DEVELOPMENT AT ANDREWS

Spencer, Dec. 30—The J. B. McCreary Company, of Atlanta, which recently completed a large sewer contract in Spencer, has under way a big hydro-electric plant at Andrews, N. C. A water fall of 557 feet and with 350 horsepower is being developed and it is expected the town of Andrews will vote bonds to complete the plant.—New Observer.

CORN EXPOSITION

Columbia, S. C. January 3—(Special)—With six feature days, each carrying a special program of addressed by distinguished speakers, the opening week of the Fifth National Corn Exposition will offer a splendid variety of topics of especial interest to every visitor. This great agricultural event, stressing every phase of agricultural progress, and the culmination of two years' careful planning and preparation, will open on the 27th of this month. With only three weeks remaining before the building will be thrown open to the public, the hundreds of details are rapidly nearing final perfection.

The National Corn Exposition will continue two weeks, closing on February 8th. Like the first week, the second week will have a number of feature days, but it will also be characterized by conferences on rural life and community work, which are expected to prove of great benefit to all visitors interested in the social development of the rural community.

Monday, January 27th, will be strikingly celebrated in a significant manner as the Opening Day of the Exposition. Tuesday will be South Carolina Day, when special events representative of this State will be featured. Wednesday will be National Live Stock Day, Thursday, National Farmers' Union Day, and Friday National Education Day. On each of these days there will be special addresses by prominent speakers on pertinent topics. Saturday will be Boys' Day, marking the close of the Exposition School for Prize Winners, to be conducted during the first week of the Exposition.

The program for the second week is rapidly being completed, and the full list of speakers for the two weeks will be announced in the near future.
