BE A FRIEND TO MAN

Let me live in my house by the side of the road.

Where the race of men go by;
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong.

Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorn-er's seat,

Or hurl the cynic's ban?
side of the road,

And be a friend of man.
—Sam Walter Foss

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature to compel all children between the ages of 7 and 12 years to attend school.

There is no such thing as compulsory education. But, a compulsory school attendance law would be of great advantage.

Dr. Joyner's plan of a uniform system of examination for teachers is an excellent one. It would exclude the incompetent teacher and a teacher's certificate obtained under this system would hold good in any County in the State.

The Asheville citizen says that there is a cold snap coming to Asheville. From this we infer, that it will not strike anywhere else in Western Carolina and therefore, would advise that if the people in Asheville wish to avoid the cold that they come over to Sylva.

STAY RIGHT HERE.

It always grieves us to hear of a North Carolina boy turning his eyes toward some other State to make his fortune. The same wisdom and energy applied here will bring as good or better results than elsewhere. It may be for the time being a fellow may make a little more money in some other State, but in the long run, nine times out of ten, larger financial success will come to him who builds his business in North Carolina. We are always sorry for the man whose local attachments lie lightly upon him. One who, as the saying goes, "is at home wherever he hangs up his hat." The love of home and friends is a sign of character. The Rover is never a strong man. But there are some things in this world that are better than money. We all owe an obligation to our native State. She gave us birth. All our lives we have enjoyed the blessings of her institutions. We have breathed her spirit. We have made friends of her people. Did it ever occur to you that this is real capital? As for the writer, he feels that it would take a dazzling offer indeed to draw him from his native State. His friends are nearly all in North Carolina, and he thinks too much of them to run away and leave them.
Somehow what our boys are doing abroad does not interest us very much. Of course we love them still, but they are contributing not one thing to the betterment of their old State. They are using their talent to develop a new and alien community. We need all our boys to help solve the great moral questions that are pressing upon us right now, and no other boys can do it so wisely or so well. We are very thankful, of course, for the splendid men the other States have given us —some of the noblest citizens we have were not born in North Carolina—but at the same time we do not like the idea of trading our boys for the best that come to us from other States. Let us all stay in North Carolina and do our best to make her what she ought to be—Charity and Children.

THE WEBB-KENYON BILL.

President Vann, of Meredith College, expresses his opinion of the Webb-Kenyon Bill and the need of a search and seizure law in the following letter to the News and Observer:

To the Editor:—The session of the Anti-Saloon League in Washington December 16-19 left little doubt in the minds of the delegates of the passage of the Webb-Kenyon bill by both houses of Congress This is the most serious danger that has ever threatened the liquor interests in America, and is so regarded by the liquor dealers themselves.
The effect of the bill would be to withdraw the protection of the United States government from those offenders who, under the shelter of the inter-state commerce act, have sought to nullify the laws of the several dry states by flooding the states with alcoholic liquors.
Under the proposed act all such liquors shipped into any state would become subject to the laws and police powers of that state. It would not "prohibit all shipment of liquor," as its enemies claim, and in fact, would prohibit no shipment of any kind. But it would enable a state to exercise the functions of self-government, and prevent the citizens of other states from doing what it prohibits its own citizens from doing. It would enable a state to protect herself from those lawless citizens of other states who have so far defied her laws and mocked at her authority.

But the mere passage by Congress of any bill, however important, would not save us from the inter-state liquor traffic. Undoubtedly the same class of people who have defied our state laws thus far would attempt to evade them still and it is this evil that we must prevent. Something must be done to enable the state to enforce the laws it already has, and to this end, I hope all the friends of sobriety and good government will frame and put through the next legislature a search and seizure act which would enable the proper officials to locate all liquors unlawfully held and bring the offenders to justice.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Senator Stubbs, of Martin, introduced a bill to submit to the voters of the State, at the general election in 1914, the proposition of "convention" or "no convention," to revise or amend the State constitution and providing machinery for electing delegates and holding the convention.

What is the necessity of putting the State to this added expense?
If this constitution should be amended, why not the General Assembly make the necessary amendments and submit them to the people for ratification or call a constitution convention and let the people elect the members of that convention?
The amendments must have the approval of the people before they can become a part of the constitution. It is useless to hold two elections and practically the same question, this incurring unnecessary expense, when only one will answer every purpose.

THE BIBLE.

This Book contains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, doom of sinners, and happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, the soldiers' sword, and the Christian's character.
Here Paradise is restored, heaven opened and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our God its design and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart and guide the feet. Read it slowly, fervently and prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be open at the judgment, and be remembered fore-ever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

Health And Corset.

In these days we have begun to make health our first consideration. The days of folly and superstition along the line of health and comfort are over and a new day has dawned. For a number of years the medical fraternity has condemned the corset as one of the greatest menac-es to the health and vitality of womanhood. But at last a solution has been found. SPIRELLA CORSET, is one that is not only not placed with others as being detrimental to health, but leading physicians commend and approve it. The Spirella Corset, LOOKS WELL FITS RIGHT, and
