SYLVA, N. C., OCT. 11, 1918.

$1.50 THE YEAR IN ADVANCE

TO LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS

To all Liberty Loan workers of the Woman's Committee of Jackson County.—Official information has been received that Jackson county's allotment for the Fourth Liberty Loan is $260,000.

This is a bit disheartening, I know, but after all it is only $20.00 per capita. On a basis of five to the family this only means a $100.00 bond in every household. Certainly that does not seem impossible.

Ladies, our task is set—it must be performed. Not only our Government but our boys on the battle-front are relying on us to accomplish it.

I look on our Liberty Loan work very much as I imagine these soldiers look upon their work in France. No doubt the mighty rush of Germans looks appalling to them, but do they falter? No, they stop for nothing and we must keep pace with them.

Let us picture our allotment as a rush of the Huns and determine to meet it. With this view no allotment is impossible.

Yours for the Fourth Liberty Loan,
Mrs. E. L. McKee,
Chairman.

MISS HUMMER THE BRIDE OF HENRY LEON COX

Facing a massive bower of ferns and palms which completely obscured the platform, Miss Josephine Tankings Hummer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Ramsey Hummer, of 25 McDavitt Place, became the bride of Mr. Henry Leon Cox of Cullowhee, N. C., in the Memorial Presbyterian Church at 7:30 Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Peter McMillan, D. D., in the presence of 500 guests.

Preceding the arrival of the bridal party, Mme. Hallet Frank, of New York, sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me" to the accompaniment of Mr. Harry Jackson Dickerson of New York. Promptly at the appointed hour, Mr. Dickerson struck the familiar strains of Lohengren and the bridal procession began. The impressive double ring ceremony was used.

The brides-maids were Miss Frances L. Purdy, of Jersey City; Miss Dorothy L. Cook of Southfield, Mass.; Miss Marguerite Page, of Madison N. J., all former classmates of the bride at college; and Miss Estelle Lambert of Dover, N. J. Miss Leonard B. Tonking of Elliott St., a cousin of the bride, was Maid of Honor. The brides-maids were beautifully attired in pink and blue tissue, covered with tulle, and with jaune velvet girdles; their bouquets were pink roses. The maid of honor was gowned in becoming yellow satin trimmed with tulle and velvet, and carried a bouquet of yellow crysanthemums. Little Miss Marjorie Lambert served as flower girl, and wore pink and blue tulle, and carried a basket of lovely brides roses. The bride was lovely in a gown of white charmeuse, over-hung with chantilly lace and embroidered in silver, with brocaded satin train. Her veil and cap were composed of a rare piece of lace purchased in Brussels. She carried a bouquet of roses showered with lillies of the valley and bouvardia. She was given in marriage by her father.

The best man was George B. Griffiths, of Dover, and the ushers Dean M. Jackman, Guy Merryman, Philip Wardle and Ellis B. Cooper.

The bride's gifts to her brides-maids were handsome silver picture frames; to the maid of honor a gold thimble, and to the little flower girl a gold bracelet. The groom's gift to the bride was a Liberty Bond; to the best man the groom gave gold cuff links and to the ushers gold pen-knives.

Following the ceremony, the invited guests, about one hundred in number, returned to the Hummer home for the reception. Voss's Orchestra, of Newark, played during the evening, and Caterer Day served the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox left during the evening for a short honeymoon. They motored to Newark, stopping at the Robert Treat Hotel Thursday night, and left the next day for New York, thence south where they will remain about two weeks, spending part of the time at Mr. Cox's home in North Carolina. On their return, they will reside at 14 Lincoln Avenue, Dover.

Mrs. Cox is a graduate of the girls' college at Hackettstown. Mr. Cox is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and is Chief Chemist in the laboratory at the Kenvil plant of the Hercules Powder Company,—Newark Evening News.

DON'T BE A SLACKER

Citizens of Jackson County.—Many of you are not doing your duty in this Liberty Loan Drive. You are putting your personal matters ahead of your duty. Quite a few of our citizens are giving both their money and time and the most sacrificing buyers are the best workers.

You will be ashamed the longest day you live if you not both buy and work to your ability.

Any personal sacrifice you may make will be more than repaid in satisfaction to your conscience as long as you exist.

Don't wait for a solicitor to come to see you, as they have their hands full, but hunt them up or send your subscription to your bank.

It is a small souled man who refuses to buy just because he has not got the money in hand. If you can raise the first payment, your bank will help you take care of your other payments, if you should fail to raise the payments just when due.

If you have the desire to buy, there is a way and ninety per cent of the excuses that are made are not believed, as your neighbor knows you and your ability.

Our people appear to be patriotic at it takes sacrifices and deeds to, prove it. Make this a personal matter and buy to your utmost credit. After first payment your bond will back you up to pay the rest. The city of Shanghai, China, will buy four times as many Liberty Bonds as Jackson county, if the people don't wake up. The people of Shanghai, China, bought two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the first three days of this campaign.

Every man should close his doors and every man lay down his personal work until our allotment is raised.

