Mrs. Herbert Talk To Central P T A

Mrs. James Herbert address- ed the Study Group of the Central School Parent-Teacher Asso- ciation Tuesday afternoon on the subject "As You Live and Breathe".

Mrs. Herbert said, "Mothers have great plans for teaching their children, they buy books on games and how to guide their work and play and then find they have no time to use the books."

"But whether they realize it or not, parents are teaching the children every hour of the day by their conversation with their husband, or neighbor in the child's presence."

"The parents' attitude toward their neighbors, relatives, govern- ment, law, taxes, and every other subject expressed around the children form the child's atti- tude subconsciously," she added.

"Not only does the parent teach the child by his conduct but the child is deeply impressed by his teacher's example, which remains with him long after a formal lesson she has taught has been forgotten," the speaker declared.

"As example of teaching when not realizing it is the case of teaching truthfulness and then avoiding the truth in our own conversation," she said.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 the Study club is meeting again at the Central School with Eu- gene Langford as guest speaker on Art.

WHAT every Mother SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CHILDREN'S SHOES

THE STRIDE RITE SHOE

To fit correctly, to give real protection to rapidly-growing feet, children's shoes must:

hug the heel like a glove support the arch gently but firmly give extra "growing room" ahead of the toes and size should be checked frequently!

STRIDE RITE Shoes provide all these "musts"—and more! Their fine, flexible leathers, tested lasts and complete range of sizes and widths plus our free shoe size "check-up service", offer the foot-health insur- ance that is every child's right!
