Free Will Baptist Slate S. S. Rally

Harry Pait, superintendent of the White Oak Free Will Baptist Sunday School, Bladenboro, N. C., announced today that all the Free Will Baptist Sunday Schools in the Pee Dee Conference, consisting of schools located in Columbus and Bladen counties would hold a Sunday School Rally at his church Sunday afternoon October 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Raymond T. Sasser, Wilson, N. C., will be in charge of the rally. The Rev. Cary Cheshire, pastor of the White Oak church.

Among the Sunday Schools who will be represented by their officers, teachers, and members are the following: White Oak, Beaver Dam, Oak Grove, Mt. Olive, Mill Creek, Deep Branch, Cypress Creek, Pleasant Meadow, Pine Level, Mt. Beulah, Mt. Calvary, Emerson, Mission Valley, Little Bethel, and Cedar Branch.

One of the interesting features of the program will be Sunday School chorus song period and gospel singing by choirs, quartets and other organized singing groups from each school.

Mr. Pait stated the purpose of the rally is to encourage all the schools in this county to become more closely associated in their Sunday School work and to discuss plans for holding Sunday School Rallies regularly in the future. Another important phase of the rally is to encourage the schools to make plans for a Sunday School officer and teacher training course.

Pait said that we were fortunate in having Mr. Sasser to conduct this rally for the Columbus and Bladen county schools, as he has had a great deal of experience in this activity as the president of the North Carolina Free Will Baptist Sunday School Convention-Institute. Miss Marie Hester, a member of the White Oak church is also Director of Records and Reports of the state Sunday School Convention-Institute, and will appear on the Rally program.

Special recognition will be given all schools who have 100% attendance of all officers and teachers.

Ground Broken For Clubhouse

The East Tabor Homemakers Home Demonstration club met on the building site of the clubhouse on Wednesday, October 15, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The ground was being cleared and Mrs. Elaine Blake, Home Agent, and Archie Martin, assistant county agent, made action pictures.

The material is being delivered to the grounds and the building is to get underway this month.

DOCK BAPTIST ASSOCIATION SLATES MEETING

The Dock Baptist Association, composed of Baptist churches in Columbus and Brunswick counties, will meet in annual session Friday and Saturday, October 24 and 25, with the Riverside Baptist church and the New Life Baptist church respectively.

During the Friday session at Riverside, the Crphanage, Religious Literature, Pastoral Support, and Christian Education will be discussed.

Besides the introductory sermon by Rev. W. V. Simmons and an address by Marse Grant, editor of Charity and children, representatives of the Biblical Recorder and the Baptist colleges in the state are expected to attend and take part on the program.

The Saturday session at New Life will consist of a sermon by Rev. Charles B. Howard, professor of Bible at Campbell College, and an address by Grover H. Jones, president of the North Carolina Baptist Convention.

Reports will be heard on the Baptist Hospital, Cooperative Program, and other matters of interest during the day.

The morning sessions will open at 10:00 with the afternoon program getting underway at 1:30. M. M. Jones is moderator of the association.

Nescafe Worker Busy At Yam Festival Here

J. D. Mitchell, representative of the Nestle company, who served Nescafe coffee here in the exhibit hall during the Fifth Annual Carolinas Yam Festival was one of the busiest persons during the three day event.

Festival visitors stood in line, booth day and evening, waiting both day and evening, waiting coffee.

Officials of the festival highly complimented Mr. Mitchell and his co-workers on the hospitality and fine work for the Nestle company. The number of cups served during the festival is not definitely known; however, festival visitors were estimated at 45,000 during the three day period.

The average time to grow a broiler out to market weight has been reduced from 12 to 10 weeks.

Every able bodied resident of Tabor City and the surrounding communities is invited to attend a public land clearing on the proposed playground here Thursday afternoon (tomorrow) at 2:00.

The permanent park committee with representatives from the various civic clubs in the area, met last week and scheduled the public working for tomorrow afternoon. The plot of ground, across the street from Inman Funeral Home and the local school grounds, is grown up in weeds and bushes. It is believed that one afternoon of work by a representative group of citizens would be all that is needed to get it in satisfactory condition.

