28—(AP)—The British commander in Germany said yesterday he expected "no war for the next few months." Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British military governor, told a news conference, however, he did not care to predict what might happen beyond that period. He said also that the withdrawal of occupation troops might be the only way to solve the German problem. But here, too, he added a major qualification. "It is my personal opinion," he said, "withdrawal may well be the only means of resolving the difficulties that have led to Allied disagreement. However before one could adopt such a solution one must be sure conditions are satisfactory for withdrawal."

Truman Pledges "No Retreat" From Berlin

With Truman En Route to New York, Oct. 28—(AP)—President Truman stormed New England again today en route to a crucial campaign talk in New York with a warning to Russia. "We shall not retreat" from Berlin. Thousands of Bostonians crammed into Mechanics Hall last night, cheered lustily as he declared a hatred for communism and "the godless creed it teaches," and served this notice that the "airlift" will be maintained. "In Germany, we have taken the frank and firm position that communism must not spread its tentacles into the western zones. We shall not retreat from that position. We shall feed Berlin, and the people of Germany will be given their chance to work out a decent life under a democratic government." He moves into New York City at 3:45 p. m. for a fighting, no-holds-barred, two-day talkathon to be highlighted by a major address in Madison Square Garden at 10:30 o'clock (EST).

Local firemen answered a call about 9:45 this morning to the home of Otis Hawkins at 807 Henry street to extinguish chimney fire. Firemen said the house was undamaged in spite of heavy smoke which poured from the chimney after soot had apparently backed up and had been set afire on the inside. The house is the property of the Rosemary Manufacturing Company.
