COUNTY SEEKS TO SETUP 11 OBSERVER CORPS POSTS

Neither Colonel Woods, or the Ground Observer Corps, or the movies of various World War II operations were on hand, but a substitute speaker and a substitute movie were presented to a meeting of local citizens at the school auditorium last Thursday night. The meeting was sponsored by the local Legion post.

The discussion emphasized the need for 1100 ground observation posts in the United States in order to guarantee proper national defense.

Eleven posts are scheduled to be set up in this county and Joe S. Mann, has been named supervisor of the corps in Columbus.

Volunteers are being sought to man the posts in Columbus county and efforts are underway here to have such a post located atop the town hall, much as it was during World War II when local people kept watch from that position.

Columbus County's 11 post will be set up at Delco, Bolton, Lake Waccamaw, Whiteville, Chadbourne, Boardman, Fair Bluff, Cherry Grove, Dothan, Old Dock and Tabor City.

One hundred volunteers for each post is considered necessary in order to have sufficient personnel for round the clock watches which would be vital if war should come to this country.

LORIS W.O.W. HONORED

The officers of the Loris W. O. W. Camp were called upon to preside over the meeting of the District W. O. W. in Dillon on Tuesday, November 18th.

At the meeting the Loris officers were judged on their ability to preside and were found to be the only camp in the district which has officers who can conduct the ritualistic ceremony from memory.

Each officer of the Loris camp was presented with a gold lapel pin as evidence of their ability in conducting the ritualistic work of the W. O. W. from memory.

Horry County surpassed all six of the other counties in the district in the number of representatives present. Out of total of approximately 250 representatives, 78 were from Horry County. Other counties in the district are Dillon, Marion, Florence, Georgetown, Darlington, and Chesterfield.

Guest speaker at the district meeting were Max B. Hunt, national vice-president; State Manager W. Lewis Spearman, Jimmy W. Crane national representative from South Carolina, and T. Alex Hsieh, high sheriff of Richland county, who is the national director.

Local Student To Have Poem In Publication

Wilson Lovett of Tabor City, sophomore at East Carolina College, has received notification from the National Poetry Association that his lyric "Flower Visit" will be included in their "Annual Anthology of College Poetry" for the current school year.

"The Anthology," says Secretary D. Hartman of the National Poetry Association in a recent letter to Lovett, "is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every state in the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted."

Lovett, who is specializing in work in the department of science at East Carolina, became interested in composing poetry through the influence of the late Lucile Bramlette, English teacher in the Tabor City schools. When "Flower Visit" appears in the anthology of college poetry, it will become the young author's first published work.

At the college Lovett is a cadet in the Air Force ROTC wing and a member of the student science club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lovett of Route 2, Tabor City.

Lovett's poem reads as follows:
FLOWER VISIT
I visited a flowering lawn,
To pass away some time,
I heard a softly buzzing song,
With such a rustic rhyme.

I smelled an odor in the air,
And saw the flowers too,
Since it was more than I could bear,
I'll share them both with you.

Each plant had many blossoms,
Each blossom its perfume,
The bees found needed nectar,
Within each tiny bloom.

Juveniles End $1300 Spree In Tabor City

Three youngsters were started on their way back to Washington, D. C., today after a spending spree with a portion of $1,300 taken from a capital drug store safe job. Dennis Miller and two companions, age 10 and 13, respectively, were picked up Sunday morning by officers in Tabor City where they were visiting the father of one of the juveniles.

Still wearing $15 boots and cowboy outfits they purchased in Fayetteville on their way from Washington to Tabor City, the trio was escorted on the return journey by three Washington detectives.

Chief L. R. Watson and Officer Ted Watts of Tabor City were informed by Washington detectives that Miller, age 16, and a girl by the name of Beverly were suspected of doing a "rip job" on a safe in a Washington drug store. The pair reportedly hid in the store at closing time, ripped open the safe, and made off with $1,300 in cash.

Early last week, Miller, accompanied by a younger brother and a 10-year-old native of Tabor City aroused suspicion when they hired a taxi to carry them from Fayetteville to Tabor City at a cost of $30. They also spent money lavishly in Tabor City.

Miller had only $56 on his person when he was picked up by Officer Ted Watts yesterday morning.

Soil Fumigation

By Dr. C. E. Dieter, Nematologist
The Dow Chemical Company

A primary requirement to produce satisfactory crops is a healthy plant root system. Many pests which inhabit the soil are injurious to root systems and interfere with their normal growth. Applications of soil fumigants is a recently developed means of controlling these destructive soil-inhabiting pests.

Soil fumigation for the underground portions of the plant may be compared to the application of insecticides and fungicides to the top growth. The control of nematode and insect pests of roots is as necessary for good plant growth as control of insects and diseases of fruit and foliage. Soil fumigation is not a substitute for good cultural practices but it is a part of such practices where conditions warrant its use. With few exceptions soil fumigants are applied prior to planting to allow aeration and prevent possible plant injury.

Soil fumigants, applied in the soil, will volatilize, diffuse and destroy or greatly reduce nematodes, insects and diseases which interfere with normal root development. Increases in quantity and quality of marketable crops of from 50 to 100% have been reported following fumigation of nematode-infested soils.

Most sweet potatoes in this area have been sold but officials of the local yam auction market announced this week that so long as some potatoes continued to be brought in, sales would continue in Tabor City. Sales will probably continue for a week or ten days.

The exceptionally warm fall has made it possible for farmers to dig yams without danger of cold hurt as has been the case in late harvesting in the past. This has made it possible for the local market to continue selling unfairly large quantities thus far.

The market is well past last year's total sales with 291,674 bushels sold through last Saturday at an average price of $4.08 per bushel. The total amount paid out for potatoes by the local market is $1,190,552.78, through last Saturday.

The Tabor City market sold 254,000 bushels last season at an average price of $3.86 per bushel.

Changes Made In Soil Sampling

Two important changes have been made in submitting samples of soil for testing by the soil sampling laboratory of the State Department of Agriculture, according to Charles Raper, Columbus County farm agent for the State College Extension Service.

Mr. Raper emphasized that by early sampling farmers will be assured of having soil test results and recommendations before placing next year's order for lime and fertilizer.

The changes in the procedure follow:

There have been two changes in the procedure for getting soil samples tested:

First, the information blank has been revised. This new sheet is designed to give more information on soil type, drainage, slope, and crop rotations to be followed. This information will be used to help interpret soil test results as a partial substitute for subsoil samples. Therefore, it is very important that these blanks be filled in as completely as possible.

Second, subsoil samples are no longer necessary. To obtain a soil sample that will be representative of the area you want tested take a small uniform core (or slice) of soil from the surface to a depth of about 6 inches in 15 or 20 spots. All of these cores should be combined or put in one box and properly labeled. Small areas that differ in color, texture or drainage should be avoided or sampled separately. More complete instruction are given on the back of the new information sheet.
