$1.00 THE YEAR IN ADVANCE

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM CULLOWHEE.

Luther Aiken, from Brevard, N. C. has been here the past week buying cattle.

Hayes Hooper, of Big Ridge, passed through Cullowhee last week en route to Sylva.

Miss Lillian Green, who has been ill for some time, is in school again. Gus Galloway passed through Cullowhee Monday.

Hix Wike was here this week on business.

Rev. D. R. Proffitt, of Webster was in Cullowhee Tuesday.

Zeb Watson was a visitor Monday from Speedwell.

Prof. Reynolds has returned from Raleigh where he has been for the past three weeks in the interest of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School.

Milas Parker, of Caney Fork, passed through Cullowhee Tuesday.

J. H. Rogers has about completed the grading of the new road between the Episcopal church and upper Cullowhee.

As time passes the student body of Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School impresses itself more and more upon the community and school authorities as being a company of the finest young people ever gathered here.

G. W. N. C. A. MEETING

The delegations of the several counties comprising the Greater Western North Carolina Association and the representatives of the Southern Railway, who met at the Langren, Tuesday afternoon, were in session for parts of two days and heard the reports of the manager and of the counties. Facts were presented showing a great increase of travel and a general awakening of business endeavor throughout the section, through the efforts of the Association.

Plans were laid for better and more efficient work for the future.

A committee, composed of J. Baylis Rector, S. C. Satterthwait, W. H. Smith, W. T. Lindsey, W. E. Breese Jr., W. H. Rhodes, Guy V. Roberts and M. V. Richards, was appointed to consider a reorganization of the Association and to report later.

Jackson was represented by John B. Ensley, W. H. Rhodes, David Harris and W. V. Dorsey.

BRYAN AND DANIELS COMING

Raleigh Jan. 26.—Secretaries Daniels and Bryan speak before the State Conference for Social Service at Raleigh, Saturday morning, January 30th and before the legislature that afternoon. Among the other big speakers at the Conference will be Mr. Thomas Mott Osborne of Sing Sing Prison New York, and Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart of Frankfort, Kentucky. Mrs. Stewart will speak Thursday night on Moonlight schools.

The present Conference will undoubtedly be the biggest and best yet held. Special emphasis will be laid on the matter of prison reform and the reduction of adult illiteracy. The best speakers and thinkers from all over the State will be heard on the program from the first meeting Thursday afternoon, January 28th, until the final meeting Saturday morning, January 30th.

CAMP JACKSON WILL BE HERE

In a letter to C. C. Buchanan, secretary to the Sylva Board of Trade, Prof. Jordan H. Sanford, manager of Camp Jackson, states that he and his brother will arrive about the first of July, bringing with them twice the number of boys that were at Camp Jackson last summer.

The Sanfords and their assistants and students will again spend the months of July and August at the Jackson County Fair Grounds.

QUALLA.

It has been quiet rainy here for sometime, but looking fair today.

There has been a two weeks singing school taught at Worley's Chapel by Mr. Tom Shytle. Mr. Shytle is now teaching a school at Olivet.

The Singing convention of the lower district was held at Olivet the third Saturday and Sunday in January.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the occasion. The next convention will be held at Balsam church the third Saturday and Sunday in April.

The Olivet Literary Society met at the home of Mrs. George Sherrill last week. Everyone seemed to enjoy the occasion. Subject, resolved, "That nature is more attractive to man than art." Aff. Edmund Beck, Vernon Farmer, Neg. Loyal Hipps, W. S. Farmer.

The negative won. The next debate will be held at Mr. J. C. Rhodes. Resolved "That the U. S. navy should be enlarged," by the same speakers.

W. L. Enloe is teaching a school in Penmanshp at Shoal Creek.

The Qualla graded school closed last Friday Jan. 15, on account of the Prof. being sick.

Rev. O. P. Williams delivered an excellent sermon at the Shoal Creek Baptist church Sunday Jan. 10.

Carl Terrell who has had a serious case of pneumonia is improving very fast.

We are sorry to hear of John Green our mail carrier being sick but hope he will soon recover.

The parties have been stirring very rapidly around here since Christmas, and the appealing wedding bells has been sounding of great deal.

K. Howell says it is very mud for logging now.

Miss Mary Hampton was the guest of Miss Josie Martin last Sunday.

Hansley Bradley and family are going to move to Bunches Creek, where they will stay for awhile.

Fred Gibson was the guest of Edmund Beck Monday night.

Some excellent singing was done by the Worley Chapel choir. Also some fine singing was done by the Olivet choir, at Olivet on last Sunday evening.

There has been quite a bit of sickness in the community, but wish every one a speedy recovery.

Sam Hughes is going to start west in a few days.

Weaver Messer was seriously hurt at Black Mountain and is now in the Mission hospital at Asheville. Yurgus Sherrill seems to be a welcome visitor at Willie Reagan's.

The Ducat girls of Soco were the guests of Miss Dorcas Sherrill Sunday.

Miss Amy Bumgarner was the guest of Miss Eula Gibson last Sunday.

If this escapes the waste basket will probably write again.

Edmund and Willie.

WEBSTER PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL.

The enrollment of Webster school has reached 198. This is eight more than the number on the census list.

The high school department has enrolled forty-six. Besides these, there are eight who are taking a special course in the public school studies, school law and the reading course, in preparation for the county examination next summer.

The public high schools admit students from any part of the county without tuition charges. These schools are kept up by county and state funds, together with the local taxes, and the people of the county should avail themselves of the privilege of the excellent high school advantages that are offered free of charge.

We have six hard working teachers, a good building well equipped, and a people united for educational uplift.

