ROUND ABOUT THE WORLD

A Condensed Record of Happenings of Interest From All Parts of the World.

Tom Tankersley, a simple-minded youth of 18 years, is locked up in the Fulton county jail, having confessed to participating in wrecking the Southern train near Cornelia, Ga., last week when two lives were lost. According to the boy's confession, he and two others are responsible for the wreck, and their motive was to rob the train.

Charley Tipton, a noted moonshiner of the north Georgia mountains, is dead. A coroner's jury has been unable to clear up the mystery of just when and by whom he was killed. Tipton was famous for his exploits as a moonshiner. He had been frequently arrested for illicit distilling. His body was found by accident by some children on top of the mountain.

The bank of Wesley, Ga., seven miles south of Swainsboro, was entered by burglars, the safe completely demolished and all the funds taken. A thousand dollars was secured. The sheriff and posse are on the scene, and have some clues. All trains are well guarded and every effort is being used to apprehend the yeggmen. The bank is protected by a burglary policy.

The dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Naflet of Woodlawn, a suburb of Birmingham, Ala., were found in the Woodlawn cemetery, a bullet through the woman's temple and one in the brain of the man. A pistol was found in the man's hand, and all indications point to his having killed his wife and then himself. The couple left the home of Mrs. Naflet's parents to go to a drug store. It is believed the husband induced his wife to go to the cemetery, where the double killing took place. The bodies were found by the sexton.

As a result of an investigation of the hookworm disease in the section around Pineville, Ky., it is announced that 1,750 cases have been discovered in Bell county alone in the last twenty-eight days. All cases discovered are under treatment.

Bulloch county, Georgia, had its first bank robbery when the Farmers' State Bank, at Register, 10 miles from Statesboro, was entered by professions, who took away $900, leaving about fifty dollars in gold and silver. It is said there were three men implicated in the robbery.

With fire raging in holds Nos. 1 and 2 the British steamer Iran, cotton laden, from Galveston to Bremen, put into port at Newport News, Va., in distress. The fire was discovered two days out from Galveston and had been burning fiercely for five days. When the ship arrived the crew was nearly exhausted. The fire was said to be under control. The damaged cotton will be discharged at Newport News in order that the amount of damage may be ascertained.

Two hundred Italians employed at Mathis Shoals in the construction of the Georgia Power company's new dam across Tallulah river, after imbibing a little too much of the "overjoyful," attacked a young man named Grover Shirley. They knocked him into the river, then fired several pistol shots at him. Shirley has not since been found. A difficulty growing out of the same transaction was renewed in which a dozen or more of the citizens of Rabun were accused by the foreigners with rifles, pistols and shotguns. They quickly retreated, taking shelter behind buildings, rocks and trees.

Three hundred persons are suffering from injuries and 45 mangled bodies are in the morgue as the result of an explosion of dynamite in a store house at Tampico, Mexico. Of the injured twenty will die. An investigation by the authorities led to the discovery that the explosion occurred during a fire which had evidently been set by an incendiary. Many of the killed and injured were spectators attracted by the burning building. Suddenly as they pressed close there was a terrific detonation, which shook the earth and sent flying embers for many yards through the air.

Six persons are dead as the result of a collision between an automobile and a car on the Dallas-Fort Worth interurban line, 14 miles east of Fort Worth, Texas. This is the most serious accident in some time.

Cleveland, Ohio, housewives have started a boycott against the so-called milk trust.

William A. Pfeffer, first and only Populist senator from Kansas and the founder of the Populist party, died at the home of his daughter at Grenola, Kans. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1831, and was a very prominent national character.

Capt. Acton Shrontz of the Longmont high school football team, high school champion of America, died from a fractured skull while being tackled with the West Denver high school.

A trust estimated at $2,000,000, created by the will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, for the benefit of the denomination, was declared void by the Massachusetts supreme court. The trust was to have been administered by the directors of the mother church in Boston, but the court decided that the trust provisions were null. The town of Leon in Nicaragua has surrendered to the American forces. In their march upon Leon, the last stronghold of the rebels, the American forces, under Lieutenant Colonel Long, ousted a rebel mob at Chichigalpa, killing thirteen and wounding many more. Five Americans were slightly wounded. Chichigalpa is on the Nicaragua National railway.

Aviation Week of Johannisthal, Germany, was concluded after two more deaths had been added to the long list of fatalities among European aviators during the last two months. A monoplane driven by Ernest Allg and carrying a mechanic, suddenly fell from a height of 600 feet when a wing collapsed. The mechanic was thrown from the machine at a height of 450 feet and his body landed on the ground clear of the wreckage. Allg fell with the monoplane and was killed instantly.

All records for milk and butter have been shattered by Creamello Vale, a Holstein cow owned by Earl Upton of Brockton, Mass. The cow has given 26,930 pounds of milk with a monetary value of $1,300 since November 15, 1911.

A general conflagration in the Balkans is expected. Montenegro's declaration of war against Turkey is regarded as the beginning. It is believed other units in the Balkan coalition will follow suit as soon as the mobilization of their armies is complete.

Two hundred and fifty talesmen jammed the court room in New York City of Justice Goff in the criminal branch of the supreme court when Police Lieutenant Charles Becker was called to trial on the charge of murder in the first degree for instigating the assassination of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, who was shot to death last July.