The committee also appointed representatives to call on the merchants and citizens of the area for contributions with which to properly equip the area for recreation. The plot will eventually be equipped to entertain all ages of people, from the youngsters to little to go to school to the elderly people, from the youngsters to Buell Lanier is chairman of the park committee and was instrumental in getting the rights to the land from owners Paul Rogers and J. M. Soles for the purpose of building the playground. "I know that we have a lot of work to do in order to turn this area into a recreation center, but if every business house will try to get at least one person out to the working Thursday, we will make a big showing," Lanier said.

The committee also authorized work on a suitable sign to be placed on the playground as soon as possible. Work on tables, benches and outdoor cooking furnaces is also expected to begin just as soon as the area is cleared and in good condition.

The park project has been in the planning stage for about six months as a part of the "Finer Carolina" program here. The project must be well underway by October 31 if much consideration is given it by the judges in awarding prizes. There are 148 municipalities entered in the contest and the competition is expected to be keen.

Every Home Demonstration club, veterans organization, church or civic club is invited to join in the project and offer suggestion and assistance in completing the project in such a way that it will be of value to everyone in the area.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT CAROLINA

Revival services will begin at the Carolina Baptist church Monday night, October 27, with Rev. Carl Compton, pastor of the Myrtle Beach Baptist church, conducting services. Rev. Elwell Jones, pastor announced today.

Services will be held each morning and evening through Sunday, November 2. Morning services will be held each day at 10:30 and evening services at 7:30. The public is invited to attend.

BAPTIST WOMEN ORGANIZE NEW CIRCLE

Women of the Mt. Tabor Baptist church formed a new circle—the Sarah Baggett Cox Circle—at their organizational meeting at the home of Mrs. Reese Burroughs last Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

The circle was named in honor of Mrs. W. F. Cox, one of the oldest members of the church. Mrs. Cox was instrumental in organizing the first Woman's Missionary Union in Tabor City about 1909 and has been active in the church for many years.

Officers elected at last week's meeting included: Leader, Mrs. E. W. Fonvielle, previously named; Assistant Leader, Mrs. C. E. Walden; Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. Reese Burroughs; Community Missions Chairman, Mrs. Hazel Martin; Program Chairman, Mrs. D. F. McGougan; Stewardship Chairman, Mrs. B. F. Duncum; Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. Hartford Fowler.

Devotional at the first meeting was conducted by Mrs. Martin. Prayer was by Mrs. McGougan. The community missions project was the sending of a potted plant to a hospital patient.

Refreshments were served to 11 persons in attendance.

MARC WRENN

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wrenn announce the birth of a son, Marc, on Tuesday, October 21, at 4:45 a. m. Community hospital, Loris, S. C., weighing six pounds and nine ounces.

DAVE SIMON IS CHAIRMAN OF U.J.A. CAMPAIGN HERE

David Simon, local businessman, has been named chairman of the United Jewish Appeal funds campaign in Tabor City, it was announced today, and efforts to secure contributions for relieving suffering in foreign lands will be made.

Letters to local citizenry will be mailed out by Chairman Simon this week asking for contributions for this worthy cause.

This marks the first time that Simon has headed the drive here although he has been active in many civic projects for several years. He is a mason and a member of the local Civitan club.

"Perhaps the generous element of mankind of modern times has confronted no era of human tragedy comparable to that wrought during the last great world conflict when the Jews of many lands were singled out in particular for mass persecution of an unprecedented nature. Literally killing hundreds of thousands in the most barbaric manner that could be seen a haven wherever possible without the slightest regard for family ties, personal belongings or other considerations," Mr. Simon said.

"Through the generous aid of compassionate men and women, progress has been and is being made in reestablishing these persecuted and unfortunate victims of the most satanic powers of our generation, their Jewish brethren in this and other lands have rallied nobly. Christians too have marched shoulder to shoulder in this great humane cause, and it is with a sense of pride that I am permitted to share in a definite way by serving as Chairman of the U.J.A. as we join hands in unselfish liberality," Mr. Simon continued.

"I will appreciate your cooperation and contributions during this campaign and feel sure that you will want to do your part toward relieving this very unfortunate situation," said Mr. Simon.

Robert Wolpert is chairman of the drive in Loris and Louis Solomon, of Conway, heads the Whiteville zone campaign.