THE DUTY OF THE PARENT TO THE SCHOOL

The following paper was prepared by Mrs. S. W. Enloe and read at a meeting of the Dillsboro Improvement Club.

What we need in the public schools is a little more knowledge and moral stamina on the part of parents. To teach a child and to fit him for right living is the highest prerogative of the parents and we must not use the school as a makeshift, nor should we expect the child to learn there the things he should be taught at home.

The school was intended to supplement the home; not to supplant it. There is a parental duty and there is a teacher's part in the training of our young and woe to our children if we confuse the two and try to shift what is properly the parents' part upon the shoulders of strangers.

There is a lot of truth in the homely old saying "you never know what you can do, till you try." To many of us it has seemed that burdens were imposed on body and soul to the limit of endurance. Then a great trial was superimposed, and as by a miracle, the grace and strength sufficient for the day of need were provided.

Have you ever been a teacher and have you gone into a strange community to take a position in the school? Of course you arrive a few days before your work is to begin. You are the observed of all observers, you are the new teacher. How you have longed to make a good impression and how you have prayed to do rightly, the duties you have taken upon yourself. And deep down in your heart, you feel the need of encouragement and the need of friends. No one but a teacher can know what it means.

He begins school and takes charge of your boys and your girls. The days pass and not a mother or a father comes to the school building to meet the teacher. Some of us think, "Well, he must be alright, or the committee never would have employed him," and we leave our children all day long and seven or eight months of the year in charge of a man or woman we do not know.

Suppose you owned a valuable race horse. Wouldn't you see that he is provided with comfortable

JACKSON BOY IN KENTUCKY

The following from a Kentucky paper will be of interest to the many friends, in this county, of Dr. Fred Brown.

Dr. F. E. Brown has been extended a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Frankfort and it is said he has accepted. This news comes as a great regret to this community, where Dr. Brown and his lovely wife have labored so earnestly, and the people have grown to love and admire them. The Baptist here has grown spiritually and in membership under his charge and it is splendidly organized, Dr. Brown is eloquent and forceful in his preaching and is rapidly gaining note as an evangelist. The Frankfort church is to be congratulated on securing such able and tireless christians as Mr. and Mrs. Brown. He has been suffering the past week with a severe attack of quinsy, but we are glad to state is somewhat better.

FROM QUALLA.

Whittier, N. C., R. 1
Jan. 25, 1915.

Mr. Dan Tompkins
Editor Journal,
Sylva, N. C.

Dear Sir—Just to help the cause I would be glad you would announce in your paper that "Qualla has a long list of names to the petition to place the officers on salaries and to abolish the office of County Treasurer."

We are sending the petition direct to Mr. Jones at Raleigh, but thank the Journal very much for helping so much in this matter.

Trusting that the citizens in all parts of the county will sign the petition, and help to get this much needed reform,

Yours sincerely,
P. H. Ferguson,

The ladies of the M. E. Missionary Society gave a delightful "Sock Social" at the home of Mrs. A. S. Nichols Jan. 26 for the benefit of the new M. E. church to be erected this year. They sent out invitations containing diminutive socks with the request they be returned containing pennies equal to twice the No. of the size of the sock you wear. Many responded through the mails and in person, many out of town ladies were present as well as a large number of resident ladies. A sum exceeding $30 was realized which they pronounced a success with thanks for all who so kindly aided them in their effort to raise funds to build the new church.

Mrs. M. Buchanan and Mrs. W. B. Dunn spent Thursday in Waynesville.

SEE WESTERN CAROLINA FIRST

(Everything.)

We have been talking and still talk about trading at home—but we want to emphasize another fact—and that is to stay at home. Western North Carolina has scenery as pretty, as enchanting, as sublime as any section of the world. On the east we have the ocean, and the mountains of the west are not to be surpassed.

Those who have money to spend in travel will be benefited in health and intellect if they will spend their time and their dollars with it, at our resorts in the South.

There is no use to hike to Europe. There was a time when have seen Europe meant something—because it was quite a journey. But now most all people understand that a jaunt to Europe is nothing but a few pasters on your grip sack and a wad of money left behind. The man who has rubber-necked in the Eastern Capitals and given his coin has seen very little—the tourist is the legitimate mark for all kinds of sharks—and you might as well read the guide book this side as the other.

We have been pretty well around the world—save the extreme east—and we are here to tell you that Western North Carolina is as much of a wonderland as any on the globe. So why part with your coin, your patience and your strength to go to some far-away land? Stay at home.

SALE OF OPIUM.

The Act of Congress approved December 17, 1914, relative to compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives or preparations requires each person, firm or corporation handling same, whether druggist, physician, dentist, veterinarian or others, to register with the Collector of Internal Revenue as such dealer on or before March 1, 1915.

At time of registry, special tax shall be paid at rate of $1.00 per year or 34 cents for period March 1st to June 30th, 1915, and order forms, to be used in case of each purchase, costing $1.00 per hundred from the Collector.

A penalty of 2,000.00 is imposed for violation or failure to comply with provisions of this Act.

Copies of the Act and regulations thereunder giving full information to those interested can be obtained from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

A. D. WATTS,
Collector,

TRY THIS FOR NEURALGIA.

Thousands of people keep on suffering with Neuralgia because they do not know what to do for it. Neuralgia is a pain in the nerves. What you want to do is to soothe the nerve itself. Apply Sloan's Liniment to the surface over the pain-part—do not rub it in. Sloan's Liniment penetrates very quickly to the sore, irritated nerve and allays the inflammation. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents at any druggist and have it in the house—against Colds, Sore and Swollen Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.