Enrique Maza, a Cuban newspaper man who recently assaulted Hugh S. Gibson, the American charge d'affaires in Havana, was sentenced to two years and a half in prison. This is not the extreme penalty under the Cuban law, but was considered by the court as a fair equivalent for the same offense in the United States.

Pages from the careers of the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal, as leaders of the "flying squadron of dynamiters," with conversations in which they are said to have plotted to send McManigal to Panama to blow up the locks of the Panama canal, were read by District Attorney C. W. Miller before the jury at the trial in Indianapolis, Ind., of the accused "dynamite conspirators." The incident in reference to Panama, Mr. Miller said, occurred just before the arrest of the Los Angeles dynamiters, when they were becoming desperate in their efforts to secure explosives without betraying their identities.

Three men were killed in Greenville, Texas, in an attempt by the police to answer a telephone complaint that some one in the southern part of Greenville was disturbing the peace. Assistant Chief of Police John L. Southall and Special Deputy Sheriff R. E. Shipp were both shot and killed by Slant Simmons, the man accused of "disturbing the peace." Simmons refused to surrender and jumped into a buggy, from which he kept up the running fire that killed the two officers. The other officers then killed Simmons.

Nine young men lost their lives when an automobile in which they were joy riding crashed through the railing on side of the new Thirty-third street Boulevard at Master street, Philadelphia, and fell into a coal yard 75 feet below. The machine, a big touring car, turned turtle in the descent and the occupants were found crushed and mangled in the hood of the machine. The body of the car was smashed to splinters. The heavily loaded car swerved and crashed through the iron railing of the bridge. When those in the other machines had made their way to the coal yard, only one occupant of the ill-fated car showed an sign of life and he died shortly after at the hospital. The others were all pronounced dead when the institution was reached.

Suit to test the right of the government to enforce the Federal law of August 24, 1912, requiring newspapers and periodicals to publish their circulation figures twice a year and imposing other publicity requirements, was filed in the United States district court in New York City by the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin company, publishers of the Journal of Commerce. In its petition the complainant announces that it will not comply with the law, for the reason given, and declares the defendants are about to enforce the law by denying the defendants the use of the mails.

From a half-dozen witnesses heard by the senate campaign expenditures committee drew a small amount of information bearing on the campaign expenditures. Charles R. Crane of Chicago denied the statements of E. H. Hooker that he had given $70,000 each to Senator LaFollette and Governor Wilson and swore that his gifts to the LaFollette campaign totaled $26,684.40, and those to Governor Wilson's pre-convention campaign $10,000. John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, has been recalled, and will testify again as to his contributions to the Republicans.

Salisbury.—The Rowan Democratic committee has opened headquarters in Salisbury and will wage a vigorous campaign. The candidates are now touring the county.

Waxhaw.—A freak of nature is observed in Waxhaw these delightful October days—a cherry tree in full bloom. Some of the blossoms have dropped, leaving the young cherry.

Huntersville.—J. E. Honeycutt and William M. Wilson representing the candidacy of Judge Clark and William M. Tye, one of Gov. Kitchin's staunch supporters, spoke at Huntersville to a crowd numbering some 250 people.

Raleigh.—During the month of September, just closed, there were sold on the Raleigh market only 1,678 bales of cotton compared with 3,300 sold during September, 1911. This is taken to indicate that there is a very short crop in this territory this season.

Raleigh.—Governor Kitchin issued two pardons, the first to Jack Hamrick, retailer of Cleveland county, and to Will Cannon, convicted of murder in the first degree from Cabarrus county. Both are conditional clemencies and must be followed by good behavior.

Salisbury.—A plan is on foot to have built a central high school building as an addition to Salisbury's school facilities. The city is short on school room on account of the recent unexpected growth of the city and some of the rooms of the city schools are being taught in relay now.

Salisbury.—C. M. Miller, county surveyor, has been engaged to make a map of Rowan county which will show every road, the names of all land owners, all churches and school houses and all the natural resources of the county. A corner map of Salisbury and Spencer will show available factory sites.

Pinewood.—The prices paid here so far this season for cotton have been in line with prices paid in larger towns. There are three regular buyers here this season, besides several speculative buyers. Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Galt

If it's a surface to be painted, enameled, stained, varnished or finished in any way, there's an Acme Quality Kind to fit the purpose.

5 Strong Reasons for Fall Painting

1. The wood is thoroughly dry. Summer's sun has removed all moisture.
2. Paint penetrates deeper into dry wood. The deeper it goes the better it holds.
3. Fall weather is warm, dry and dependable. Little danger of cold, damp, rainy days, which endanger the durability of the paint.
4. Wet weather decays and destroys unprotected surfaces. Lack of paint means unsightly and less valuable property.
5. Fall painting keeps out winter moisture. The greatest enemy to the life and beauty of all structures.

Ask us about ACME QUALITY HOUSE PAINT. It insures the greatest protection and beauty, at the least cost per year of service. Questions cheerfully answered.

Who are The Money Makers

You will say the big rich men whose homes are known to everybody.

Not so. Many large enterprises are financed by the savings of clerks, work people—the masses who deposit part of their income in savings banks.

Little savings reach large aggregates wonderfully fast. Little extravagances multiply into large losses.
