RULES FOR MAILING CHRISTMAS PARCELS

Only one package may be sent to each man, enclosed in a standard carton furnished by the Red Cross.

The estimated number of cartons needed by each Chapter for the territory under its jurisdiction must be in the Division Office by October 20, 1918 on cards sent Chapter Chairman October 7.

Cartons will be distributed to Chapters by November 1st. Apply to A. J. Dills, Secretary Jackson County Chapter Red Cross Sylva, N. C.

NO PARCELS MAY BE MAILED AFTER NOVEMBER 15, 1918.

The label issued to the man overseas by the Army authorities and forwarded by him to some relative or friend in this country will entitle the holder to apply to the local Red Cross organization for one carton.

The cartons must be packed by the relatives or friends and delivered unwrapped and unlabeled to the Red Cross to be weighed, inspected, wrapped, labeled and delivered to the Post Office.

No package may weigh more than three pounds.

No written message may be enclosed.

Certain articles prohibited by the postal authorities must be omitted. The sender must furnish the necessary postage from place of mailing to Hoboken, N. J.

Each parcel must bear the label received from abroad with the name and address of the soldier and the inspection label of the American Red Cross.

Inspected parcels must remain in the custody of the Red Cross until delivered by its representatives to the Post Office.

IN THE EVENT OF A CHRISTMAS PARCEL LABEL BEING LOST, NO DUPLICATE CAN BE ISSUED. THIS RULE CANNOT BE ALTERED BY ANYBODY.

TOOK OUT DREADFUL SORENESS

When the kidneys are weakened and fail to throw impurities out of the system and backache, soreness and rheumatic pains develop. Mrs. David Henry, 65 S. Lincoln Ave. Washington, N. J., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills took the dreadful soreness out of my limbs and I walk good." For sale by Sylva Pharmacy. adv.

DEATH OF JAS. PHILLIPS

The body of James Phillips, son of Mr. John Phillips, of Wolf Mountain, N. C., was brought home Tuesday, October 8th, from Camp Jackson, S. C.

The burial, which took place the following day—Wednesday, October 9th—was attended by a large number of people, not only from Wolf Mountain but also from the adjoining communities.

The Memorial Services were conducted by Rev. Calvin Masingale of Argura, N. C., followed by a forceful talk from Rev. A. C. Queen of Wolf Mountain N. C. The remains were then laid quietly to rest in Rock Bridge cemetery.

James Phillips was only 21 years old when he died, but he leaves a brilliant record for his short stay upon earth. His character was of the highest order. He was a noble, upright and honest boy, one of Canada's most promising men for the future. When the call of our government came that his services were needed it was answered with a hearty response. He was inducted into military service at Camp Jackson, South Carolina, on August 25, 1918. During his short stay there we found him making good in all respects.

Young James leaves behind, to mourn their loss, a father, mother, four brothers and three sisters, besides many friends and relatives, for he was a friend to all who knew him. May we all lend our sympathy to the bereaved family, for by his dying he has only paid the debt that we must all pay.

CYRUS H. NICHOLSON.

PEOPLE REMINDED TO REDEEM WAR SAVINGS PLEDGES

People are being reminded that their War Savings Pledges are solemn obligations or "promises to pay," made to the Government upon the word of the American people, and that there now remains little over two months in which to redeem these pledges. In addition to the fact that any pledge is sacred and honor requires that it be kept, a further necessity requiring the War Savings pledges to be redeemed is that the Government took the words of its citizens as an oath and has spent the several million dollars represented by the pledges.

No alarm is felt in North Carolina that all outstanding War Savings pledges will not be redeemed this year. In the first place, not to redeem these or any other pledge made in good faith is not in keeping with the spirit and character of its citizens. In the second place, there is money enough in North Carolina at this time to raise the State's full quota of both War Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds and never miss it. All that is felt necessary is to remind the people that their subscriptions are yet unpaid and that the Government is needing the money at this time.

A MAN'S CHEERFUL RECOMMENDATION.

W. H. Frear, 63 Myrtle Ave., Albany, N. Y., writes: "I thought kidney trouble might be the cause of my run-down condition and weakness, so I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work. I cheerfully recommend them." They relieve lame back, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles. For sale by Sylva Pharmacy. adv.

DON'T DRINK SHIPS!

Are you shocked to see the lady drinking ships? You drink ships every time you use sugar unnecessarily, in a beverage. Seventy-five per cent. of the sugar used in this country has to be brought here in ships. Every possible ship is needed for the transportation of troops and supplies to the other side. Eliminate sugar as a luxury, and you release many ships for war purposes. Teach your appetite to remember this—DON'T DRINK SHIPS.

MUST SIGN PLEDGE TO GET MILL FEED

County Food Administrator E. E. Brown has received from the Food Administration at Raleigh a supply of pledges which must be signed by users of mill feeds before they are allowed to purchase this class of feed. The pledge is an agreement upon the part of the purchaser that he will not use wheat mill feeds except for dairy cattle, poultry, and young pigs and calves, the use of this class of feed being prohibited for hogs, work stock or beef cattle. Dealers handling mill feed can secure a supply of these pledge cards from County Food Administrator E. E. Brown, who has been instructed by State Food Administrator Henry A. Page to enforce the new rule. This means that any dealer who sells mill feeds except upon a signed pledge will be disciplined by the Food Administration.

