Joint Hostesses Entertain At Sixteen Tables Of Bridge

Mrs. T. A. Merritt and Mrs. F. B. Neal entertained with sixteen tables of bridge at the Woman's Club House on Jackson Street, Wednesday evening. The club house was decorated in an autumn motif. At the door were tall florist baskets of colorful autumn leaves beside a table graced with antique brass pitcher and candle holders with lighted yellow candles. On a table to the right of the door was centered an arrangement of gold and flame-leaves embedded in green ribbon grass and surrounded with real pumpkins. The mantle decoration was much admired. In the center of the mantle was a lovely arrangement of large bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, flanked on either side with silver candle holders bearing red and gold cattails representing candles, graduated in size to either end of the mantle, all highlighted by an amber spotlight behind the flower group. In the firstplace evergreens were banked.

On the piano was a lovely arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums lighted with yellow candles. The highest score made for the evening was by Mrs. John Lupton, who was presented a gift of linen. Mrs. Watt Ellerson won second high score, receiving a prize from the hostesses of a plastic card table cover. Mrs. Howard Bounds, Jr., received consolation, a dainty white china pitcher. The hostesses were assisted by their mother, Mrs. M. H. Hedgebeth, and Mrs. James Ellis of Weldon, in serving a salad course of chicken, cheese curls, red pickles and Russian tea.

Weldon Youth Benefit Stage Show Is Tonight

Weldon.—The Weldon Youth Christian Aid Endeavor Society are staging a "Big Stage Show" at the Weldon School Gymnasium, on Friday night, November 5th, at 8 p. m. The show is a local talent show and one that will be very interesting to old and young alike. This is a benefit show in an endeavor to raise funds for the underprivileged children in this vicinity.

Mrs. Riddick Has Round Table Club

Sotland Neck.—Mrs. N. A. Riddick entertained the Round Table Club at her home on Friday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. W. Kitchin, Mrs. J. L. Josey, the secretary, presided during the short business meeting. The club read the last acts of the play "Uncle Tom's Cabin" after which the hostess invited them into the dining room. An attractive arrangement of cosmos centered the table which was covered with a cutwork linen cloth. Elsewhere in the home mixed flowers were used. A salad course with coffee hot rolls and mince-cake tarts were served the members. Those present were Mesdames R. C. Josey, Sr., J. L. Josey, R. D. House Jr., W. E. Goode, Tom Temple, R. A. Phillips, H. H. Hyman L. H. Kitchin and James Riddick.

Raleigh Ladies Are Special Guests At Scotland Neck

Sotland Neck.—Mrs. C. A. Dillon and Mrs. Glover Dillon, both of Raleigh, were special guests at the October meeting of the Woman's Club at the Community House last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. C. A. Dillon, who invented the "Epergnette" and the "fence-me-in" bed guard for small children demonstrated both of these inventions and showed how the epergnette may be used with any type of candlestick for fruit or flowers as effectively as the French epergne which costs hundreds of dollars. Mrs. Glover Dillon of Raleigh assisted in explaining the uses of the epergnette and both made unique, attractive and colorful arrangements of fall flowers and fruit.

Mrs. Price Speaks To Baptist Circle

Mrs. Gordon L. Price spoke on "The Advance program in Southern Baptist World Missions" Monday night at the Willie Kelly Circle of the First Baptist Church, which met at the home of Mrs. T. O. Corbitt on Jackson Street. Mrs. Corbitt, chairman, presided at the meeting which was opened with prayer. After the roll call and minutes read from the last meeting several items of business were discussed. Mrs. L. R. Hux closed the meeting with a prayer. A social hour followed. Those present were Mesdames, Gordon L. Price, L. R. Hux, W. B. Massengale, John King, C. H. Langston, L. R. Hasty, T. O. Corbitt and Julian Bell.

E. C. Langford Speaks To Study Course Group

E. C. Langford, local artist, spoke on Art before the Central School Study Course group meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday afternoon at the school. Langford said impart, "Let the young child draw anything the way he visualizes it and do not curb his initiative by giving him patterns or stereotyped material to copy. Let the children take their pattern from nature which is the greatest art....From a group of thirty children should come thirty different pictures of the same thing." Vivid colors and shading of the same color stressed during the talk. Langford showed an oil portrait of himself which he had displayed at several exhibits. Mrs. John L. Lackey, president of the Central School Parent Teacher Association, presided at the meeting. The next Study Course will be held Friday afternoon, at which

Chief T. J. Davis will speak on Safety. All Central school patrons and the public are invited to attend.

Enfield Boys Feted On Birthday

Enfield.—Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Dickens entertained at a Halloween Party at their home, celebrating the birthdays of their two sons, Billy and Kent Dickens. The home was decorated throughout in the Halloween motif.

When the guests arrived dressed in Halloween costumes, there was a grand march with judges to decide on the two best costumes. Dianne Coltraine won the prize for the best girl's costume, and Pheas Bellamy was awarded the boy's prize. After the grand march, each child was given a Halloween heard, and invited into the dining room for refreshments. The room looked weird with black cats, witches and skull lights. The table was covered with a Halloween cloth—at one end stood the birthday cake, while at the other end of the table a platter containing a large black cat turned around as a music box played "Happy Birthday". At either end of the cake candles burned—7 candles for Billy and 5 for Kent.

Ice cream and birthday cake was served, and as each of the 35 guests departed for home they were given a horn as a favor. The honorees received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Zucker and sons, Charles and Robert, spent the weekend in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Mrs. Britt Heads Enfield Baptist Ladies Aid Society

Enfield.—The Baptist Ladies Aid Society met in the home of Mrs. A. M. Atkinson on Tuesday afternoon with 32 members present.

The spacious home looked lovely with colorful chrysanthemums used in decorating. Mrs. R. E. Sherette, Jr., presided and the usual business procedure followed. The society voted to have a "Country Store" at the November meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. M. E. Herman.

Mrs. J. B. Britt, who had charge of having an "apron patched" to make some money for the society, cut open the patches which disclosed the amount collected to be $30.00.

A report of the nominating committee was heard and the following ladies were elected to serve as officers next year: president, Mrs. J. B. Britt, vice-president, Mrs. B. R. Kimball; secretary, Mrs. W. B. Burchette; treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Marshall, with Mrs. Stella Broach as assistant treasurer.

During the social hour, Mrs. Atkinson and her co-hostesses Mesdames J. A. Vick, Cecil Matthews, W. B. Burchette and May Partin, served a sweet course with nuts.
