CHEROKEE CO. NEWS.

We understand that an officer of the government is here working on the Eayson case, securing evidence, etc., and we may expect some startling developments in a few days. It is certainly time some one was looking after and inquiring how this man met his death. It now seems certain that Walter Eayson, who for the past ten years has gone up and down this country as a watch and clock tinker, was a secret service man in the employment of the government. It will be remembered by our readers that Eayson was found in an unconscious state on the roadside in Beaverdam township, on December 16th, and he died on Christmas day from the effects of having been badly beaten up and stabbed in the side.—Dr. C. Z. Candler, accompanied by his family, left Tuesday for Sylva, which place he will make his future home. Dr. Candler moved to Murphy from Dillsboro the first of the year and formed a partnership with Dr. N. B. Adams, and during his short stay here made many friends who regret to see him leave. The removal of Dr. Candler is purely one of business, for he fell in love with Murphy and our people. At Sylva he will be associated with Dr. D. D. Hooper in the practice of medicine, and we trust he will realize his fondest dreams in following his chosen profession.—Revenue officers seized two blockade stills Friday night near the Georgia line. Four men were arrested and made bond. On Saturday night they got another still in the edge of Macon county, but the man made good his escape. During the past week the officers have destroyed six illicit distilleries, an average of one a day. The officers engaged in these raids were: Deputy Collector Jolly, Deputy Collector Shelton and Special Deputy J. J. McDonald.—A petition is being circulated asking our members of the legislature to pass a search and seizure whiskey law for Cherokee county, whereby an officer has the right to seize and search an article or the premises of any one, and should he find more than half a gallon of whiskey it is prima facie evidence that he is retailing.—Scout.

FINAL PLEA FOR ALLENS.

Richmond, Va. Feb. 1.—Governor Mann today heard the final plea of lawyers and citizens for a commutation of the death sentence imposed upon Floyd Allen and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, for their part in the Carroll county court murder on March 14 last. Both prisoners will be electrocuted on March 7, unless the governor interferes, though at the conclusion of the hearing he did not intimate what action he would take, if any, or at what time he would issue a final statement. While mercy was asked in behalf of the father and son, the general plea was for Claude, this being largely based upon his youth, and the fact that he was accustomed to do the bidding of his father, regardless of results, Miss Nellie Wissler, Claude's fiancée, attended the hearing.—Citizen.

This is the time of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by ALL DEALERS.