REPORT ON REMARKABLE RESULTS OBTAINED IN SUNSHINE AND OPEN AIR TREATMENT OF INFLUENZA AND INFLUENZA-PNEUMONIA

The State Board of Health is firmly convinced that in the sunshine and climate of North Carolina we have the most efficient possible method for combating the epidemic of influenza and influenza-pneumonia that is now costing the lives of so many of our citizens. We unreservedly commend for your use, and for the use of the people generally, the sunshine and open air treatment for both influenza and influenza-pneumonia. This conclusion is based upon the experience of the State of Massachusetts, where the disease originated in this country and which state was hardest hit prior to the sweep of the epidemic over North Carolina. The experience of Massachusetts demonstrates that the death rate from influenza-pneumonia treated under established hospital conditions was forty per cent, whereas cases given the sunshine and open air treatment showed a death rate of less than thirteen per cent. The method of the treatment is simple, and is just what is indicated. Patients are cared for in tents, in airy wooden shacks constructed for the purpose, or on porches or in the yards of homes. During the daylight hours, which at this season in North Carolina means at least ten hours each day, the patients can be taken right out into the open, being given full exposure to sunlight and air. Patients whose temperatures ran from 102 to 104 degrees during the period of treatment in indoor hospitals returned to normal in a few hours after being removed into the open air. Respiration and pulse rate also showed remarkable improvement.

MR. DILLARD L. ROBINSON DEAD

Mr. D. L. Robinson, of Willets, died very suddenly at his home last Friday and was buried at that place Saturday. He had been complaining for the past two weeks, but was not thought to be in a serious condition. Heart trouble is supposed to have been the cause of his death. He was sixty-seven years old.

Mr. Robinson was one of the oldest and best citizens of Willets and would always be found standing by the law and for the upbuilding of his country.

ENGINEER HARRY MORTON DEAD

One of the saddest deaths to occur in this city as a result of Spanish influenza was that of Mr. Harry J. Morton, Sunday afternoon, pneumonia being the direct cause of death. The funeral will take place from the residence, corner Steele and Church streets, Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. C. A. Owens, of the First Baptist church and the interment will be in Chestnut Hill cemetery.

Harry Morton was 30 years, three months and 23 days old and was a son of the late Engineer W. J. Morton. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hattie V. Morton, who lived with him, a young wife, who was Miss Etta Crisp of Western North Carolina before her marriage to Mr. Morton several years ago. Several brothers and sisters also survive, one brother being with the American forces in France.

Harry Morton was one of the most popular trainmen at this point, being an engineer on the local yards of the Southern. He was one of the most cheerful, jolly, and brightest young men one cares to know, and he was a good man. Devoted to his mother and his wife as well as to his brothers and sisters, his greatest solicitation was always for them. Since the death of his father some years ago he had been the head of the family and well had he taken the place of his lamented father. He was a splendid engineer, a faithful employe and to his friends he was as true as steel. Not one person that knew this fine young man had fault to find with him. He was the essence of sunshine and good cheer, and he was as sociable and congenial as he was good and kind. In his death his fellow trainmen lose a loyal Brotherhood man and his family a true and devoted loved one, while his legion of friends will miss him and his smiling face and pleasant countenance. —Salisbury Evening Post, Oct. 21, 1918.

MRS. GRAHAM GRINDSTAFF DEAD

Mrs. G. W. Grindstaff died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cathey, Saturday afternoon October 19, after an illness of some days, and was laid to rest Sunday evening in the Keener cemetery.

Mrs. Grindstaff had been ill for two weeks and the doctors had had little hopes for her recovery for several days. She was the second member of this family to succumb to influenza within a week, while others of the family were seriously ill, but are now much improved.

Besides her husband and three small children, Mrs. Grindstaff leaves her parents, two brothers Ben H. Cathey, of Camp Sevier, H. P. Cathey, who is in France, two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Dillard and Miss Christine Cathey of Sylva.

THE NEEDY MUST BE CARED FOR

Dr. W. P. McGuire and myself were appointed by the County Board of Health, as a committee to organize the county for the purpose of giving aid to those stricken with influenza.

We would like very much for the people from each township to report to us the number of cases, and especially the needy cases, so that we may see to it that they get medicine aid and some one to wait on them.

The disease is on the decrease in the State at large but on the increase in this county, and there are numbers of families where they are all down. In such cases some one will have to care for them. Any one who is willing to help care for those most in need please let us know at once.

DR. W. P. MCGUIRE
E. E. BROWN
Committee.

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

The total amount of Liberty Bonds sold in this county during the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign amounts to ninety-eight thousand six hundred, and there are a few subscriptions still coming in.

Next week we will publish the amount subscribed by each township.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means to express to our many friends our heartfelt thanks for their acts of kindness and sympathy in our great bereavement in the death of our husband and father.

May God reward each of them in our wish.

Keep the Children Well

To keep the little ones well, sturdy and happy, free of coughs, colds, croup, little fevers and inflamed throats, use Foley's Honey and Tar. It is carefully made of selected remedies that loosen and break up a cough, stop croup and ease an aching inflamed throat, and it is clean of all narcotics. The prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar is very helpful for whooping cough, and the restless feverish state that attends children's diseases. —M. T. Davis, Beaverville, W. Va., writes:— "One of my patrons had a small child taken with croup. They came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and before morning the child was entirely recovered."

SERVICE AS BROAD AS THE COMMUNITY

War Camp Community Service Provides Numberless Intimate Comforts For Soldiers

Club rooms for soldiers, entertainments for the boys in khaki, outings for convalescent men back from France, small, but appreciated services to soldiers and their relatives and friends—these are some of the manifold activities of the War Camp Community Service.

The War Camp Community Service comes close to the intimate life of the soldier and provides for his mental as well as physical comfort, by furnishing the facilities which make it possible for him to relax from the strain of military training and the preparation for overseas fighting.

Its symbol is the red circle and its activities are as unending as the circumference of its insignia. Thousands of soldier boys take advantage of its facilities and other thousands of relatives and friends of the boys in Uncle Sam's uniform are daily benefited through its various avenues of effort.
