PRESIDENT WILSON VISITS HOSPITAL

Paris, Dec. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—President Wilson today visited the Red Cross hospital at Neuilly, where he shook hands individually and talked with 1,200 badly wounded Americans, for the most part survivors of the Chateau Thierry action. He spent more than four hour hours in the hospital, visiting every ward and stopped at every bedside. Later he visited the French hospital, Val De Grace.

Speaking of his experiences at the American Hospital, the president said: "I went through the American hospital at Neuilly with the greatest interest and the greatest satisfaction. I found the men admirably taken care of and almost without exception in excellent spirits."

U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Raleigh, Dec. 21.—In line with the policy it has pursued since the signing of the armistice, the Food Administration is consistently and as rapidly as possible removing definite rules and regulations affecting the handling and consumption of food stuffs. State Food Administrator Henry A. Page today announced that practically all rules and regulations affecting the wheat and corn milling industry have been rescinded effective immediately. Mills will remain under license and be subject to some degree of control, but the regulations fixing a fair price schedule on feeds, the percentage of extraction, etc. are removed.

Effective Monday, December 23rd, the definite regulations governing public eating places are rescinded. The State Food Administrator has written to the 2000 public eating places in North Carolina advising them of the removal of these restrictions, but pointing out that there is even greater need for food conservation now than there would have been at this time had the war continued. The definite restrictions are removed because there is no longer any war necessity for them. The motive for conservation from now on is humanitarian, and, therefore, the matter of conservation must be left to the conscience of the consumers.

On account of the removal of a large number of rules and regulations, and a consequent decrease in the volume of work handled by the Food Administration, effective Jan 1 the organization of the Food Administration will be very materially reduced. Already the sugar division has abandoned the field. After this month the office staff which, with clerical and stenographic help numbered approximately 35 during the summer and fall, will be constituted as follows: John Paul Lucas, Executive Secretary, Jos. B. Cheshire Jr., Director of Enforcement; Mrs. F. P. W. Adackes, Chief Clerk; Miss Eineth Futtle, Chief, Price Interpreting Division, together with one or two stenographers.

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking the few people in Sylva for any act of kindness shown our companion and mother during her illness and death.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to Mrs. John V. Ashe and Mrs. John B. Easley for their untiring help and attention all through her sickness. They, especially, have a warm place in our hearts.

HUNGER DRAWS THE MAP

A food map of Europe today shows not a single country in which the future does not hold threat of serious difficulties and only a small part which is not rapidly approaching the famine point. With the exception of the Ukraine only those countries which have maintained marine commerce have sufficient food supplies to meet actual needs until next harvest, and even in the Ukraine, with stores accumulated on the farms, there is famine in the large centers of population.

Belgium and northern France, as well as Serbia, appear on the hunger map distinct from the rest of Europe because they stand in a different relation from the other nations to the people of the United States. America has for four years maintained the small war rations of Belgium and northern France and is already making special efforts to care for their increased after-the-war needs, which, with those of Serbia, must be included in this plan, are urgent in the extreme and must have immediate relief.

The gratitude of the Belgian nation for the help America has extended to her during the war constitutes the strongest appeal for us to continue our work there. The moment the German armies withdrew from her soil and she was established once more in her own seat of government the little nation's first thought was to express her gratitude to the Commission for Relief in Belgium for preserving the lives of millions of her citizens.

Germany, on the other hand, need not figure in such a map for Americans because there is no present indication that she shall be called on at all to take thought for the food needs of Germany. Germany probably can care for her own food problem if she is given access to shipping and is enabled to distribute food to the cities with dense populations, which are the trouble centers.

England, France, the Netherlands and Portugal, some of which have been maintained from American supplies, have sufficient food to meet immediate needs, but their future presents serious difficulties. The same is true of Spain and the northern neutral countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—whose ports have been open and who have been able to draw to some degree upon foreign supplies.

Most of Russia is already in the throes of famine, and 40,000,000 people there are beyond the possibility of help. Before another spring thousands of them inevitably must die. This applies as well to Poland and practically throughout the Baltic regions, with conditions most serious in Finland.

Bohemia, Serbia, Roumania and Montenegro have already reached the famine point and are suffering a heavy toll of death. The Armenian population is falling each week as hunger takes its toll, and in Greece, Albania and Roumania so serious are the food shortages that famine is near. All these regions are not yet imminent in the throes of serious difficulties.

In order to fulfill America's pledge in world relief we will have to export every ton of food which can be handled through our ports. This means at the very least a minimum of 20,000,000 tons compared with 8,000,000 tons pre-war exports and 11,820,000 tons exported last year, when we were bound by the ties of war to the European allies.

If we fail to lighten the black spot on the hunger map or if we allow any portions to become darker the very peace for which we fought and bled will be threatened. Revolt and anarchy inevitably follow famine. Should this happen we will see in other parts of Europe a repetition of the Russian debacle and our fight for world peace will have been in vain.

Worth Weight In Gold, She Declares.

"I Wouldn't Take Five Hundred Dollars For The Good Five Bottles Of Tanlac Did Me" Says Mrs. Hunt.

"I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for the good that five bottles of Tanlac have done me, and I just think it is worth its weight in gold," said Mrs. Nannie Hunt, 609 New York Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee.

"I was told repeatedly that my nervousness could not be cured and it made me so despondent that I hardly knew what to do. Even the noise of the street cars passing would upset me so that I would shake like a leaf. My heart fluttered and palpitated and many a time I have had fainting spells and fallen to the floor. My stomach was so torn up that I couldn't even digest an egg, and this had gone on for five years until I was on the verge of nervous prostration.

"A friend of mine who knew that my case had been given up as hopeless made me a present of three bottles of Tanlac, and it proved to be a priceless gift. I have taken five bottles altogether and have gained eleven pounds in weight and haven't had a nervous spell since last Christmas. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. I just can't say too much in praising Tanlac.

Tanlac is now sold in Sylva exclusively by the Sylva Pharmacy; in Erastus by M. L. Coggins and in Glenville by W. M. Fowler.

FOR CROUP, "FLU" and "GRIP" COUGHS.

M. T. Davis, leading merchant of Bearsville, W. Va., writes: "A few nights ago one of my patrons had a small child taken with croup about midnight. Came to my store and got Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Before morning the child recovered. Parents can't say enough for Foley's Honey and Tar." For sale at Sylva Pharmacy. adv.

HE WAS WEAK AND ALL RUN DOWN.

"I thought my kidneys might be the cause of my rundown condition and weakness," writes W. H. Frear, 63 Myrtle Ave., Albany, N. Y. "So I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work. I cheerfully recommend them. You can use my name wherever you wish." They stop rheumatic aches. Sylva Pharmacy. adv.
