The use of more toothpicks is being urged as an aid to the lumber industry.

The author of "Happy Married Life" is said to be using his royalties to pay alimony.

Pathfinder thinks Business Blues are more dangerous to this country than Russian Reds.

A dog went over Niagara Falls and lived, which is bigger news than if it had been a cat.

Speakeasy waiters in Detroit have formed a secret society. The password is probably "Sh-h-h-h."

Possibly it was unemployment that impelled the serpent to seduce Eve on that apple proposition.

While viewing the struggle between Fascism and Bolshevism we prefer to stick to Americanism.

Mr. Coolidge was recently photographed raking hay. But perhaps that "has no political significance."

To make their victim's humiliation complete, Chicago gamblers "took him for a ride" in an Austin.

Humorists can't always be good. The later Wickersham reports were not nearly so funny as the one on Prohibition.

By his adamant resistance to critics Chairman Stone of the Federal Farm Board appears to be living up to his name.

GRADE FARM PRODUCTS

No farmer would expect to sell at a good price a barrel filled with onions, radishes, etc. The farmer's toes all mixed together. It is almost as foolish to expect to get the best market price for a barrel of a single product in which all sorts are dumped without regard to size, color or cleanliness.

Getting to properly grade their produce, many farmers must sell it for much less than might be obtained for the same stuff by exercising a little care in preparing it for the market. In discussing this important phase of marketing an expert says:

"Quality and uniformity in grains, fruit, cotton, potatoes, dairy and poultry products command a premium from the buyer. A crate of large, clean eggs of uniform color will bring more in a central market than one in which small, dirty, many colored eggs are included. Dirty potatoes of mixed sizes sell poorly alongside of clean ones that have been graded."

The difference in price between graded and ungraded products often mean the difference between profit and loss in farming operations.

IMPROVES HIS LAND BY LIME-LEGUMES

From yields of 6 to 15 bushels of wheat an acre, 10 to 15 bushels of corn and about one-half bail of cotton to 30 and 40 bushels of wheat, 40 bushels of corn and 500 to 700 pounds of lint cotton, is the interesting record of M. L. Adderholdt of route 4, Lexington in Davidson County.

This steady climb in soil fertility and resulting acre yields has been made during the last 13 years by the intelligent use of soil building practices including the generous use of limestone and legumes, say Agricultural extension workers of State College. When Mr. Adderholdt bought his present farm 13 years ago, the neighbors, as they do everywhere, prophesied that he would starve on the poor, sandy soil. He did have low crop yields for the first three years but he began the practice of using ground limestone and acid phosphate and turning under crops of red clover and vetch until he has one of the most fertile farms in Davidson County.

This past season, he averaged 30 bushels of wheat an acre on 16 acres, all of which was cotton or corn stalk land. On three acres, where a corn crop was grown last summer, he averaged 40 bushels of wheat. This three acres was planted to sweet clover turned under prior to the corn crop.

Mr. Adderholdt usually applies one ton of limestone an acre to begin with and then keeps up his lime requirements by adding a small amount in his fertilizer mix for a period of five years when he makes another application of one ton of the lime—one an acre. In this way, he grows clover and other legumes in a successful way.

By turning under that part of the clover not needed for hay, he builds up the nitrogen and organic matter content of his soil. Then with a little judicious fertilizing to balance the plant food supply, he is able to make profitable crop yields.

MRS. WALLACE ILL

Mrs. Lena Wallace of Cullowhee is in the C. J. Harris Community Hospital seriously ill.

She was taken to the hospital yesterday morning suffering from a heart attack.

LITTLE JUNE BESS SUSTAINED INJURIES IN WRECK

June Bess, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Bess, who was painfully injured in a wreck on last Tuesday afternoon when a bus in which she was riding skidded on a wet pavement four miles east of Marion on Highway Number 10, is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Bess and her two small children had been visiting Mr. Bess' people in Virginia and were on their return home when the accident occurred. Mrs. Bess received several cuts and bruises, but June was hurt worse. Nine others were injured and one man killed on a wagon into which the bus smashed broadsided. Another who was on the wagon was seriously injured, also a mule being killed.

Mr. Bess went to Marion as soon as he heard of the accident, returning with Mrs. Bess and the children, Thursday.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Avery Cunningham entertained a few friends last Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gribble.

Two tables were arranged for bridge. Miss Sue McCulley won high score prize. The hostess served delicious sandwiches with tea.

Those playing were Misses Mary Alma Wilson, Leah Nichols, Mary Candler Sue McCulley, Pauline Miller, Ruth Gribble, Mrs. W. L. Jones and Mrs. Cunningham.

3 RULES big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This famous doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.