W. D. Williams Laid To Rest

William David Williams, 82, local retired man, died in the James Walker Memorial hospital, Wilmington Saturday afternoon at 3:45 after a long period of declining health. He was a patient in the hospital for about three weeks where he underwent surgery only a few days before his death.

Funeral rites were held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2:00 with the Rev. P. C. Gantt and Rev. G. W. Crutchfield in attendance. Burial was in the Green cemetery.

Survived by his wife Mrs. Edna Louise Williams; one daughter, Bill Williams, student at West Forest College; three granddaughters, Ann Hayden Williams and Mary Gail Williams at home and Mrs. Clara Lamb at Angles, Calif.

ATTEND RURAL HEALTH MEET

Mrs. Foy Fowler and Mrs. Elbert Wright of Tabor City, and Mrs. Nye of Bolton attended the rural health conference at the Sir Walter Raleigh hotel in Raleigh last Wednesday.

FINAL FACTS RELEASED ON LEAF MARKET

Sales Supervisor Don Hughes has released the unofficial totals for tobacco sales on the local market during the past season.

Hughes said that his figures show that 7,205,738 pounds were sold for $3,747,279.64. This is a drop over sales in 1951 of about 900,000 pounds. Most North Carolina markets have shown a considerable loss of volume this season because of the exceptionally dry weather during the growing season. Some markets have had 20 percent reduced sales from last year.

The official figures on the market have not been received from the U. S. Department of Agriculture yet but the warehouse figures are usually within a few pounds of the government figures.

MRS. L. R. WATSON WILL UNDERGO EYE OPERATION

Mrs. L. R. Watson, wife of Police Chief Watson here, will undergo an eye operation at James Walker Memorial Hospital today and will have a new artificial eye fitted.

Mrs. Watson will remain in Wilmington with Mr. Watson's mother for several days after the operation while she is recuperating.

THE KLAN MEETS AGAIN

(From The Charleston News and Courier)

The Ku Klux Klan, slapped down thoroughly in North Carolina, held a meeting and burned a cross near Lake City Wednesday night. Thomas L. Hamilton, the grand dragon for the Carolinas was unable to attend because he is doing a stretch in a North Carolina prison for floggings.

A robed but unmasked "grand titan" was present. He declined to give his name. He said he was a subscriber to The News and Courier and he described Hamilton as a "living monument" to the Klan cause.

If Hamilton is a living monument, he is now living where all ruthless floggers and persons who take the law into their own hands should reside. Our subscriber, the "grand titan," need not fear to reveal his name if he is a law-abiding citizen. But if he intends to wear Hamilton's shoes, he had better watch his step. Already he is treading dangerous ground.

Sharing the platform with the "grand titan" Wednesday was a woman in gold robes who said she represented the Klansmen's auxiliary, known as the "Big Sisters."

The function of the "Big Sisters" is not exactly clear to us. Perhaps they administer mercy by applying bandages to the wounds inflicted by the Klansmen's whips. Obviously, an outfit such as Hamilton's Klan needs a full-time group of "Big Sisters" to roll bandages, repair whips and mend sheets.

The story of Hamilton's Klan, as unfolded during trials last summer in Whiteville, was a disgusting tale of irresponsible sadism. The Hamilton Klan is not merely a symbol of bad racial relations, because whites and Negroes alike have felt the cutting sting of Klansmen's whips. The Hamilton Klan is an affront to decent people everywhere, and violates the principles of law and order on which all civilized societies are founded.

In addition, the Klan does untold damage to the South by playing into the hands of those Northern "liberals" who want to place Southern racial relations under Federal control.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Rev. G. W. Crutchfield, pastor of the Saint Paul Methodist church and the Zion Methodist church, is attending the annual Methodist conference in Burlington this week through Sunday.

Mrs. Crutchfield and daughter, Rhonda, are visiting relatives in Jonesboro Heights this week and will join Mr. Crutchfield in Burlington Friday.

F. L. FIPPS

F. L. Fipps, Jr. returned here during the weekend after serving with the Army Engineers for two years through the draft program. He was at Fort Belvoir, Va. most of the time and held the Sergeant rating.
