

Art Club Plans To Be Discussed At Meeting Here December 2

Plans for an art club in Roanoke Rapids will be made on December 2, at 8 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. B. Marshall Whitehurst.

This is the first club of this type to be founded here, and everyone who is interested is urged to attend this meeting or those in the future.

E. C. Langford, who is well-known for his artistic abilities, will be on hand at the meeting to give needed individual instructions and any helpful advice which may be needed.

During the meetings, members will draw. There can be drawing in pencil or charcoal and painting in water colors or oil.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these meetings, with the junior and senior classes of the local high school included.

The first meeting will be an opportunity in which to find out what the members will wish to do. Langford has expressed his desire for it to be understood that this is not as if he were starting an art class. It is merely for the enjoyment of art lovers, and those who wish to learn more about art. There will be no charge, unless after the club is organized, the members see fit to have small dues.

Mrs. Collins Is Hostess To Her Bridge Club

Mrs. Richard Collins entertained her bridge club Friday evening at her home on Marshall Street.

Soft drinks were served during the evening.

Mrs. Marion Hudson won high score for the evening and Mrs. Catherine Murray second high.

Those present were Mesdames Al Zuckner, Cathryn Murray, Marion Hudson, Lewis Tickle, Bill Bunting, Bill Bass and Stewart Wilson.

IN TOKYO — Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his wife stand at Haneda Airfield, Tokyo, where they went to greet Syngman Rhee, president of Korea, who visited the Japanese capital.

About The City

By Sue Woodall
Self-trust is the first secret of success, the belief that if you are here the authorities of the universe put you here, and for a cause, or with some task strictly appointed you in your constitution, and so long as you work at that you are well and successful — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

One of the most charming teas of the fall season was given by Mrs. Jack Stokes, at her home on Henry Street, Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving, honoring her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Gant from Raleigh, who has been visiting with her since Saturday. Even though the streets were muddy and slick due to road construction now under way in Roanoke Rapids, and a typical London day prevailed so far as weather was concerned, approximately fifty people called during the afternoon.

Woman's Club Will Hold Benefit Bridge Party On December 10

The first Christmas party of the season will be held by the Woman's Club, Friday, December 10th at 8:00 o'clock in the Woman's Club building on Jackson Street, and will be a benefit bridge.

Refreshments and prizes will be donated by the merchants of the city.

Mrs. Gilbert reported also that the club has been redecorated with new drapes and slipcover which will add much to the party this year over last year, and concluded by suggesting that those who really enjoy playing bridge hurry and get their tickets.

gracious visitor and told of many interesting activities, one being the marriage of her son in Jamaica. She added that she hoped he could return to Raleigh and be married in the All Saints Episcopal church there as that was the church he was christened in.

Mrs. John Paul Gilbert, leader of Girl Scout Troop 15, reports she is somewhat stiff from sleeping on a pallet Friday night when she chaperoned a pallet party for her girls. Mrs. Gilbert says the girls really enjoyed the movies and later cooking for themselves at the hut.

Happy birthday to little Miss Nancy Hundley on her fifth birthday.

Little Jay Thompson of Madison Street was telling us he has walked the town over looking for Princess, brown and white pointer, a hunting dog which he and his Granddaddy Sam Thompson, own together. Princess dug under the fence and got out the first of the week and has not been found yet after a wide search. Anyone having any knowledge of the dog would make a little boy mighty happy by reporting it.

The benefit bridge to be given by the Woman's Club December 10th will be one of the most popular parties of the season since there are many bridge enthusiasts in Roanoke Rapids. The tables will be limited so it would be a good idea to call and get tickets early from Mrs. I. E. Ready or Mrs. Joe Talley.

Congratulations to A. C. Culbreth on becoming a grandfather for the first time.

Some of the visitors spending Thanksgiving in Roanoke Rapids are Mr. and Mrs. John De Foor of Toccoa, Georgia who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hollingsworth; Tommie DeVane of Norfolk, Virginia, who is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Williams, and sons, Richard and Robert from Washington D. C., who are visiting Mr. Williams' mother, Mrs. J. H. Williams.

Mrs. Jack Stokes and children returned to Raleigh today with Mrs. Stokes' mother, Mrs. Kenneth Gant for the weekend.

The old farmer, dozing in the shade of his front porch, awakened suddenly when a high pressure salesman bustled up the front path. Under his arm was a sample of a ten-volume set of books on scientific farming which he urged the farmer to examine.

"Nope," replied the prospect, "got no use for it."
"But you ought to have it," the salesman insisted. "It will teach you to farm twice as well as you do now."
"Son," replied the farmer pityingly, "I don't farm half as good now as I know how."

Harold Garrett, "Hot shot" Speight and Mac Daughtrey really had a Thanksgiving this week when they bagged a 185 pound eight point buck in less than one-hour and half hunt. As always the deer appeared unexpectedly right in front of Garris who shot from a crouching position and bagged his game with one bullet. I understand he removed the empty shell after he returned home and is going to send it to Georgia where he hails from. Garrett's great love like Daughtrey's and "Hot shot's" is hunting, trapping and fishing. The wives of the hunter's were so delighted they say now that venison will not have to be substituted for the word deer . . . (they have been objecting somewhat to the term 'deer' hunt.)

Mother said to father very firmly. "Willie is now eleven years old and it's high time you told him about the bees and the flowers."

"Aw, gee" said the father, "I can't go through that song and dance."

"You'll have to," said mother. "The reluctant father closeted himself with the bright-eyed youngster. "Willie," he said slowly, "I suppose you're old enough to know how babies came."

"Why, sure, Pop," said Willie. "I've known about that for years."

"Thank Heaven!" sighed father with relief. "Well, Willie, it's exactly the same with bees and flowers."

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Barnes spent the weekend in Severn with the parents of Mr. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Moore had as their guests over the weekend Mrs. S. H. Stallings, Miss Doris Stallings and Ed Kiser, of Zebulon.

Pamela Brown Feted On Birthday

Weldon — Miss Pamela Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Brown celebrated her fourth birthday on Saturday afternoon, November 20th in the Boy Scout Hut.

The children enjoyed playing many nursery games, after which Pam had a beautiful birthday cake with four candles. Her mother served ice cream and gave each child an attractive little basket filled with candy.

Party Is Held For Miss Hines

Mesdames H. E. Lee, Alfred Martin and Miss Elladea L. entertained with a three tables Washington Street honoring the late Miss Libby Dean Hines.

Throughout the living, dining room and den of the Lee home were beautiful arrangements of white and pink chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Mrs. R. D. House, Jr., won high score for the evening.

The honoree was presented with a gift.

At refreshment time a sweet course was served. The dining table was centered with a lovely arrangement of pink and white chrysanthemums, flanked by silver candelabra with place mats of pink lace for serving refreshment guests.

Those present were Mesdames A. C. House Jr., R. D. House Jr. and Sam T. Gregory from Scotland Neck; Misses Mary Francis Buck, Francis Musgrove, Virginia Sledge and Mrs. H. N. Browder Jr., of Weldon; Misses Catherine Kidd, Betty Leathers, Cathryn Wood, Marjorie Fleetwood, Mesdames Thomas Collier, William King Jr., R. D. House Jr., and L. D. Hines.