Don't be a shirker! Don't be a slacker!

E. L. McKee,
Chm. Lib. Loan Com. Jackson Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flannery who have been spending some time with Mrs. Flannery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ensley, left the first of the week for their home in Princeton, N. J.

Ransom Coward, of the U. S. Navy, who has crossed the ocean five times, is visiting relatives here and at Webster.

The doctors request us to ask the people who need their services to put in a call early in the morning, whenever it is possible, so that they may arrange their work so as to take care of all patients during the epidemic of influenza.

APPLE SYRUP OR CONCENTRATED CIDER

Boiled down cider gives a product with a decided acid flavor; to remove this, it is necessary to add carbonate or milk of lime to the cider.

Method of making Apple Syrup.—To make one gallon of syrup, it is necessary to have seven gallons of apple cider. Stir into this five ounces of powdered calcium carbonate (carbonate of lime) obtainable at drug stores in the form of precipitated chalk or powdered marble dust. Heat the cider and allow to boil for a few minutes. As the cider will foam slightly, it is necessary to use a vessel at least one-third larger than the volume of cider. Pour the cider, after boiling, into glass vessels, preferably half gallon fruit jars, which permit the condition of the liquid to be observed. Allow the liquid to set until perfectly clear. This will take several hours. When the liquid is perfectly clear and shows a distinct sediment at the bottom, gently pour off the clear portion into a preserving kettle, filling the kettle only one-third full to allow boiling. Add to the clear liquid a level teaspoonful of the carbonate of lime, stirring thoroughly. Allow the liquid to boil rapidly until it is reduced to one gallon, or one-seventh of the original volume. Test the liquid by cooling a small portion rapidly and cease cooking when it has reached the consistency of maple syrup. The aim is to have a thin syrup rather than one that will candy.

Pour into sterilized bottles or jars, set the vessels into buckets or tubs of hot water, to allow the syrup to cool slowly; this is very important if a clear product is desired. A fireless cooker or wash boiler is good to do this cooling. When the syrup has cooled to room temperature, a white sediment will be seen in the bottom of jars. This is a harmless compound formed from the lime and the acid of the apples. Pour off the clear syrup into a kettle and heat to nearly boiling, pour into sterilized bottles; seal air tight.

The above directions were copied from Successful Canning and Preserving, by Miss Ola Powell, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Assistant in Home Demonstration Work. Thousands of bushels of apples are going to waste in Western North Carolina. The housekeepers have dried and canned all summer and the farmer has sold all he has had labor and time to gather. The apple crop was a failure in the Central and Eastern parts of the State and the housekeepers are asking for names of Western farmers who have apples to sell. The farmers are anxious to dispose of the surplus, but say that barrels are scarce and expensive, being from 75c to $1.00 each. One farmer said that he would sell his apples for 25c per bushel if the purchaser would come and pick them up and carry them away.

In view of the shortage of sugar, the directions above should prove of value, in utilizing the surplus apples and furnishing a healthful sweet for the table. It is desired that every housewife in Western North Carolina make up at least one batch of this syrup for her pantry and test out its merits.

Tuesday afternoon a small, but enthusiastic audience gathered to hear a thrilling story of life in the trenches, told by C. H. Miller—a young soldier wounded and just returned from France. He begged his audience to back up the boys "over there" with Liberty Bonds.

Private Miller was followed by Mr. Odell, of Omaha, who made a singularly touching and stirring address in behalf of Liberty Bonds.

WOMEN NEEDED FOR RED CROSS.

The Red Cross Department of Personnel, through its Director, T. G. Woolford, has just received a call for women canteen and hut workers in overseas service. The call is urgent inasmuch as the quota needed by the Southern Division must be met within the next six weeks.

This is a rare opportunity for the capable woman desiring to do duty abroad, and the many women in the states of Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, North and South Carolina who have been anxious to ally themselves with active Red Cross service abroad cannot afford to overlook these newly announced openings.

All who are interested may receive fuller information and instructions by communicating with Department of Personnel, Healey Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Alvis Wolff Tells About His Struggles

Declares He Was Just About Done For—"Tanlac Has Made a New Man of Me," He Says—Troubles Disappear.

Alvis Wolff, who has been a taxidermist in Chattanooga, Tennessee for thirty years, and who resides at 320 Glast Street, recently made one of the most interesting statements ever published in connection with Tanlac, in the south.

"I really believe Tanlac saved my life," he said. "I had struggled with rheumatism and stomach trouble until I was almost done for. My stomach would fill with gas after eating and cause me endless suffering. I had rheumatic pains in my lower limbs that almost drove me distracted and I was so nervous and dizzy that I got so I couldn't do any work and spent most of my time in bed.

"Things are different altogether now. Tanlac has made a new man of me. My rheumatism is entirely relieved, my stomach has been put in splendid condition, I have a dandy appetite, can eat anything I want and enjoy it thoroughly. I am no longer nervous or dizzy. I feel stronger and better every way and can do more hard work than I have been able to do in a long time."

Tanlac is sold in Sylva at the Sylva Pharmacy. adv.
