

WEEKLY SMILES

Minister (who has tendered his resignation): Don't cry, grandma, they will send you another preacher, perhaps a very good one.

Old lady (still crying): That's what they promised us last time and they didn't do it.

"Did you kiss your sweetheart in a quiet spot?"

"No, I kissed her on the mouth."

It took nature ages to make man out of monkeys, but a beautiful woman can reverse the process in three minutes.

Insurance doctor: Any insanity in your family

Lady applicant: Well, no, only my husband imagines he is the head of the house. Za Ga Zig Feet Prints.

Smith: What is a woman's idea of hades

Jones: One thousand new hats and not a mirror in the house.

Women were created beautiful and foolish; beautiful that men may love them; foolish that they may love men.

Willie: Papa, did God make man first and then make woman to please man?

Papa: Yes, and she did.

Willie: But suppose God had made woman first and then made man to please woman?

Papa: Son, he would have been tinkering on Adam yet.

WILLIE QUEEN'S PLACE OF BUSINESS

There is one place of business in town that the owner and proprietor deserves more credit than any other, and that is Willie Queen's News Stand. Willie has a nice business and he has it arranged in a way he (a cripple) can give you service in his line, and his line is not only confined to papers and books but his little store is jammed full of many things.

Willie does business in a business like manner. You will find a telephone, cash register, and he also believes in advertising.

CHURCH MOVIE, MARTIN LUTHER MAY 16

"Martin Luther, His Life and Time" under auspices of the Lutheran Men's Club of the First Lutheran church, of Asheville, N. C., to be given next Sunday evening and night at the Plaza Theatre free. No admission charge will be made, only a free-will offering will be taken to help defray the expense.

This is the only date possible to secure the showing the entire year as the cinema in such great demand, among the protestant churches of our country since being released by the producers, that an itinerary has been arranged for a full nine months tour through the length and breadth of our great nation. It is stated that this is in no wise a denominational picture but is just as appealing to one denomination as to another. Many pastors are urgent in their appeal to churches to see the wonderful, vivid portrayal of this Reformation movie which has its settings and scenes in matters of over four hundred years ago when all Christendom was in turmoil and unrest and need of a Luther.

This picture truly shows though Motion Picture is made to serve high and worthy ends. Prof. Preserved Smith, a very noted critic, writes concerning this church movie, "historically and critically, the production can scarcely be too highly commended. The interiors and exteriors alike, the place and time. Dramatically and artistically, the scenes were at times given in a splendid manner, preeminently the scene at the Diet of Worms. On the whole, I must consider this production as one correct, authoritative and reflecting great credit on the scenario writer."

Study Club Meets with Mrs. Morris

Mrs. M. H. Morris was hostess to the Woman's Study Club on Thursday of last week. The subject of the afternoon was "American Architecture" this being based from Charles Mimford's book "Sticks and Stones." Mrs. J. C. Allison ably discussed the subject assisted by Mrs. C. A. Bales and Mrs. C. Z. Candler.

Mrs. C. A. Bales was appointed as a delegate to the State Convention in Asheville. Plans were made and committees appointed for observing clean up week.

Mrs. Morris served a delicious salad course.
