Hunting Licenses Exceed 12 Million Mark in 1947

WASHINGTON.—Albert M. Day, director of the U. S. fish and wild-life service, reported that 12,066,763 hunting licenses were sold to "the greatest army of hunters in all history" during 1947.

Maintaining a supply of game for this army of hunters is a problem, he added. The record receipts totalled $28,558,447.

Lonely Boy Flees from Farm
To Watery Death in Field

TERRE HAUTE, IND.—Although Mrs. Esther Baker earnestly tried to convince her 11-year-old son, Wayne Smith, that she wanted him, he wouldn't believe her.

Mrs. Baker, remarried after being divorced from Wayne's father, has only a small apartment in Terre Haute. There wasn't room for the boy.

She took Wayne to live with his father, Harry Smith, on a farm near town. He was lonely on the farm and ran away three times.

She took him back there in a taxi and left him. "I won't stay here," he screamed, and ran across the fields.

The father tried to call a warning, but it was too late. Wayne began running across what, for most of the year, is a dry wash. He couldn't see, in the darkness, that it was running 12 feet deep with water from melting snow.

The boy drowned, and the verdict at an inquest was accidental death.

Mr. & Mrs. Liston Hathaway of Tabor City visited Mr. & Mrs. D. G. Long Sunday.
