TWO HOMICIDES

Haywood added two killings to her long list, last week. One was the shooting of Will Cristopher in Dutch Cove by his first cousin James Christopher. The two cousins had had some words and a fight when Will Christopher started to leave and was called by James Christopher who fired upon him with a snot guu just as he turned to face his slayer. Will Christopher was carried to an Asheville hospital where he died.

The other was the death of Will P. McClure a 65 year old farmer whose body was found besides Jonathan Creek road some two miles from Waynesville. It was at first supposed that he had been drinking and had died from the effect of his over mauigence. The coroner's Jury brought in the verdict that the ueceased came to his death as a resuit of a blow off the head.

G. M. Core, our esceemed postmaster and general merchant, is going out or business. He says the tarnal Delilocrats are going to take the office away from min and that while he has a treffendous stock of goods on hund at present, consist. ing of a keg of lard, a parrell of Sugar, hall a case of coffee and two sacks of sait, he thinks, by pushing, he can get it all solu by the time his successor is appointed. He says the rush of dusiness the does not agree with him and he desires a long rest.

H. A. Pell, W., T. Hawkins and Columbus Hawkins fore themselves away from their work Friday and started off on a camp fish. They walked filteen miles to the river, took two terrific rains, camped in an old house where there were plenty of neas, killed two rattle snakes had a lox race and caught about sixty fish between them. Mr. Hawkins says they are going again as soon as they torget this trip.

REBUCHADNEZZAR in ancient Biblical times saw the shifting mural message, but could not read it. And there are many who are like him today. They see the letters blazoned on the guideposts that point the road up the broad highway of. Opportunity, yet fail to decipher their meaning.

How many business men, for example, have yet read the message in "Parcel Post?" *

The parcel post enables the small merchant to deliver goods to customers within his zone more cheanly and much more quickly than any outsider can. It brings every buyer within a fifty mile radius of his place of business almost to his door. It opens up facilities for trade that he never had before.

AREN'T THESE FACTS SOMETHING FOR THE WISE MAN TO THINK ABOUT?

A Question. Of Education

THE mail order houses have systematically educated the public that it is easier to drop a letter in the postoffice than to hitch up and drive one or five or ten miles to get an article, even if they have to wait two or three weeks for it. The time has now come for the small merchant to reap an advantage from this fact for himself. Using the parcel post he can ship goods to customers within his zone cheaper, quicker and generally more satisfactorily than any one else can do it.

THE NEXT STEP IN THE PUBLIC'S EDUCATION MUST BE THAT IT PAYS TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE MAN NEARER HOME. This must be done in concrete fashion-by catalogue or specific newspaper, circular or poster advertising. It is merely a question of disseminating this knowledge. When those who have done business with the mail order houses in the past learn that the merchant close at hand can supply their needs as readily and much more
